The Coat of Arms of the University of Toronto

Azure two open Books and in base a Beaver all proper, upon a Chief Argent the Royal and Imperial Crown also proper, and for the crest on a wreath of the colours an Oak tree proper stemmed and fruited Or.

THE crown indicates not only that the University was founded by a Royal Charter granted by King George IV in 1827, but also that the original foundation was called King's College; the books are for learning, and the beaver, which is the emblem of Canada, is for the industry which it was hoped should always characterize the members of the University.

The Motto is taken from Horace's Odes, Book 1, No. 12, lines 45 and 46. The complete line is "Crescit occulto velut arbor ævo". Translated literally the motto would be "As a tree, may it grow through the passage of ages".

THIS VOLUME OF
IS RESPECTFULLY
DEDICATED TO THE
MEN AND WOMEN OF THE UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO.

The President's Message

VIDEO MELIORA, PROBOQUE; DETERIORA SEQUOR, I see the better and approve it, but I follow the worse, Ovid confessed over nineteen hundred years ago. His words sound a warning for 1951. As never before, we are bound to close the gap between profession and practice. For members of a great University this is a stern imperative. True to her heritage and in fulfilment of her indigenous genius, our University exacts from us loyalty to the highest ideals. That is no rhetorical flourish; it is a basic requirement. University graduates are charged with seeing that fundamentals are not sacrificed to the exigencies of circumstance. Although democracies must, in these parlous days, maintain adequate military defences, it is upon their spiritual defences that they depend, ultimately, for survival. They must never acquiesce in the shallow concept that the fate of our civilization will be determined by threat of force or by conflict of arms. Ideas can never be annihilated by force. They can only be defeated by better ideas that will work. Democracy, unlike totalitarianism, lays down no static specifications for society. It is rather a principle the very existence of which demands change and reform. Its very vitality derives from the right, and indeed the obligation, of the individual to speak and act under the Rule of Law according to the dictates of his mind and conscience. While I think nostalgically of my younger days before World War I, when we were confident that mankind was on an uninterrupted march to the uplands of liberty limited only by self-imposed discipline, I rejoice that this period of storm and stress demands a sterner courage and exacts a deeper faith.

As sons and daughters of Varsity, do not, I pray, succumb to the folly and frenzy of the moment. If you of a younger generation fail in faith and falter in fulfilment, you will be writing for all of us ignominious terms of surrender to the forces of evil. Your faith and your fulfilment are needed. "Faith without works is dead" is still a ringing challenge. Your University seeks to develop intellectual power. Yet it recognizes that intellectualism may be arid, and that sheer analysis by the mind may result in mere paralysis of the will. Calculated measurements and graduated evaluations may obscure the inspiration and aspiration of mankind.

To the graduates: Will you be content to profess the better, yet practise the worse? Your University confidently expects that you will believe, that you will proclaim, and that you will show forth in your lives her cherished ideals.

Editorial

TORONTONENSIS 1951 presents a radical change from previous editions. This has been motivated by the feeling that a university yearbook should be published for all the students of a university—not merely for the graduating class. With this in mind we have tried, by changing the general layout, to create a greater interest for those students who are not in their graduating year. To further attain this end, Torontonensis has, for the first time, been sold to all students at the same price. This has been justified by the fact that almost the same number of copies have been sold this year as were sold last year, despite a drop of over seven hundred in the graduating class.

This, however, is only a beginning. Much remains to be done. It will take some time to overcome the tradition that Torontonensis is for the graduating class only. In order to do this it is necessary to create an interest in the book among the whole student body. In addition, those closely connected with it must have at all times other yearbooks for comparison. In the past almost the only criterion for comparison has been previous editions. This year we have seen books from other universities and one cannot help feeling that Torontonensis does not measure up to the standards set. During the past ten years the book has been trimmed down to a minimum — we have merely published a yearbook. It must be realized that a good yearbook cannot be produced cheaply. This means that a much greater effort must be made to secure more advertising as well as to increase sales.

So much for the preaching. All in all it has been a good year. We have completed a great change. We have contacted yearbook editors across the country and met with those nearby. A basis for a system of exchange has been inaugurated.

I should like to express at this time my very sincere thanks to all those who have helped with Torontonensis 1951. They have done a tremendous amount of work and offered ideas without which there would be no book at all. My gratitude also to Alger Press for their co-operation and understanding despite the many difficulties which have arisen. It has been a very pleasant and rewarding experience and it is not without a note of regret that I write finis to Torontonensis 1951. It is my hope that this volume will be greeted with the same enthusiasm that has gone into it.

Holwood House

AFTER a short life in time, but a long one in experience, Holwood House, this year is apparently enjoying its last hours of joyful and youthful merriment before the quiet sedateness of a University department settles upon it. To the men who have passed some of their college life in this residence it will always live in their memory as an outlet for the better features of campus life. The sports and activities of Holwood range from basketball and volleyball through ping-pong to bridge. The dances, parties, and early morning bull sessions, these are the elements of college days that will live longest in the minds of ex-Holwoodites. Whatever happens after graduation, we are still men of Holwood.

73 St. George Street

EVERY year the impending demolition of 73 gives us another excuse to hold a sentimental farewell party. But every September the house is found still standing, as large as life, and twice as comfortable. The gloomier among us are beginning to wonder if it won't be the atom bomb, not the construction gang, that will do the job at last.

Maintaining its brilliant reputation, the house gave Dave Johnston to the Intermediate Soccer Blues, and six stalwarts to the U.C. Pansies. Our two phenomenal basketball teams, the 73 Tigers and the 73 Tigerlilies, have lost only a game each so far. With the disappearance of our free phone, penny-spinning has come to rival ping-pong as the major indoor sport.

On the intellectual side we boast of a 5T0 grad on a scholarship at Oxford and one at Cambridge. Most remarkable of all is Ray Whaley, who left us last year and is now actually making a good living.

A last word of self-congratulation on having Mr. Thomson for our new House Tutor. Having a long experience with mules in the Burma campaigns, he is our answer to Elephant Bill.

Only one blot on the record. A spot check of musical talent before the Christmas party showed only a cello, a sousaphone, and a guitar in the house. No one had the courage to explore the possibilities of this combination, and a pianist (ex-house member of course) was imported.

I have just been told how much this page cost. I apologize to my sponsors and my readers.

PUBLICATIONS

THE

The Varsity first appeared on Oct. 7, 1880, a "weekly review of Education, University Politics and Events." In seventy years it has grown to a daily tabloid, published 100 days of each university year. As lusty at '70 as it had been in earlier days, its main job remains the recording of campus life—absurd and otherwise.

In Seventy Years

In seventy years The Varsity has had editors fired, missed one of the biggest stories in its career (the U.C. Fire in 1889), hopped from office to office, grown gradually with the University. True to its traditions, it has its great names, ranging from Mackenzie King to Wayne and Shuster, its problems (the latest is sex), its rewards (parties unduplicated anywhere, pay for masthead members, a sense of education impossible to a student). For historians, its pages are a mine of information and misinformation, its letters a record of shifting opinion, its editorials and crusades a reflection of the thinking student. Starting as a weekly magazine, it became a weekly newspaper in 1909, a tri-weekly in 1911, a daily in 1923. Following the great invasion in 1946 it became a tabloid, moved to a modern printing plant and rotary presses. With a daily circulation of over 10,000 it has become the British Empire's largest daily university paper, one of its best. Outstanding fight has been for freedom, particularly of the press.

TORONTONENSIS has had a good year. We have changed the book completely and at the present time there is a good chance that we will have it out by graduation, a feat that has not been accomplished for some years. We have started a policy of charging the same price to everyone. A conference was held with editors from Queen's, Western, O.A.C., McGill and McMaster. In addition we have made contact with editors in other universities across the country. The foundation for a system of exchange has been laid.

To do all this required help and a great deal of it. We have been extremely fortunate this year in that we had a keen, hard-working staff. It is due to their efforts that there is any book at all. In addition, we have had wonderful co-operation from our printer, from our engraver, from the photographers and from the faculty representatives. To them all is due a word of thanks.

To next year's editor, Walt Mackenzie, goes a wish for lots of luck and success. To those who are not graduating, it is hoped that they will come around next year. To those who are graduating, best wishes for success in the years to come.

Trinity University Review

THIS YEAR The Review was published four instead of the usual six times. The cut in the number of issues was forced on us by Convocation which supported us to the extent of only three issues. However, with some legerdemain on the part of the Business Manager, we managed to put out a forty-eight page Literary Issue of some merit. It was rather startling to find enough material in a small College to do it. But with threats and signed contracts the articles all came in and the Men of College, who tend to toss the magazine with unerring accuracy into the nearest basket whenever it is offered them, this time took some note.

We received contributions from sixty to sixty-five people and about thirty of these actually saw their name in print. Rejected contributions were returned with what we thought were excellent criticisms though we have no doubt that those who received them felt differently. This practice should be continued nevertheless because it gives The Review an excuse for existing.

Next year, to celebrate the one hundredth anniversary of the College, The Review plans to print a centenary issue of some one hundred pages to appear shortly after Christmas. This promises to be a most interesting issue.

Engineering Publications

ABOVE we see a picture of several diligent denizens of Skule who feel that the pen is mightier than the sword. Because of their great devotion to Skule, their desire to serve their fellow man, and also because they will do almost anything as an excuse for missing lectures they have volunteered to devote most of their time, effort and questionable ability to Skule's publications. It is because of them that Transactions and Year Book and Toike Oike have achieved such impressive literary standards.

Transactions and Year Book serves to present a complete blow-by-blow resumé (a sort of thud and blunder tale) of all Skule activities during the year—with the exception of those which might lead to law suits, time in Kingston, or expulsion of miscreants from these Hallowed Halls.

Toike Oike, published every now and then, has presented articles of immediate interest, selected jokes and bits of humour approved by the twitching editor, and editorials which are forthright and daring, thereby earning the paper a reputation for being forthright and daring.

This motley mob of Remington riders was, incidentally, spurred on by the expert misdirection of "The Boss", A. M. Heisey (the only man in Skule capable of mounting a verbal horse and riding off simultaneously in all directions).

By their own admission, this group has done a better job in the publications business than has ever been done before, and they are justly proud of themselves. It has been widely predicted by all that these notables will go far. (Okay, Jake, bring on the rail!)

Dentistry Hya Yaka

THE 1951 edition of the official publication of the Faculty of Dentistry marks the forty-seventh year of continuous publication. We are proud of the fact that each succeeding edition is somewhat less tardy in its appearance. The ultimate will be reached when the graduating class, for whom the publication is primarily designed, will receive their copies before interest in undergraduate activities has waned. The current issue resembles its immediate predecessors: this implies that we feel we have hit upon a good thing.

If Hya Yaka fails to compete with the Avant Garde literary magazines of the campus, we may be unambitious. Admittedly our product may be little more than a glossy variety of the college yearbook. It boasts of pictures, biographical sketches and write-ups of class activities. We aim to print material which will be of permanent interest. We estimate the measure of our success in that copies never go unclaimed and that none ends up in the wastebaskets of the Common Room.

The editor wishes to thank the members of his staff and the student contributors who made the magazine possible. May success attend the efforts of the Graduates of '51.

HART HOUSE

HART House was presented by the Trustees of the Massey Foundation to the University of Toronto. To the Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey, Chairman of the Massey Foundation, and at present Chancellor of the University of Toronto, is due the idea of the House, which was named after his grandfather, Hart Massey. The form it assumed was a result of his close co-operation with the architects, the late Mr. Henry Sproatt and Mr. Ernest Rolph. Begun in 1911, the shell of the building had just been completed on the outbreak of the war of 1914-1918 and it was turned over to the army for the training and housing of troops. In 1919 Hart House was officially opened for the use of male students in the University and since that time has assumed its place as the centre of cultural and recreational activity of the University.

Although it is for the use of men only, Hart House is, perhaps, as close to the realization of the ideal house for student activities as any on this continent. In its widest interpretation, it seeks to provide for all the activities of the undergraduate's life outside the classroom and laboratory, and to maintain a link for the graduate with the University. Built around a quadrangle, it provides architecturally a splendid example of the collegiate gothic style, and houses under one roof a finely proportioned dining-hall, common rooms of every description, a library, a debates room, a music room, a small chapel, together with rooms for the use of the Student Christian Movement, an art gallery, a print room, completely equipped photographic darkrooms and workrooms, squash racquets courts, a well-fitted indoor rifle and revolver range, senior common rooms for both faculty and graduate members, a few bedrooms for guests, offices for the Comptroller's department, the office and private rooms of the Warden; and in the athletic wing an upper and lower gymnasium, separate rooms for boxing, wrestling and fencing, an indoor running track, a large swimming pool, and the offices of the Financial Secretary of the Athletic Association, and the Director of Athletics. Below the quadrangle is the fully-equipped Hart House Theatre, with foyer, green room and dressing rooms: it is under the direction of the Board of Syndics.

Every male undergraduate of the University is required to be a member of Hart House towards the upkeep of which he pays an annual fee of twelve dollars. Hart House has no private endowment and is entirely dependent on its membership fees except for a small revenue obtained from sources within the House.

While the ultimate responsibility for the administration of Hart House rests with the Warden, Mr. Nicholas Ignatieff, its care and welfare, is to a large extent, entrusted to the students themselves through a number of standing and special committees. All of the committees are composed of a member of the faculty of the University, one or more graduate members, the Warden or other representative of the administrative staff, and a large majority of undergraduate members who are elected annually by the entire undergraduate membership of Hart House. The activities of all Hart House committees are subject to the sanction and authorization of the Board of Stewards.

House Committee

THE House Committee is responsible for the general management and social activities of Hart House, and deals with matters which make for the comfort and convenience of its members. The Great Hall, Tuck Shop, Lunch Room and Barber Shop come under its supervision. It is responsible to the Board of Stewards for keeping the structure itself and all equipment in good repair. The House Committee is represented on the Board of Directors of the University Settlement, and members of the committee entertain the boys of the Settlement in the House each year at Christmas time. Arrangements for the All University Fall Dance, the first large informal dance of the year, are also carried out under its guidance. The second annual All-Varsity Quartet Contest was held during the Fall Dance and was won this year by Wycliffe College. The members of the committee are likewise responsible for the elections of the Hart House committees in March.

QUARTET CONTEST

Library Committee

IN accordance with the idea of the Founders, the Library Committee has from the beginning been engaged in building up a collection of books such as might be found in a good private library, and the room has always been a popular resort for those who like to spend their leisure hours in casual reading. Additions to the Library are made at regular intervals and the activities of the committee are mainly centred around the selection of new books. At present there are over four thousand volumes on the shelves, about one-third of which are fiction, while the remainder are composed of biography, history, language and general literature. They are also making a valuable collection of Private Press books which are shown in a display case outside the Library. The committee is responsible too, for the selection and supervision of the wide range of weekly and monthly periodicals in the Reading Room.

At the Library Evenings this year several guest speakers gathered around them groups interested in special aspects of Literature, and led lively discussions on the subjects at hand. Among the speakers were Mr. Nathan Cohen and Miss Jeann Beattie.

An experiment was tried early in February when a Soiree, sponsored jointly by the Library and Graduate Committees, was held in the Great Hall with Marjorie Lea, pianist and Mr. Louis Bromfield as guest of honour. This proved very successful, and the committee hopes to make it an annual event.

NOON-TIME SING SONG

Music Committee

PERHAPS Hart House is best known as a centre of fine music. The Great Hall is as crowded at Sunday Evening Concerts today as it was in the earlier years of the House. Included in the Sunday Evening Concerts this year were Bela Boszormenyi-Nagy, pianist; Betty Jean Hagen, violinist; The Opera School of the Royal Conservatory of Music; The St. Mary Magdalene Choir; a woodwind group directed by Perry Bauman; Lois Marshall, soprano; Greta Kraus, harpsichordist and Eugene Kash, violinist; and the Hart House Glee Club conducted by Mr. Ward McAdam.

The Wednesday five o'clock Recitals are still known for the perfection of their setting. The quiet, informal atmosphere of the Music Room, so pleasant for hearing chamber music, attracts the discerning lover of fine music.

The Wednesday Midday Recitals continue to draw out the talent of undergraduates who, perhaps too modest to display their abilities, would never be discovered by their fellow students.

And the rollicking Monday and Friday sing-songs provide the occasion when one can forget the oppressive cares of the university world in a pleasant song or two after lunch.

The Record Room continues to be in constant use, and the Curator gave instruction to more than two hundred new members this year.

Art Committee

THE interest that a great many members show in the Art Gallery indicates the place which art holds in the life of Hart House. Hundreds of members visit the Gallery every week to see the exhibitions which are the work of some of Canada's outstanding artists. Among the outstanding one man shows held this year were exhibitions by William Newcombe, Carl Schaefer, Walter Trier and Mme. Martha Rakine, a promising French artist who had her first Canadian exhibition in the Hart House Gallery.

The Hart House permanent collection of Canadian paintings is becoming more and more widely known and recognized as an important collection. This was shown this year by the increasing demand for the loan of paintings from the House to be included in travelling exhibitions. Several paintings from the Hart House collection were shown in an International Exhibition held in the National Gallery at Washington, D.C.

Again, this year, the best attended activity of the Art Committee was the showing of Documentary Films. Begun as an experiment late last year, they were shown every other week throughout the year, and drew capacity audiences in the East Common Room.

Glee Club

THIS YEAR, under the direction of Mr. Ward McAdam, the Hart House Glee Club had one of its most successful seasons. The prospective members were auditioned individually and the membership limited to fifty.

The first engagement was at St. Paul's Anglican Church early in December. The Annual C.B.C. Concert of Carols was Broadcast on the Trans-Canada network, and letters of praise were received from as far as Victoria, British Columbia.

On Christmas Eve members of the Club sang carols through the wards of Sunnybrook Hospital. In February a very successful concert was given in Peterborough.

On the occasion of the Glee Club Sunday Evening concert the Great Hall was filled to capacity and an enthusiastic audience was thrilled by one of the most outstanding performances of the year.

THE WARDEN AT THE SETTLEMENT PARTY

Debates Committee

AN active Debates Committee this year arranged five debates which drew good audiences, and maintained the usual high standard of debating in the House.

The motions debated were as follows:

"Resolved that in the opinion of this House Labour disputes in essential industries should be subjected to compulsory arbitration." The Honorary Visitors were Mr. Pat Conroy, Secretary of the Canadian Congress of Labour, and Professor J. Lorne MacDougall, Queen's University. The motion was carried.

"Resolved that Canadians suffer from cultural constipation." The Honorary Visitor was Mr. Robertson Davies, Editor of the Peterborough Examiner. The motion was carried.

"Resolved that modern education is giving us a race of educated fools." The Honorary Visitor was Rabbi Abraham L. Feinberg of Holy Blossom Temple. The motion was carried.

"Resolved that Canada's policy with regard to the Korean conflict is both realistic and sensible." There was no Honorary Visitor. The motion was defeated.

"Resolved that all Communist Parties in Canada should be outlawed." The Honorary Visitor was Mr. A. Albert McLeod, M.P.P. The motion was defeated.

Squash Racquets Club

"IT IS too bad that there are only three Squash courts in the University of Toronto". That is a statement heard frequently in Hart House, and it indicates how popular the game has become. Indeed it is difficult to find a day when all courts are not continually occupied.

The high point in the year for the Undergraduate Team was the playing of the first Intercollegiate Squash Tournament. The Graduate Team, as usual, won the Hy Myers Trophy against the Hamilton Squash Club—their fifth consecutive victory.

Table Tennis Club

THE season of 1950-51 proved to be the best and most active that the Hart House Table Tennis Club has yet enjoyed. Competition was keener this season than ever before.

The Club membership was filled to its capacity of 64 members early in the Fall, and a number of prospective members remained on the waiting list throughout the year.

The Club Trophy, and also the cup for the "most outstanding competitor" was won by Mr. D. Hall.

Camera Club

THE membership in the Camera Club almost reached the 200 mark this year, and in the Annual Exhibition a record number of entries was received.

The A. F. Coventry Award in the Senior section was won by Mr. H. Sumberg with his outstanding "Still Life". The K. B. Jackson cup for first prize in the Junior section went to Mr. K. R. Crean for his moving study of "Indian Chief".

In the Fall the Club had an open meeting when the speaker was Mr. Rex Frost. The Annual Hike, this year to the Hart House Caledon Hills Farm, was held in October. The Instructional Classes were well attended this year, instruction being given in camera, mixing, enlarging, developing and printing.

Amateur Radio Club

THE Amateur Radio Club, which consists of about 70 members, is probably one of the most active clubs in Hart House. The Club now enjoys a fully equipped amateur broadcasting station at Hart House, the call being VE3BPD. This station was officially opened on 7th February, 1951.

There are about 16 licensed members in the Club, and it is hoped that many more will have received their licenses by the end of this year. Instruction classes on code and theory are given twice weekly during the term. These classes are carried out by competent instructors. At the end of the term, an examiner from the Department of Transport sets the examination, and those successful are given their license to operate an amateur radio station. The fee to join the Club is $1.00. All members of Hart House who are interested in amateur radio are eligible to join.

Archery Club

THE Hart House Archery Club had perhaps its most active season to date. As usual shooting took place in the Rifle Range on Tuesday and Thursday evenings, and tournaments were held on the first Friday of each month in the C.O.T.C. Drill Hall allowing city clubs to participate. Exchange shoots with O.A.C. took place at both Guelph and Toronto. The club entered the Canadian Indoor Mail Match along with twelve other teams and were declared 1951 champions.

Each fall the committee makes an effort to encourage beginners, both graduate and undergraduate. Instruction is given by Mr. W. A. E. Frost, Dominion Indoor Mail Match Champion, Dominion Target Champion, Ontario Field Champion and British Empire Champion.

Chess Club

THE Hart House Chess Club experienced a year of moderate activity. A Simultaneous Exhibition was given by Dr. Bohatirchuck, former Chess Champion of Russia. Special noon-hour events were held. The Interfaculty Championship was won by University College; the Rapid Transit Championship by Mr. W. K. Hastings; the Pyramid Championship by Mr. R. F. Rodgers and the University Championship by Messrs. H. Anto and R. Levene jointly.

Three teams were entered in the Toronto Chess League matches—the Major Team won the Freedman Trophy; the Intermediate Team won the Victory Trophy and the Minor Team won the League Cup. The Student-Staff Match was lost; a match played in Ithaca, N.Y. against Cornell University was drawn, while two home-and-home matches against McMaster University, and matches against McGill University and the Junior Chess League were won. A radio match against Rutgers University was not completed.

Instruction classes were given; special activity was held during the summer and at Christmas, and a Tandem Simultaneous Exhibition was held on New Members' Night.

The Chess Committee "kibitzes" the University Champion.

SEATED: W. K. Hastings, H. Anto, University Champion.

The trophies are emblematic of the championships, and the radio was donated by Mr. R. G. Hunter, first University Champion, to the current champion.

REFEREES EXPLAIN THE RULES OF THE BOB TO THE FRESHMEN

Victoria College Bob

DURING the first fast furious three weeks on the Old Ontario Strand, amid brutal kidnappings and Burwash water-fights, Soph-Frosh rivalry reached an uproarious crisis which could only be settled by open warfare. So it was that on Fateful Friday the Thirteenth of October, 5T4 and 5T3 girded their respective loins. It was a beautiful day for the APPLE BATTLE, and South House bookies were giving no odds. "Madman Moyer's" Imperial Sophomore Guard swore to fight to the last rotten tomato in defence of their beloved 16-foot grease-pole, topped by a dirty old rugby helmet. "Gentleman Jim" Wood, undeterred, led the Freshman Grand Army in three daring and ferocious assaults. Both sides fought with unbelievable valour, cheered on by the high-pitched shouts of those beautiful Victoria College girls. Armageddon finally ended with Referee "Bugs" Bennett awarding the decision to the sophomores—although many felt that the fight was "fixed" (heh, heh!)

In the evening, the BOB itself was presented in Burwash Hall. The Bob Committee unanimously agreed that this year's production was the funniest yet; vivid (to say the least) entr'actes sparked the show, which climaxed with the ultimate in fan-dances (beyond the shadow of a lout). After the Bob, the gals arrived—also "Art Gum and His Rubber Band". Soon the joint was jumping and the cider was flowing. Everyone went home tired and happy—in some cases very "happy", but ready to cheer for the Scarlet and Gold any old time.

Students' Administrative Council

THE 1950-51 Council accomplished a great deal of work and had an amazingly good time doing it. It also suffered considerable frustration in such matters as the Student Union and the search for the Radio Committee's missing tape recorder, which later became the year's stock joke, serious though it was. Occasional motions of censure from the U.C. Lit also added spice to the meetings.

The entrance Scholarship offered by the Council again gave assistance to two students from Northern Ontario, one in second year Electrical Engineering and one in first year Pre-Meds.

Probably the most frequently heard combination of letters on the campus this year was A.V.A., standing for All Varsity Aid. This new Council baby was the result of a report given by the Council President after his experiences last summer at the I.U.S. conference at Prague. Its purpose was to extend a helpful and friendly hand to students in Southeast Asia, and over $10,000 in money and equipment was collected for this purpose. This included $3,000 for the I.S.S. who agreed to give up their own campaign.

The annual Red Feather campaign was again organized in the fall by the Student Service Commission with the usual excellent results. The Book Exchange gave most satisfactory service to many students.

The N.F.C.U.S. Committee interested itself in student travel, text book prices, debates, A.V.A. and the Carabin Weekends, of which the Council bore most of the cost. The N.F.C.U.S. fee was raised to provide for a national office for that body. The Council also raised funds through outside sources for a representative to go to the I.S.S. Conference at Geneva and a "Western Students" conference at Stockholm.

At the beginning of term the new University restrictions prohibiting student parking on the campus caused considerable difficulty, but arrangements were made through the Council for special permits for incapacitated students and others who live outside the city, and this eased the problem.

The Student Union Committee continued to function and was greatly heartened when the University provided for a survey of campus Union conditions by an official of the American Association of College Unions. Unfortunately shortages of materials and funds have still prevented any positive action.

The Blue and White Society had a particularly fine year, sponsoring two new and popular events—the Art Gallery and the Christmas Tree nights. The addition of the Stadium Show to the Home Coming Weekend programme was another highly successful venture.

The Music Committee sponsored two excellent concerts in Convocation Hall, as well as other successful activities, including the Carnegie Record Hour. The Radio Committee struggled against lack of accommodation and loss of its tape recorder but successfully started weekly Round Table discussions on CKEY and laid the groundwork for next year's plans.

In its lighter moments the Council enjoyed a weekend at the Hart House Caledon Farm, sang itself hoarse at the President's annual supper party for the Council, responded enthusiastically to a Saturday afternoon invitation from the long-suffering Turner family, and ended the year with the highly successful joint meeting, dinner and get-together.

Dr. John McBirnie proved to be a most efficient and kindly Chairman, Professors Saunders and Knox contributed helpful suggestion when needed, and the President, Bill Turner, and the Vice-President, Lois Sutherland, gave wise leadership throughout, in addition to much time and hard work. All in all, it was a good year!

University College Literary and Athletic Society

AFTER several prosperous years of post-war registration, the Lit., was in the fall confronted by the problem of small numbers, and a budget too big for its assets. This hung on the heads of the directors as they instituted their several activities. The financial success of the Follies (the first in years) and of the Freshman weekend bear witness to their industry.

A very fine Arts Ball, held in the college again, was a social success. The Mardi Gras was ruled by Rex Gilbert Bagnani.

Our athletic programme has been, as always, a very full one, and at present writing, U.C. stands high in the Reid Trophy standing.

The Robinette debates began in the first term, and, as a result, will be finished soon in February. At the Parliament we have seen a high standard of debating. We have had visiting teams from Vic, Meds, and Osgoode Hall, and a larger average attendance than is usual. Mr. Horace Krever and Mr. Jack Geller are to be congratulated for their help in this field. The Undergrad under the editorship of Mr. Albert Strauss was published only twice this year due to a restrictive budget.

The open Lit meetings have been very well attended, and discussion has been exceptionally lively on every important question. A special meeting was held for the discussion of the nature of the Arts Ball.

University College Women's Undergraduate Association

THE new school was ushered in most successfully by a weekend of fun, the Freshie Weekend. The freshies were anxious to be active in college functions and were interested in working on committees.

The open meetings throughout the year were well attended and much was accomplished. The importance of the U.C. Follies was debated at one meeting, while at others we heard reports on the I.S.S. Seminar, on an All-Varsity Union, and on the U.C. Union. The W.U.A. chose to support All-Varsity Aid and voted its share of the Follies' surplus, plus a sum left from a previous year account, to go to the fund. It was also decided to help The Forum in publishing its first issue of the year.

One of the most important things accomplished was an improvement in the relations between P.H.E. and U.C. women. As usual the girls with the heaviest time-tables and the most work turned out to help with such things as the Settlement Party, and the Red and White Night Entertainment.

The most striking thing to remember is not the most obvious. Indeed, it is a kind of pervading spirit—that of getting our U.C. functions back into the college. This year the Soph-Frosh Banquet, the Arts Ball, and the Women's Athletic Banquet were all held in U.C. and it is hoped that this is a sign of what will happen in the years to come.

Victoria College Union

THIS YEAR began with a few unhappy surprises. An unfortunate run-in with the Toronto Police Department after a rather inglorious scuffle at Avenue Road and Bloor, was climaxed by the announcement that the President elect had been forced to resign from the executive of the V.C.U. for academic reasons. As a result the student organization had a rather late start, and was faced with the unhappy prospect of proceeding without much experienced leadership.

This year an attempt was made to make the social function of our student life more Victoria-centered. Perhaps this was most noticeable in the Vic At Home which received the most attention in this regard. Following many years of vigorous campaigning, that occasion was transformed into a strictly formal dance—the first to be held in Hart House since the war. The resulting use of the Great Hall effected an economy in decorations, bands and room rentals. The money thus saved was employed in producing some top-flight entertainment, which afforded a considerable variety in the evening's pleasures. In short, the dance was a success.

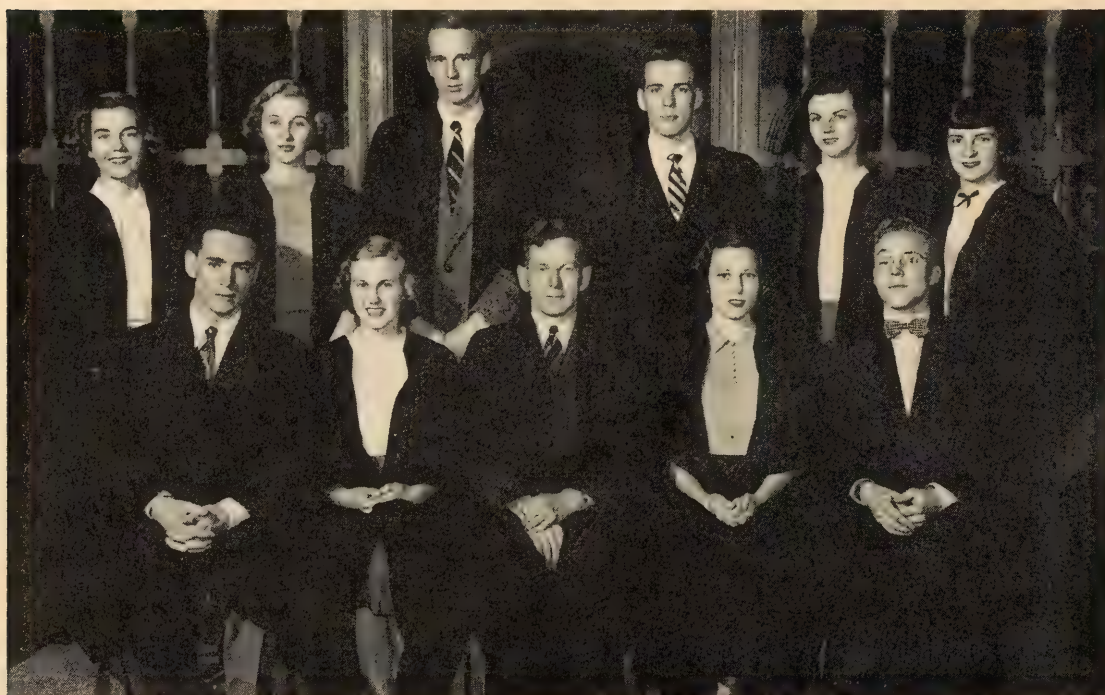

This year's Vic-centered programme has been severely criticized. The stock reply is that the V.C.U. is a Union of Victoria College Students for Victoria College Students, not for the University of Toronto. It is our belief that if our affairs are tidy at home we can contribute more to the whole university in the way of greater individual participation and spirit. This, we believe, has been ably demonstrated this year in the A.V.A. campaign, Blue and White Society and Hart House theatre. In the coming years the assembly and the V.C.U. executive must strive to co-ordinate the activities further until the maximum economy of student effort is achieved while still maintaining the high standard of participation and quality.

Trinity College Board of Stewards

THE TRINITY COLLEGE Board of Stewards functioned with its usual admirable efficiency (?) this year. Matters of earth-shaking importance were so numerous that only a few examples can be given.

The Buttery as usual came in for much attention. The billiard table was recovered; ping-pong tables were bought, disposed of and discussed. With admirable enthusiasm, the Board decided that the Buttery needed repainting, and feeling that the College would not pay for it, called for tenders to do the job at Board expense. The tenders were received but not having the money to meet them, the Board decided that the College might well do the painting anyway.

Moving to a lower plane, a committee made arrangements for the Freshman Weekend which having taken place twice has now become a tradition. The establishment of a Loan Fund using a surplus built up during the war years was proposed, but the College Loan Fund proved adequate for this year at least. A Chapel Committee, in consultation with college authorities, initiated a "9.15" on Sundays which has been quite a success. Dick Hassard headed Trinity's AVA Committee which set a quota of a dollar a student and made considerably more than that. "Salterrae" under the editorship of Andy Watson had its most successful year in history, and the Food and Art Committees also operated with greater success than ever before.

College meetings were well attended and much useful action and discussion took place there. All in all,—a pretty good year.

Saint Hilda's College Committee

THE St. Hilda's College Committee consists of the Principal, Mrs. Kirkwood, the Head of College, two resident and two non-resident members of each year, and the S.A.C. representative. As an advisory committee to the St. Hilda's College Meeting, the College Committee serves as an important link between the staff and the student body. Its task is to discuss the activities and problems of the college as a whole, before they are formally presented at the College Meeting.

Since St. Hilda's is a college in its own right as well as a residence, the College Meeting is an institution providing the opportunity for discussion and resolution of all problems that arise during the academic year. As well as the routine business of the college, the Meeting keeps St. Hildians in touch with the wider issues of the university as a whole, and through debate and discussion from the floor, the opinions of the members on such questions are ascertained.

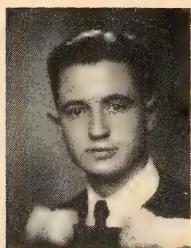

St. Michael's College

Students' Administrative Council

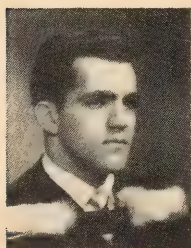

SUPERVISING and co-ordinating the many activities of the '50-'51 session, St. Michael's College Student Administrative Council has endeavored to regulate the non-academic facet of college life to complement the academic.

Experimenting with a revised constitution for the S.A.C., we relieved Leo, our president, of many intramural college duties and allowed him to devote more time to the University S.A.C. and to All-Varsity problems.

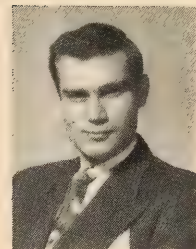

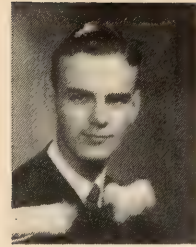

The St. Michael's Day Mass, celebrated by the Most Reverend David F. Cunningham, auxiliary bishop of the diocese of Syracuse, New York, officially opened the year.

Among the organizations operating under the S.A.C. the Music and Drama Society organized Sunday evening concerts and the musical, GOOD NEWS. In public speaking and debating the Oratorical Society and Senate Club were outstanding, under Senate President, Dick Bussey. The Senate represented the college at the annual debating tournaments at McMaster University. In sports, St. Michael's attained distinction, if not championships in inter-faculty competition.

TOP TO BOTTOM: Rev. Joseph Dorsey C.S.B., Faculty Advisor; Leo A. Cavaia, President; William P. Mitchell, Vice-President; Joseph M. Leon, Secretary-Treasurer; Paul Forestell, Athletic Director.

The success of the monthly dances at Brennan Hall was due to Bill Mitchell and to the music of Paul Moonan's band. In October the S.A.C. inaugurated a Sadie Hawkin's Dance, putting the College into an uproar. Then came the Mardi Gras, the profits of which went to All-Varsity Aid for Asiatic Universities.

There were also class parties and the Christmas Carnival run by James Brennan. Highlight of the social season was the thirteenth annual St. Michael's College At Home, a credit to the organizing talents of Bill Broadhurst, the artistic skill of Helen Dewan, and the work of many students.

Then came Lent and yearly retreat, conducted this time by Father Ehmann, C.S.S.R.

The fence went up on the front campus, and cramming was upon us.

St. Michael's College Women's Joint Executive Council

TWO years ago the Joint Executive Council of St. Michael's College women was formed "to promote the principles of good-will and unselfish co-operation between the students of Loretto and St. Joseph's Colleges"—the two women's colleges of St Michael's. The president of the council is the representative to the University's S.A.C. and is responsible to the women of St. Michael's through the Council. The N.F.C.U.S. representative also reports to the members of the Council.

The members of the Council include the presidents, the vice-presidents, and other senior members of Loretto's and St. Joseph's S.A.C. The activities of the Council concern the students of both Colleges in relation to the University and other Colleges. Among its activities for 1950-1951 were the Red Feather Campaign, All-Varsity Aid, and direction of participation in athletics.

Emmanuel College Students' Society

AN AUTONOMOUS student government encourages "college spirit"—that intangible something that gives personality to the student body. The Students' Society is therefore vital in College life. It has also a very practical importance. It brings all three years together into one family. It harmonizes the functions of the various organizations. It promotes a variety of extra-curricular activities. It provides training in parliamentary procedure for future presbyters. It is the voice of student opinion.

Among the many innovations of the '51 executive was the setting up of a Student Aid Fund to help any student in a financial emergency. This year the Missionary Committee undertook the job of sending out student speakers wherever requested. The wives and fiancées began a surprisingly successful "Theo-Wives Club".

The graduates of '51 will always remember morning chapel, where in His presence all felt the warmth of Christian fraternity. Then there were the oft victorious soccer team, the choir practices and the crowded musicales, the year parties and the residence parties, the Annual At-Home and the Buddy Banquet, the Graduation Banquet, E.C.S.S. meetings themselves, and dozens of other affairs characteristic of Emmanuel life. And nobody will ever forget that Public Speaking Recital in first year!

The past three years have been very full and very rewarding. We have made good friends. We have learned a great deal. More important still, we have established an intimate and first-hand acquaintance with God.

Engineering Society

FROM FORTY-FOUR HUNDRED TO TWO THOUSAND IN FOUR SHORT YEARS!

THIS rapid decline in the population of S.P.S. has become more apparent in the last two sessions, and with it have come financial problems to the Engineering Society. However, with the graduation of 5T1, which is the last of the greatly swollen classes, many of these problems should disappear. A transition period from the large post-war enrolment to normal sized groups appears to have taken place this year and accordingly, future Skule functions may be cut down in size to accommodate only these smaller numbers.

Ensuing years will see a return to more compact School At-Homes, less lavish Skule Nites and a corresponding growth of Skule spirit that will rock the campus to its roots.

For the Engineering Society, 1950-51 has been a successful period.

Beginning in long-past October with the Freshman Reception, when the Skule Frosh were officially introduced to the campus and to the Skule Cannon, and ending with the last exam in April, the year has been brim full of traditionally high-spirited engineers' activities.

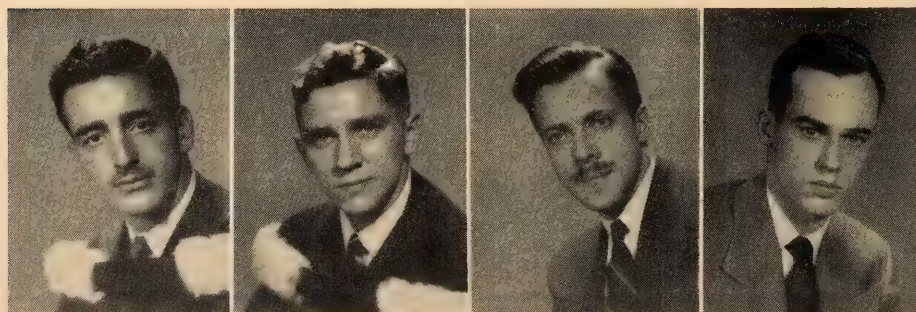

A return to Hart House after several years' absence, marked the presentation of the 61st Annual School Dinner, which was immensely enjoyed by all attending. Skule Nite, an outstanding stage production, featured "Albert," the Skule Nite machine and first mechanical man to appear on the campus.

The School At-Home was singularly successful, upholding its reputation of being the social highlight of the University year.

The Engineering Society Store, the only student-managed business of its kind on the campus, has finished the year with flying colours as it continued to serve the students of S.P.S. with a high degree of efficiency.

In short, the Engineers have done it again in upholding the high standard of student activities set by their predecessors.

A parting wish of success is all that remains for the old executive to pass on to the new as the 1950-51 session passes unobtrusively into oblivion.

S.P.S. Fourth Year Executive

GENTLEMEN, this is it! The class of 5T1 has finally reached its objective, namely 1951. It seemed far distant four years ago but tempus sure did fugit.

It has indeed been a pleasure to represent the 744 members of the year. Approximately 65% of us are veterans and our one hope is that we will be veterans of just one war instead of two.

At the same time, sincere thanks must go to Father D.V.A. and the University's terrific Ajax project, without which so many of us would have found it impossible to be members of this or any other graduating year.

Also representing you on the executive were the three gentlemen pictured above; Bill, Fred and Tom.

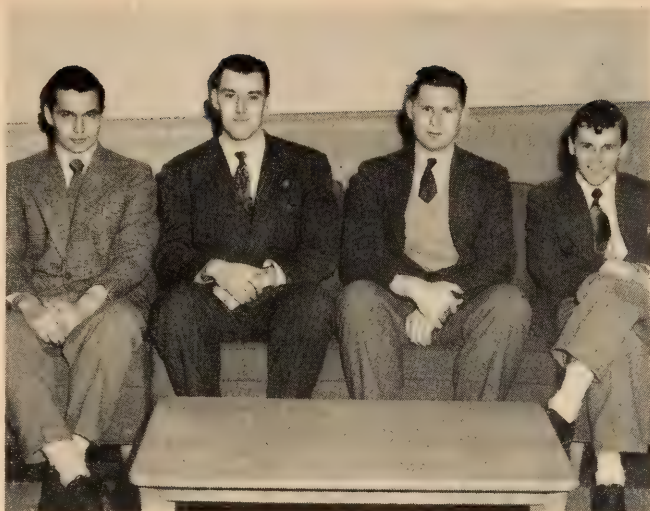

Space does not permit a listing of all who helped make our year a success, but many thanks to Marian and Beverley, the guardians of the stores, for all the favours.

Mention must be made here of all the club chairmen who worked so willingly on all 5T1 projects.

In spite of the grind, we managed to let loose at the year dance, which this year was held in the inner sanctum of Casa Loma. By the time this is published, our Graduation Ball and Convocation will both be memories.

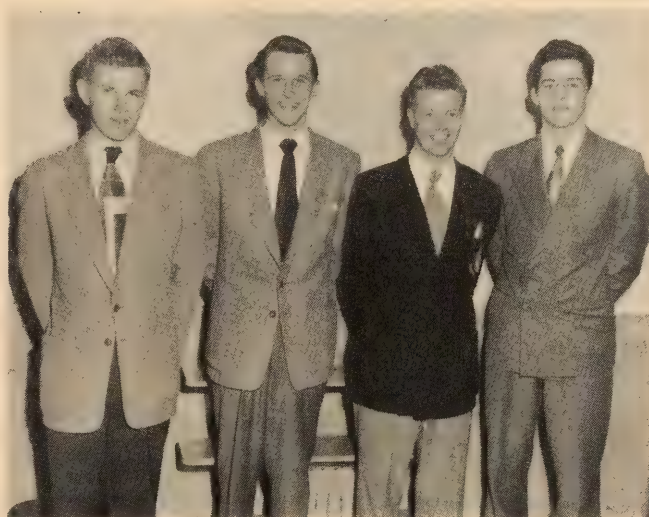

And now, I would like to offer my personal congratulations to all of the graduating year and best wishes for the future.

In closing, may I suggest a word for the weary, "Remember the first million dollars are always the hardest".

Medical Women's Undergraduate and Athletic Associations

THE Medical Women's Undergraduate Association is the official organization of the women undergraduates in the medical course. It is most vitally concerned with matters affecting the welfare and happiness of these students while at University.

The annual initiation banquet held in October, officially welcomed the women of the first Pre-medical year into the course. Dr. Agnes Jamieson from Minden was the guest speaker. Just before the holidays a Christmas party was held, to which presents were brought for the University Settlement children. In the spring term, a round table discussion on the opportunities for women internes was held. A circular letter was sent to all Ontario women doctors, to which the response was excellent. It is expected from this that more opportunities will be available for women students to work with doctors during the summer months.

The Medical Women's Athletic Association had another successful year, putting teams into the baseball, basketball, volleyball, and hockey leagues. All four teams topped their leagues and reached the semi-finals. A skating party was held in February, which was most enjoyable, and the Annual Athletic Banquet in March finished off the year's activities.

Physical and Occupational Therapy Undergraduate Association

THE role of the new Course in Physical and Occupational Therapy this year in numerous campus activities is one of which each member of the course may be justly proud. For such a small group we have made our presence felt. Our teams have participated in many intra-mural sports, such as basketball, volleyball and hockey and our contributions to the Float Parade, Feather Fair and All-Varsity Aid have been most successful.

The year began with a Freshie-Tea to welcome the PhysOts to the huts, continued with a tea for our grads, a skit nite, a supper meeting, and informal dances, and was climaxed by our At-Home at the Royal York.

The PhysOts are off to a good start and we are looking for bigger and better things from them next year.

School of Nursing Undergraduate Association

THE School of Nursing Undergraduate Association is responsible for many of the activities within the School. The Drama, Athletic, Social, Music and Residence Committees are all part of the Association so that, as well as sponsoring such functions as the School formal and informal dances and musicals, the Undergraduate Association also sponsors the School teams and dramatics. It is this Association which elects the School Representatives to other campus groups and several of these representatives are members of the Executive. Once again the year has been a busy one and this year's graduating class wish the Undergraduate Association success in its work next year.

Dental Students' Parliament

THIS spring brings the graduation of the last large post-war class from the Faculty of Dentistry. To the class as a whole, and especially to the veterans, we wish every success.

This year's Student Parliament, with a very capable president and a co-operative membership, accomplished a great deal. The Soph-Frosh, the At-Home and the Post-Election Dance were all outstanding successes. The enthusiastic reception of this year's Dentantics, presented as a Minstrel Show, was partly due to the contribution of the talented and attractive Dental Nurses who took part, and the profits were turned over to A.V.A. Two editions of Hya Yaka were published by a very busy editor and staff. Perhaps the Parliament's most notable achievement was the purchase by the Athletic Directorate of sports equipment and the revision of the athletic constitution, inaugurating an athletic store and a fairer system of the distribution of awards.

The Student Parliament received the utmost co-operation from Dean Ellis, Mr. Rous and other members of the Faculty. To them we extend our sincere thanks.

April, 1950, brought a very great loss to the Dental Faculty and to the Dental profession as a whole in the death of Dr. Thomas Cowling. The student body mourns the passing of this noted lecturer and wise counsellor.

Faculty of Music Undergraduate Association

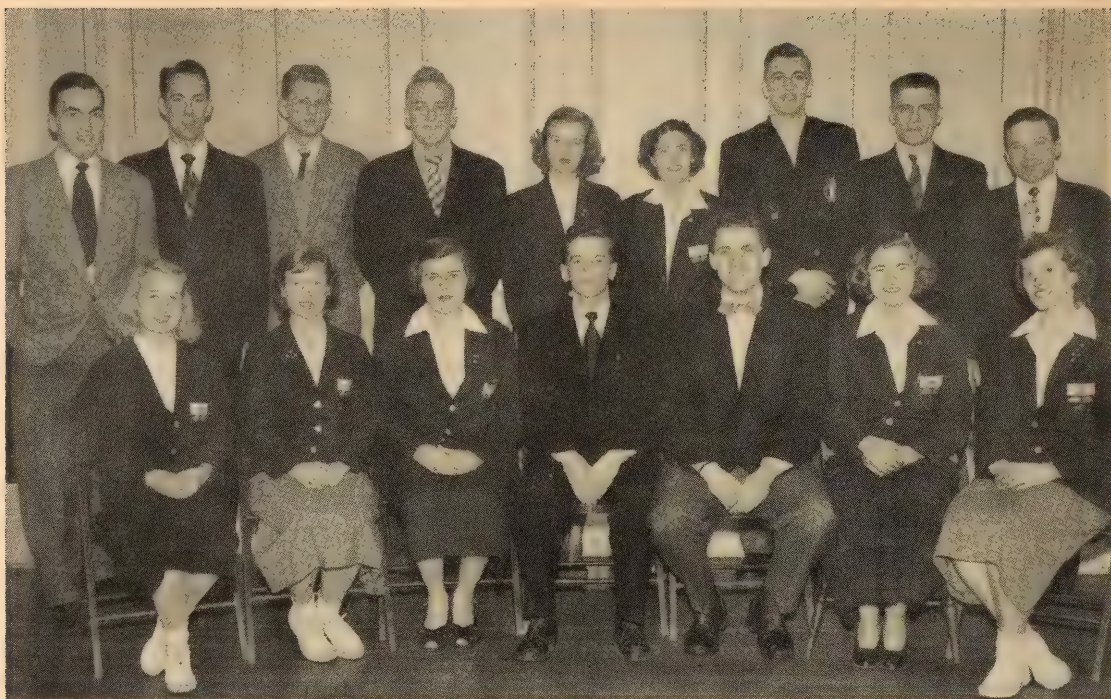

THE Class of 5T1 can look back on a very successful year for the faculty of Music. It was eventful especially in the expansion of student activities and in the position taken by the Faculty of Music in the life of the University. Space permits reference to only a few of the many activities of our group.

We will all remember the Red Feather concert presented in Convocation Hall. This concert featured distinguished Canadian artists and represented the finest in musical entertainment. It was most successful and the committee in charge was able to donate a generous sum of money to the Red Feather Fund.

The Faculty of Music also took part in two further campus activities. These were the Float Parade and the A. V. A. Band Concert. The Mus. Bac's Float represented a barn dance, a colourful contrast to the rest of the parade. The entry in the Band Contest gave a performance of credit to the faculty.

Two new student organizations were formed, with the particular intent of giving students more performing experience. The first of these was the Training Band and the second was a choir, sponsored by the Faculty of Music but not limited in membership to the Mus. Bac's. This choir gave two performances of the Bach cantata "Christ Lay in Bonds of Death". These performances were in support of A.V.A. and of the Symposium. They were presented in the Metropolitan Church and in St. Margaret's Church. These activities gave much enjoyment as well as valuable experience.

This year has, by virtue of these happenings as well as the rich day-to-day campus life, been a memorable one for our faculty.

P.H.E. Undergraduate Association

IN SPITE of a marked decrease in the student enrolment, the Physical and Health Education Undergraduate Association had another successful year as the student governing body. Unfortunately, however, this decrease necessitated an indefinite postponement of the School's annual revue, Health's A Poppin'.

Once again the freshmen and freshies were welcomed into the Course at the opening "get-acquainted party" at M.E.S. at which also many grads were present to renew old acquaintances. The highlight of the year's social activities was the Annual 'At Home' held this year at the Boulevard Club.

The executive and students missed the friendly advice and inspiration of Dr. Cates—a fine lecturer and friend. We all hope he will be back on the job for '51-'52.

The retiring executive extends congratulations and best wishes for a successful year to all members of the '51-52 executive.

Institutional Management Undergraduate Society

IN just a few short weeks the Undergraduate Society of 1950-1951 will bow out of Undergraduate affairs and pass the ball forward to another year. The object of the Institutional Management Undergraduate Society has been to promote such activities for its members as would add to their enjoyment of University life. Only through the unselfish efforts of the Social Committee, Women's Union, the Athletic Committee and many sincere individuals has our term been a success. To these people we extend our warmest and heartfelt thanks. It is our hope that after graduation we will see each other soon and often.

Architectural Society

THE youngest faculty on the campus continues to grow in importance. Participation in University life at all levels as well as looking after the interests of the students at the School of Architecture, gave this executive a busy year.

Through the efforts of the Architectural Society, the school was visited by two outstanding architects. Serge Chermayeff, of the Chicago Institute of Design was an early guest, and Philip Johnson, of the Museum of Modern Art spoke in March at the Museum Theatre. In this picture, Mr. Chermayeff is seen touring the draughting room with members of the staff and executive.

COMEDY and culture have been combined in this year's dramatic productions of the Players' Guild. At the first meeting, J. M. Synge's Shadow of the Glen, produced by Pat Watson and T. S. Eliot's Sweeney Agonistes, produced by Aila Filppula opened the year's activities. Comedy was again a favourite when Christopher Morley's East of Eden produced by Jan Webster was presented at the December meeting. At this meeting also we saw the most ambitious work of the year, a full length production of the poetic drama by Christopher Fry, Thor with Angels which was directed by Janice Johnson.

Scarlet and Gold

ON November second, third, and fourth, in Hart House Theatre Vic presented the second edition of its full-scale college show. The first Scarlet and Gold was held for one night only in Eaton Auditorium in November of 1949 as a V.C.U. experiment. "Bob" shows of recent years had reached such a high production standard that the V.C.U. decided to cut it down and present a review later on in the fall, known as the Scarlet and Gold. This show, produced by John Finlay and directed by George McCowan and Ted Snider was so successful that the V.C.U. decided to continue it as an annual feature in Vic activities.

This year's review was produced by George Miller and directed by Jean Scroggie, with the theme being the school year. As a variety show it presented everything from a magician—Terry Lawson, to ballet—Leila Anderson, and pantomime—Bob Jackson. Also featured were the Vic Sextet; a take-off on the Music Club, written by Walt Stewart and a phosphorescent graveyard song-and-dance number. John Bell and Bunny Malcolm, student choreographers, worked out three dance routines—a comedy number on the freshman initiations, a high-kick station routine, and a hectic version of the Charleston. Choral numbers, with Monty Koughan and Fran MacDonald taking the leads, were arranged by Phelps Bell. The skits varied from an exposé of Freshman weekend to an exposé of Varsity cheese-cake and the tea-habit at Oxford. Leading characters were Johnny Watson, Mary Kerr (both of amateur status), Dave Peddie, Debbie Turnbull and Bob Jackson. Sets were built by Doug Mackay, with lighting by Dave Cork and costumes by Joyce Hough.

Next year the S. and G. will undergo another change. Henceforth it will be called the Bob Review, in an attempt to preserve Vic traditions. This will not affect the format of the show, which will still be a full-length review, on a college theme,—with girls.

Alpha Omega Alpha

ALPHA OMEGA ALPHA is a non-secret College Medical Honour Society, membership in which is based entirely on scholarship, moral qualifications being satisfactory. Undergraduate members are chosen from the final two years of the Medical Course.

Organized at the College of Medicine of the University of Illinois, in Chicago, on August 25th, 1902, by William W. Root, it is the only order of its kind in the Medical Schools of this continent.

The spirit of the Society is set forth in its motto, "To be worthy to serve the suffering"; and in a modern interpretation of the Hippocratic Oath. It is the duty of its members to promote its ideals and to foster the scientific and philosophic features of the Medical Profession and to look beyond self to the welfare of the profession and public. It is also their duty to cultivate social mindedness as well as an individualistic attitude toward responsibilities; to show respect for their colleagues, elders and teachers; to foster research; and in all ways strive to enrich and ennoble the profession of Medicine.

FOUNDED—UNION COLLEGE 1833
—UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO 1920

IN 1900 a group of students at the University of Toronto banded together in a local fraternity, the Chi Delta Psi, with the hope of eventually obtaining a charter from the then well established Psi Upsilon Fraternity. Disregarding other offers of international affiliation, the members of Chi Delta Psi persisted in their quest until, after twenty years, the fraternity became the Nu Chapter of Psi Upsilon. Since the granting of the charter, the chapter has actively represented Psi Upsilon on the University of Toronto campus. The undergraduate brothers look with pride at the achievements and service rendered to our country and University by the graduate brothers of Psi Upsilon.

Sigma Alpha Mu

SIGMA Alpha Mu Fraternity is international consisting of fifty Chapters throughout Canada and the United States. It was conceived as a group with distinct ideals by its eight original founders at the City College of New York, in November, 1909.

The local Chapter, Omega, located at 65 Madison Ave., was established at the University of Toronto, in February, 1920, and has on its roll over three hundred alumni and sixty undergraduates of the University.

From its inception, the local Chapter has developed a keen interest and zeal in scholarships and in communal activity. Among the scholarships, Sigma Alpha Mu sponsors the Lou Sommers and Alex Garaleck awards at the U. of T. Through the proceeds of Omega's annual Charity Dance, a sum of five hundred dollars will soon be turned over to the new Mt. Sinai Hospital. Many of Omega's Alumni occupy commanding positions in the Community.

Alpha Kappa Kappa

IT HAS BEEN quite a number of years since AKK has graced these pages. This year, the oversight has been corrected and once again one of the oldest medical fraternities on the campus takes its bow in Torontonensis.

Our difficulties have been many in the past few years, but the sun appears to be rising now and the future has a rosier glow with the acquisition of a house on fraternity row. Apple pie without cheese has been likened to a kiss without a squeeze. It is our considered opinion that so is a fraternity without a house.

Our activities during the past few years have been confined to survival but with the coming year we have every hope of assuming a more constructive and useful position amid the activities of the students of this university.

CARNEGIE RECORD HOUR IN THE MECHANICAL BUILDING

Carnegie Record Collection

A collection of six hundred and forty records was given to the University of Toronto several years ago by the Carnegie Foundation and is located in the Faculty Common Room on the third floor of the new Mechanical Engineering Building, a most comfortable room with excellent listening facilities.

This year an L.P. attachment was purchased for the machine and also some records were added to the collection. Record hours were held between five and six every week-day and sometimes between one and two, under the supervision of curator Margaret Howe and her committee members, Peggy McCallum, Mary Gemmell and Jarvis Stoddart. This committee published programmes in The Varsity every day and gave commentaries on the music played. Both the fall and winter terms were begun with a tea and special programme. Mr. John Weingweig, the well-known Canadian composer, spoke on his music and played some of it at one of these teas.

Programmes are open to all university students and it is our wish that more people make use of this wonderful collection. There are records available to suit all tastes and the gatherings offer an opportunity for informal discussions as well for hours of enjoyment of fine music.

University of Toronto Symphony Orchestra and All-Varsity Mixed Chorus

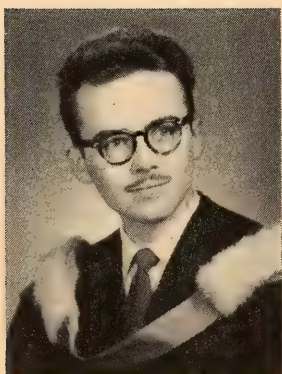

ELMER ISELER
Conductor

THE University of Toronto Symphony Orchestra and All-Varsity Mixed Chorus are amateur organizations which give University students, graduate or undergraduate, an opportunity to play and sing music written by the recognized masters. The conductor and assistant conductor of both organizations are also of amateur status, being students at the University. This year the conductor was Mr. Elmer Iseler, a Bachelor of Music graduate who was completing his studies at O.C.E. and who has had much experience working with both vocal and instrumental groups. Mr. Iseler proved to be a most capable leader, strove for perfection with these groups and was very successful in achieving this aim. Mr. Keith Girard, who is graduating from the Faculty of Music this year and who was the assistant conductor for this season, will take Mr. Iseler's position in the coming year.

Most students do not realize that on Sunday evenings, from eight until ten, in Convocation Hall the Symphony Orchestra may be viewed in the throes of creative passion. Here is an excellent opportunity for the interested student to discover why conductors possess peculiar personalities and also to witness a structure of sound molded from the printed page. At the Women's Union on Monday evenings a similar practice in vocal music is held. Again, any spectators are welcome.

The week before Christmas saw a bus-load of choristers off to various homes for the aged and crippled in the city. This annual event is as popular with the elderly listeners as with the chorus. A report of comparative acoustics in various city hospital corridors may be obtained from the chorus.

There is little that can be said here that will adequately describe the pleasure one may win from a weekly study of a Bach chorus or a movement from Haydn. Even those who only listen at rehearsals gained a greater appreciation for the beauties of good music.

Blue and White Society

THIS COMMITTEE of the Students' Administrative Council, made up of over one hundred undergraduates of all faculties and colleges, directed its energies to the fostering of inter-faculty and inter-university friendship.

1950-51 marked another step in the evolution of the Blue and White Society, with the supplementing of the traditional colour of Football Weekend activities with events of a more cultural nature.

Students of professional and Arts faculties brushed shoulders in such events as the Football Dances, the Varsity Art Gallery Night, the Varsity Christmas Tree, and the Pep Rally, while graduate and undergraduate alike shared in the festivities of Homecoming Weekend, which included the Stadium Show, Float Parade, Roamaround Dance, and the Blue and White Show.

The success of these activities rests upon the fact that the strength of a federated University lies in the summation of faculty and college loyalties.

National Federation of Canadian University Students

THE Toronto Committee of NFCUS has continued work on several projects throughout the year, including regional student exchange, Canadian-American student exchange, and the investigation of high text costs. Arrangements were made through the NFCUS Scholarship Exchange Plan for two students to go to the University of New Brunswick for their third year, and for a Manitoba student to come to the University of Toronto. Surveys were made of comparative text costs and of text outlets at Canadian universities. The Toronto NFCUS Committee has also undertaken to organize a National Students Travel Service until such time as a permanent Travel Bureau may be established.

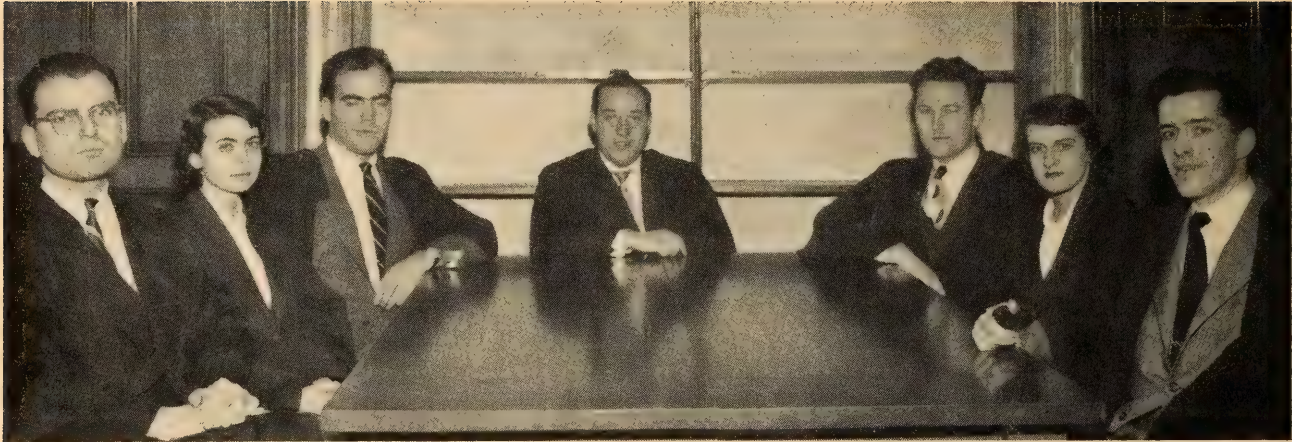

The Committee has continued to work in conjunction with I.S.S. on matters such as travel service and scholarship information. The "Carabin Weekends", an exchange of visits between forty students of the Universities of Toronto and Montreal, were again arranged jointly.

NFCUS has this year secured a fee increase, making possible the establishment of a national office and the employment of a permanent Secretary-Treasurer. R. D. Johnston of the University of Toronto has done an excellent job in that capacity this year.

A National University Yearbook, reporting on student activities and athletics across Canada, is being prepared. Plans are again underway for a student Seminar to be held in Quebec in the summer of 1952. Seminar Scholarships will be awarded to students at each Canadian University.

Debating Union

Fred Furlong, Hart House Debates Chairman; Clare O'Gorman, Loretto; Dwight Fulford, Trinity; Leo Cavin, Debates Commissioner; Jack Crossman, S.P.S.; Tanis Kell, Victoria; Bob McLaughlin, St. Michael's.

THIS YEAR the University of Toronto Debating Union broadened its scope of activities within the University as it undertook to sponsor the interfaculty and inter-collegiate debates on the campus. In November the U. T. D. U. sponsored its first debate of this sort between St. Michael's College and Victoria College. Subsequent debates were held between Trinity and St. Michael's Colleges, S. P. S. and St. Joseph's College, Loretto and St. Hilda's Colleges. The encouraging result of this programme was a keener interest in debating and closer relations between the colleges.

In the realm of debates with outside universities the U.T.D.U. also manifested its competence. In the latter part of November the U.T.D.U. accepted the invitation of McGill University to participate in a home and home debate, the topic of which concerned the admission of Red China into the United Nations. Early in the second term came a lively debate between McMaster University and the University of Toronto. The U.T.D.U. made application after the Christmas vacation for membership in the Inter-University Debating League.

The positive approach toward debating for all the faculties in the University has given it a more significant place among the extra-curricular activities of the students. The U.T.D.U. has made it an essential activity in the careers of the undergraduates.

International Student Organization

FOR some years the International Student Organization has been one of the most popular clubs on the Campus.

It provides an essential social outlet for the many students from other lands studying at the University as well as affording an opportunity for Canadian students, who join the club, to meet new friends and thus develop a broader understanding and respect for people coming from other countries.

There is a monthly social evening including a short glimpse into the culture of another country, followed by modern, square and folk dancing, and refreshments. Folk dancing has been an innovation this year since many of our members also actively participate in the new group—The University Folk Dancers.

Sunday evening Coffee Hours provide a further opportunity to gain a better understanding of our world today through informal lectures, discussions and chatting over a cup of coffee.

Activities of the club are carried on throughout the summer, and are initiated in the Spring with an Annual Banquet and evening of dancing, and a four-day camp held at some site near Toronto. Summer outings include hikes, roasts, farm trips and boat trips. Last summer, on invitation, the Club visited the farm of John Madsen at Unionville, once to help entertain the Austrian students here on tour, and twice to study and participate in folk singing and dance festivals.

The I.S.O. again sponsored the Varsity International Ball this year and with the various National groups made it one of the most colourful annual events on the Campus. The guest students wore their picturesque national costumes. This dance with its varied features reflects the enthusiasm of the club and symbolizes Varsity's welcome to her guest students from all over the world.

Commerce Club

SINCE its inception thirty years ago, the Commerce and Finance course has recognized the Commerce Club as its official undergraduate association. Again this year, Professor Hennessey capably filled the office of Honorary President and actively advised the club.

One of the main purposes of the club is to bring members of the course and of the business world into closer contact. This is partially achieved by informal meetings dealing with current economic and general business topics, and featuring addresses by prominent business and professional men.

Luncheon meetings, with an average attendance of one hundred members, were very successful this year. In addition, a number of tours to business concerns were made.

The fifth annual Finance Frolic was moved to the Club Embassy this year and, thanks to the cooperation of both graduates and undergraduates, was a highlight of this year's activities.

The Commerce Journal, a journal of economics containing articles written by prominent men from business, labour and government was published again this year by the club. The staff of the Journal are to be highly praised for their excellent work.

Household Economics Club

THIS YEAR the Household Economics Club got off to a good start with the Freshie Frolic. For this dance, the club joined with the Commerce Club to welcome the freshies.

The Fall Tea for the freshies gave the girls an idea of the course. They were taken on a tour of the building, and met the Staff.

The annual formal At-Home, held at Casa Loma, was the high spot in the club's activities. The girls' Chorus made a great hit, and everyone enjoyed himself.

The speeches made during the year were well attended.

ONE of the first things that the U.C. French Club did this year was to change its name from La Société Française to the less pretentious Cercle Français. The membership and interest shown have increased to such an extent that the Cercle has become one of the most popular clubs on the campus. The programmes this year have been unusually lively and original, beginning with an exhibition of fall fashions entitled Hot Couture 1950, and reaching an all-time high with the Christmas party held in the Junior Common Room. Following a short play La Scintillante, a particularly pillowy Santa Claus presented the professors with appropriate hats, made by the members of the executive. At the third meeting, Professor Rouillard showed his beautiful coloured slides taken on his trip last year to Europe and the Near East.

The annual play presented in Hart House Theatre in November was Henry Becque's Les Corbeaux. It was a new departure for the French Club, to present a serious, realistic play instead of the usual comedy. In spite of considerable difficulties in presentation, the play went successfully, and was well received.

ABSENT: Rudy Horwood, Vice-President.

UNDER the direction of president Zaira Murray, the Spanish Club has presented a varied programme this year. As well as the 'Charlas' at the Honey Dew every Friday, there were four full-scale meetings in the Women's Union.

In October, Professor Leon Heras, a visitor from California, told the club about problems of post-war Spain. Professor Baird was featured at our meeting November 29th. He spoke on Mexican Colonial Architecture. Films on South America and Latin-American songs and dancing had a popular appeal for the members.

The 'Fiesta' in February gave us a chance to demonstrate the lighter moods of the Spanish Club. The Union was brightened by colourful murals and costumes. Los Cinco Caballeros ably provided music for the evening. 'Dolores' (a student at the Conservatory), entertained us with a fine interpretation of Spanish Ballet. The idol of the Fiesta, undoubtedly was Conchita la Toreadora, who with daring skill killed two terrible raging bulls.

The final meeting took care of elections for the incoming executive. The annual drama features were presented: Paso Septimo and Celos.

The 1951 executive want to thank Mr. MacDonald for his help and co-operation, especially with the last meeting, and wish the Club every success next year.

ABSENT: Bohdan Hawrylyshyn, Vice-President; Julian Romanko, Auditor.

THE Ukrainian Students' Club was organized in 1940 by students of Ukrainian descent. With the cooperation of other Ukrainian groups and the general Ukrainian public the Club succeeded in overcoming numerous initial difficulties and finally established itself as a profitable organization. Many a graduate will be ever grateful for the financial aid which the Club renders to its members from the Loan Fund built up for that purpose.

Although the threefold aim limits our activities to cultural, social and athletic fields, it affords us ample opportunity to do great work within the bounds. This year many members continue the extension course in Ukrainian language, literature, and history, and hope that in the near future it will be on the same status as other modern languages on the curriculum of the University.

We prepared the Ukrainian portion of the International Ball Programme which was sponsored by I.S.O. last Fall. Just before Christmas the U.S.C. along with other University clubs presented over station CJRT a half-hour radio programme consisting of carols and bible selections in the native languages. A Grand Harvest Ball was held late in November, and on a smaller scale, monthly socials for the members have become a tradition. At our membership meetings we arrange to have a guest speaker to give us a better understanding of Ukrainian literature, history, culture and the tradition of which we are all so proud. The Ukrainian Graduation Banquet tops our Club activities for the year.

Whatever the U.S.C. does, it endeavours to promote friendship and understanding among all, and to cultivate in its members a consciousness of good citizenship.

Russian Circle

Since its inception in 1947 the Russian Circle has become an integral part of campus life. Instituted primarily for the study of the chief fields of Russian and Slavic culture—literature, art, music, history, and customs—the Circle, during the past four years, has pursued its goal in various ways with increasing enthusiasm. In 1950 the famous historical movie "Ivan Grozni," was shown. This year varied topics, such as the Greek Orthodox Church, Turgenev, and Russian Christmas Customs, have been discussed by well-versed speakers. "Suvorov," another fine historical film was also presented.

As yet the circle is not a language club, and membership is open to anyone connected with the University of Toronto.

The Hillel programme with its varied religious, cultural, social and interfaith activities, is designed to that end.

The main events of Hillel's 1950-1951 season were the formal dedication of the Hillel House, 186 St. George Street, and the regional Study Institute and Conference, both held in January.

The guest speakers at the dedication were President Sidney Smith and Rabbi A. J. Lelyveld, Director of all Canadian and American Hillel Foundations. The house, used by approximately five hundred students, was furnished by individual contributions and by the B'nai B'rith Organization.

Ludwig Lewisohn, Leo Schwarz and A. M. Klein addressed the Hillel Foundation as part of the Major Lecture series. Members were informed of these and other events by the new semi-monthly Hillelite, published by the students. Other aspects of the intensified Hillel programme included musicales, drama programmes, Hebrew classes, discussion groups, painting classes and Israeli dance groups.

Christian Fellowship

THE Varsity Christian Fellowship is a branch of the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship which originated in the universities of Great Britain in 1877. The organization now embraces groups of Christian students throughout the world. Closely affiliated with the I.V.C.F. in Canada is the Inter-School Christian Fellowship with branches in many of the secondary schools.

The Fellowship is founded on the conviction that personal relationship with God is possible only through faith in Jesus Christ, who, by His death and resurrection, proved His claim to be the only Way, the Infallible Truth and the source of real Life.

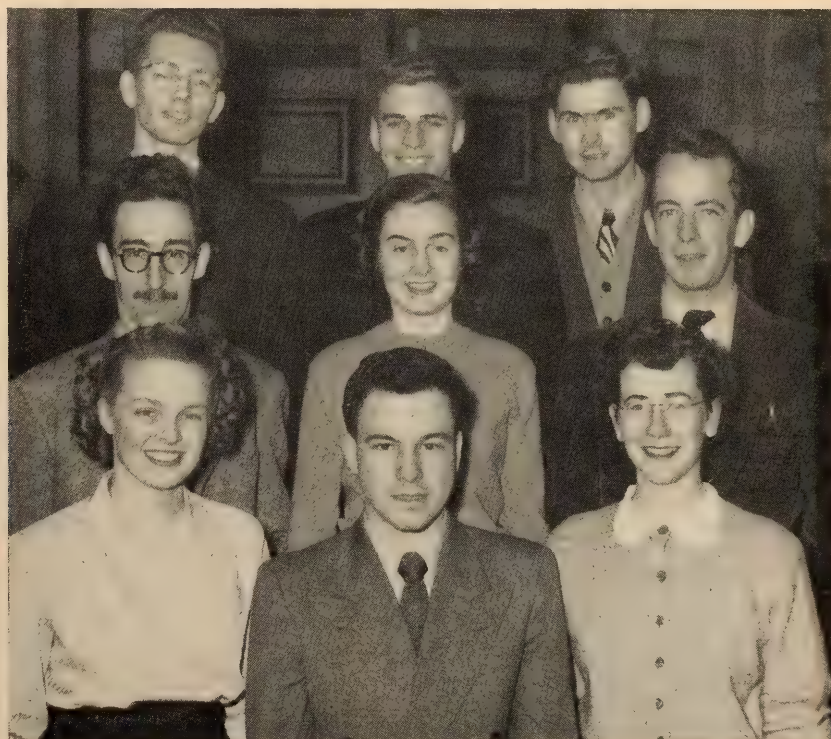

Its aim is to provide students with an opportunity of experiencing in a practical way this vital relationship.

To facilitate the practical realization of this aim, the Varsity Christian Fellowship in the University of Toronto functions through four main chapters, each directed by an elected student executive, in Victoria College, University College, the Faculty of Engineering, and the Faculty of Medicine. The various activities undertaken by each chapter correlate as far as possible, and include: Bible study, prayer meetings, regular series of talks by guest speakers, and special social events.

A feature of this year's Varsity Fellowship activity has been the Campus Christian Mission, with Mr. Leith Samuel of Great Britain, as the chief missionary.

Many students are finding that the programme of the Fellowship fills a need in their lives, and we trust that in the coming years God may use our witness more effectively for the extension of His Kingdom.

THE year 1950 has seen the COTC training scheme functioning smoothly with somewhat reduced intakes probably as a result of the reduced veteran enrolment at the University.

Lt. Col. W. L. Sagar, E.D., after four years commanding the contingent and steering it through its post-war reorganization has retired and his position has been taken over by Major L. S. Lauchland, E.D. Major Lauchland has a distinguished war record and is presently an Associate Professor on the staff of the faculty of Applied Science.

Army Pay rate revisions have been reflected in the pay and allowances of the officer cadets. The basic rate has been raised from $153 to $162 per month, making the summer training in the COTC a lucrative as well as an instructive and interesting programme.

Hon. Col. Cody by reason of illness was unable to take his traditional part in the Remembrance Day ceremonies and his presence was missed by all members of the Contigent.

Candidates are selected on entry for aircrew or ground training on a basis of quotas allotted, and individual preference and suitability. Undergraduates during training serve as Flight Cadets. On graduation from their universities, and satisfactory completion of their Air Force training, Flight Cadets are eligible for promotion to Flying Officer.

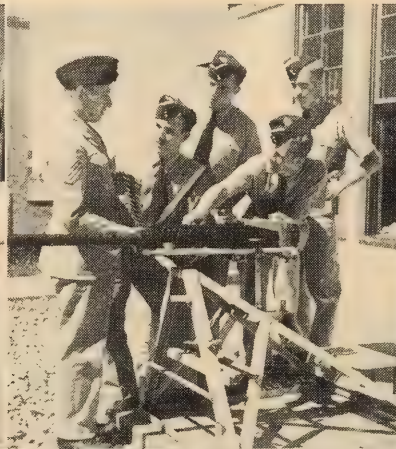

Winter training for Flight Cadets consists of a series of lectures in appropriate subjects. During the summer, Flight Cadets are posted to various stations throughout Canada wherever they can best receive the technical or aircrew training for which they have been selected.

The accompanying illustrations show some of the many activities enjoyed by Flight Cadets during their summer training.

Victoria College Liberal Arts Club

THIS YEAR the activities sponsored by the Liberal Arts Club of Victoria College were threefold: the Record Hour, the Writers' Group, and the Open Meetings.

Record Hours were held weekly in Wymilwood during the fall term, and contributed to the layman's enjoyment of classical and operatic selections.

The Writers' Groups were very successful both in supplying constructive criticism for the authors and in uncovering new material for Acta Victoriana. Professors J. D. Robins, K. MacLean, K. H. Coburn, and F. D. Hoeniger were guest critics.

Five Open Meetings were held during the year. Prof. G. S. Vickers of the Art and Archaeology Department spoke on University Architecture, and Lister Sinclair and F. G. Peddie, both of the C.B.C. read selections of modern poetry. The final meeting took the form of a student composers' concert.

The Victoria College Liberal Arts Club has thus dealt most successfully with those aspects of the arts not covered by other college clubs.

Victoria College Music Club

MANY years from now Vic Music Club members will look back on the year 1950-51 and experience a feeling of nostalgia for the "good old days". Many things will come to their minds: that never-to-be-forgotten week in February when they were transformed into country lads and lasses to put on Gilbert and Sullivan's The Sorcerer in Hart House Theatre; the mad rush of stage, make-up, and costume crews to get every detail perfected before the curtain rose; the raid on the punch-bowl at intermission; the happy hours spent under the direction of Godfrey Ridout and Geoffrey Hatton; the Mozart curtain-raiser, Bastien and Bastienne; the successful Glee Club production under the able baton of Laughton Bird; the double quartettes; the exchange trip to Guelph; the gala at-home that caused such a flurry. All these will have a place in their memories, but the greatest bond of all is that of the friends we have made and the comradeship of fellow music lovers.

Trinity College Literary Institute

AT THE time of writing, there have been eight debates and one impromptu-speaking evening. These have included the Freshman Debate, the annual Trinity—St. Hilda's Debate and a Trinity—St. Michael's Debate held in St. Joseph's College. Four of the resolutions have dealt with the University itself; three, international affairs; and one, the vital question of whether or not doors should be opened.

On the whole, response to the Institute's Literary Programme has not been too enthusiastic; the division of the House at the end of meetings is seldom proclaimed in double figures. Moreover, interest on the part of the younger members of the Institute has been small, the majority of the participants being members of the third and fourth years. A high standard of Parliamentary procedure has been maintained by the Speaker of the Institute, Tom Crerar. Certainly the overall quality of the debates has been good and therefore we cannot blame them for this lack of interest. Nor can we blame the Government Council which, led by President John Barton, has consistently done a thorough and conscientious job in promoting forensic activities.

Trinity College Literary Institute

In order to place debating more squarely in the public eye, the Government has wisely adopted the policy of meeting every Wednesday evening. Meeting in the Junior Common Room instead of the bare and cavernous Chapel made the last debate of January a resounding success and the House will probably continue to convene here in the immediate future at least. It is hoped that the weekly meetings in a more congenial atmosphere will prove the necessary stimulus to a resurgent Literary Programme.

Early this year, the Government Council ordered a high-quality, automatic, three-speed record player for the use of the Men of College. This machine is located in the Graduate Common Room, and will take the place of the bi-weekly record hours which were held last year. A fund of some $150.00 has been made available for the purchase of records; therefore in the future, Trinity should enjoy high quality reproduction from a wide range of excellent recordings.

A new system of elections will be introduced which it is hoped will bring about a more equitable distribution of important offices among the most capable Men of College.

On January 26th, the Annual Trinity Conversazione was held in Strachan Hall. Mr. Greene and his Conversat Committee deserve high praise for an excellent job in arranging this dance, which was one of the best the College has enjoyed in many years.

As these remarks are being written, the Institute is looking forward to the Annual Dinner on February 21st. The Guest Speaker is to be Mr. B. K. Sandwell, the Editor of Saturday Night.

THE "LIT" is both a debating and a dramatic society, and in both fields of endeavour enjoyed a highly successful year. The year's activities began with the traditional nonsense debate between dons and undergraduates on the motion, Resolved: "that the Buttery should be abolished". Needless to say the motion was soundly defeated after some excellent speaking on both sides of the house. More weighty matters were debated in the inter-year debates with less wit perhaps but with no less skill.

The more informal debating club whose purpose is to develop debaters from among the shy and nervous of the college enjoyed some very fiery meetings.

The year plays have been of an exceptionally high calibre, and of great variety, ranging as they have from the fifteenth century morality Everyman to that memorable musical-comedy 1066 and All That.

The society's activities ended with the annual dinner, at which debating and dramatic awards were announced.

THE U.C. MUSIC CLUB has for three years produced an operetta equal to any on the campus. This year "Naughty Marietta" pleased everyone for three nights. The fun, experience, and hard work put in by all was something to remember for a long time. It gave a good many singers a chance to prove and some to discover the talent they possessed.

The record hour not only gives students a chance to listen to music but also allows them to prepare a programme of their own for which they can prepare informative notes on such composers as Bach, Beethoven, Strauss, and many others.

The U.C. Singers have this year come under the direction of a student conductor. They supplied the music for the Christmas tableau and partook in a musical evening put on by the Club and will later put on a musicale of their own. It is an excellent opportunity for students to join in choral singing.

The Music Club is one of the best organizations in U.C. and with the continued support of all the students interested in music, the 1951-52 year should be every bit as good as they have made this one.

St. Michael's College Co-operative

IN THE fall of 1946 several students from St. Michael's College who were attending a conference of Catholic college students, listened with great interest to information about the student co-operative of St. Francis Xavier University at Antigonish, Nova Scotia. The Toronto students realized that there was a great need at their college for a tuck shop and informal meeting place, and they determined to have a co-operative at St. Michael's.

A small group of men and women made the preliminary plans during the winter of 1946-47. The Council of the Congregation of St. Basil loaned one thousand dollars for a year at three per cent interest, and the students loaned four hundred and fifty dollars in five dollar loan units. Toronto lawyers drew up the charter and by-laws of the Co-op, and Letters Patent incorporating the St. Michael's College Co-operative were granted by the Province of Ontario on April 30, 1947. Part of the basement of the men's residence at 49 Queen's Park Crescent was given as the site; the extensive alterations necessary were done by the students.

That year the co-op was open only for the one month of March, but it was an instant success at the College, and its firm place at St. Michael's was assured.

St. Michael's College Co-operative

Since 1947 many improvements have been made in the services of the Co-op, and business has boomed. The first full year it totaled nine thousand nine hundred and ninety-two dollars and fifty-four cents; a large sum when measured in cups of coffee. In January of 1949 the first patronage refunds of two and eight tenths per cent were paid, and in addition the co-operative annually pays fifteen hundred dollars wages.

The St. Michael's College Co-operative is governed by a board of directors, elected for two year terms, composed of five men from St. Michael's, and four women from St. Joseph's and Loretto Colleges. A student becomes a member by loaning the Co-op five dollars, on which interest is paid, and which can be withdrawn at any time.

When a member buys anything in the Co-op he is given a receipt which states the amount purchased; he signs the receipt and drops it in the receipt box. In this way a record is kept of the money spent by each member.

After the expenses of the Co-op, (including wages, depreciation, etc.) Board declares a patronage refund, and thus divides the surplus among all the members, according to the amount they have spent in the Co-op during the previous year.

The students manage the Co-op completely themselves; the president, manager and treasurer spend much time each day looking after the welfare of the organization.

The College as a whole has gained a very great deal from the Co-op, which provides not only coffee and cigarettes, but is a meeting place for the students, both residents and day-hops, of the three colleges, St. Michael's, Loretto and St. Joseph's.

More important, however, is the gradual understanding and assimilation by the students of the principles of Christian co-operation.

St. Michael's College Music and Drama Society

PERHAPS no other organization on St. Michael's campus has received the degree of support and active interest during the past year that students and friends have showered on the Music and Drama Society. The Sunday evening concerts in Brennan Hall, which alternated with those at Hart House, drew larger crowds than ever before as students poured in to hear such outstanding artists as Bela Bozormenyi-Nagy, C.B.C.'s Bernard Johnson, Marguerite Gignac, Monsignor Ronan's Cathedral Choristers—to mention only a few.

The enthusiastic reception afforded the entirely-student production of the Broadway musical, Good News, was a tribute to the native talent and persistent effort of a large number of St. Michael's men and women. After months of hard work that began in the basement-workshop of House 90 and in the Common Room of Brennan Hall, the show arrived in the St. Joseph's high school auditorium, where for three evenings it drew capacity crowds.

In addition St. Michael's contributed several one-act plays to the Hart House schedule, which included The Monkey's Paw and The Killers.

Civil Engineering Club

THE emphasis of the Civil Club's activities this year was on quality rather than quantity, each event being very successful.

The first activity was our entry in the Float Parade for Home Coming Week-end in October. Our entry included several elegant chauffeur-driven convertibles carrying signs which read "Civil Grads Face Life". In each car was an engineer, mug in hand, and two girls. At the same time, excitement was provided by a group of Civils running up and down Yonge Street "surveying" the onlooking girls. Thanks to "D.K." Turner for a good job.

Fourth year Civils visited the Crothers Construction Equipment plant in Leaside at the end of November.

Our big social event of the season was the Civil Dance at the Savarin on January 17th. Among the 300 guests were Prof. and Mrs. Morrison and Prof. and Mrs. Sagar. The feature of this dance was the selection of Marni Holland as Civil Sweetheart who competed for the crown of Skule Sweetheart.

The annual Civil Club dinner was held January 23rd in Hart House. Our guest speaker for this occasion was Mr. Gordon Cosens, a former dean of Forestry. Mr. Cosens showed an interesting series of coloured movies taken on a recent trip to the British Isles and Norway. Mr. Cosens was introduced by Prof. Morrison, Honorary Chairman of the club.

The final club function of the year was the stag on February 21st.

Mining and Metallurgical Club

DURING the year 1951, the Mining and Metallurgy Club held many functions and upheld many traditions. The various club activities included a talk on Steep Rock Ore Deposits, by Mr. W. Samuel, and another on the Future for Graduate Students, given at the dinner sponsored at Hart House by the Toronto Branch of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy. Another dinner, once more under the sponsorship of the C.I.M.M., was held at the Royal York in honour of the graduating classes.

The annual Donkey Barbecue defended for the seventy-third time its claim to be one of the most rousing activities on the M and M club agenda, while another event, "The Dirty Boogie" was initiated in the hope that it too will become traditional.

Over seventy-five per cent of the Engineering Society Presidents have been members of the M and M Club, and this year was no exception. Representatives from the M and M on the Engineering Society Executive were: John Folinsbee, President; Bruce Mairs, Vice-President; Tom Crandell, Athletic Representative; and Leon LaPrairie, Chairman of the M and M.

Solid contribution was made by the M and M members to all inter-faculty sports, to the Chariot Race, the L.G.M.B., the Float Parade, and to Skule Nite, produced by Bob Oxlund.

Field trips included one to the Toronto Subway for the Miners, to Bethlehem Steel in Buffalo for Metallurgists, and to the Chatham oil fields and the Caledonia gypsum mines for the Geologists.

Mechanical Club

THE Mechanical Club wishes once more to rouse Campus-interest by reviewing its programme of the past school term.

Besides the regular dinner meetings and Smoker, the club members help to add colour to such other activities as the Annual Float Parade, the Skule Chariot Race, and the Skule At-Home, as well as the A.V.A. Carnival. As their entry in the Float Parade, the Mechanicals devised and provided for the Western rugby team a hearse and crematorium, which was photographed by the Globe and Mail. In the Chariot Race, the Mechanicals carried off the prize through sheer weight of numbers and speed.

To "Miss Mechanical", our entry in the Sweetheart of Engineering Contest at the Skule At-Home, we extend our thanks and congratulations for so attractively carrying the Mechanicals' banner.

This year, the attendance of the staff at the Smoker helped make the evening a memorable occasion. They set a new precedent for the Mechanicals by once more proving their co-operative and friendly spirit.

Then, of course, the Mechanicals provided a feature attraction at the A.V.A. Carnival. Another event was the presentation of a gift of pictures to be placed in the Student Common Room of the new Mechanical Building. This is the gift of the Class 5T1, Mechanicals, and they hope that each succeeding graduating class will also help to add colour to the room. Always as educational as they are entertaining, the Field Trips were once again an important aspect of our programme.

Engineering Physics Club

SOCIOLOGISTS tell us that no group can exist without a purpose; so the first problem that the Engineering Physics Club had to deal with in the 1950-51 term was the clarification of purpose. At the first executive meeting it was decided that our main efforts should be devoted to supplementing the nine to five lectures and labs with a rounded programme of field trips, speakers and entertainment. To put this idea into practice, three committees were chosen at the first general meeting, one to look after each of the above fields. And it actually worked. As a matter of fact, it was found that the year was too short for all the events planned by the various committees.

The field trip group arranged a visit to the National Research Council in Ottawa for the 3rd and 4th years. All years (plus wives and friends) went underground to admire the TTC subway, and, at the time this summary was written, a trip to the Kodak plant in Mt. Dennis was on schedule. The speakers' committee started the year with a talk by Marcus Long on the European situation. Dean Tupper was the next guest, and he gave an interesting picture of the problems involved in nuclear engineering. Then, after Christmas, Professor Ivey spoke on ultrasonics and their applications, and was presented with a scroll as honorary chairman of the club. During the year, the entertainment committee gave us two dances, one at the Savarin, and another at the Music Box (with the Mining and Metallurgy Club).

The Annual Engineering Physics Club Dinner, on Feb. 19th featured an illustrated lecture by Prof. J. Tuzo Wilson, Geophysicist, on a world tour of his, last year.

We feel that if, in the following years, a full and balanced programme is carried out, then the Club will continue to take its place as an integral part of the four years spent in the "aristocrat of courses"—Engineering Physics.

Industrial Chemical Club

THE year, though not yet over, has been a successful one. Activity began early in October with a general meeting where a guest speaker, with slides, spoke on Boiler Water Conditioning.

Over the week-end of October 28th the IV year members went on a field trip to the Chatham-Wallaceburg-Sarnia district, which by coincidence ended in London on time for the Intercollegiate football game. Saturday night provided entertainment for all, though the least said, the better.

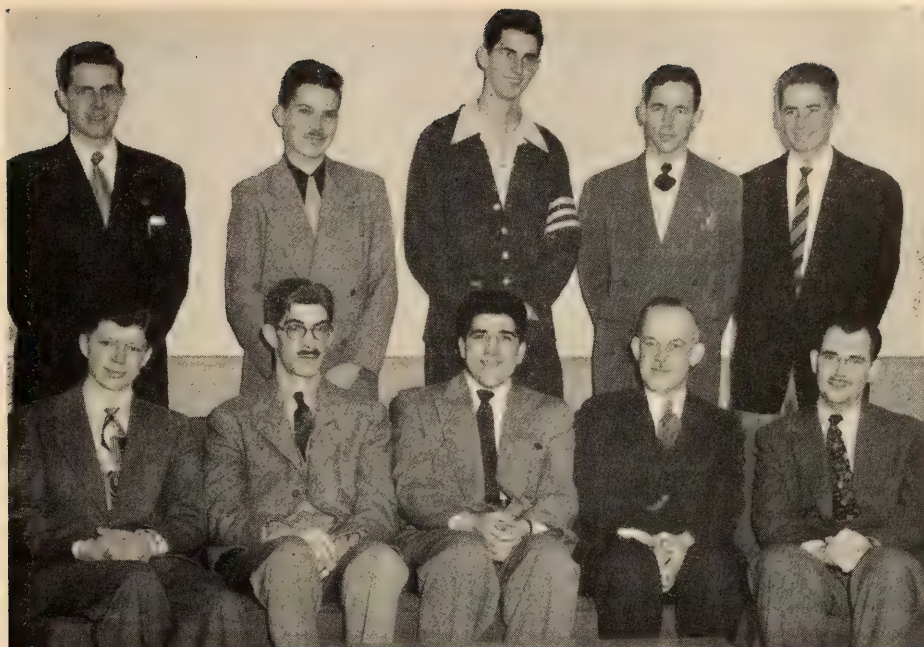

An extremely well attended dinner meeting with Dr. Marcus Long as guest speaker was featured in November. His most amusing and provocative talk held the listeners in rapt attention.

The Artsmen's domain was successfully invaded this year when Chemical Engineering students won two of the three prizes for public speaking at a C.I.C. Students night.

Our club Sweetheart was chosen at a poorly attended, but very successful Hay-Ride (followed by Square Dancing). Though she was edged out as the S.P.S. Sweetheart, she is still tops on our list.

Though the arrangements are not yet complete, future plans include another general meeting, and a club dinner to install next year's Chairman.

Before closing, a word of appreciation to the executive, without whose untiring efforts, the club's agenda would have been impossible.

Electrical Club

ON Homecoming Weekend, our club, under the direction of Andy Frame and a few of the faithful, entered a float in the parade, depicting the Des Joachims dam, complete with beer tumbling over the top. This waste caused many tears.

Later the Electrical Club At-Home, a riotous affair, was held in the Rainbow Room at the Club Top Hat. It made a most favourable impression on all attending.

On Tuesday, November 21st, Mr. A. A. Moline, Chief Engineer of Canadian Westinghouse spoke to the club on Water Wheel Generators. The following weekend saw forty fourth year members journey to Des Joachim's to see these generators. It was a weekend to remember! For those who could not attend, field trips to Canada Wire and Cable and Radio Valve Corp. were arranged within the city. Simultaneously, third year men visited Canadian Westinghouse and Stelco in Hamilton. Later, second year men were to visit the T.T.C. maintenance shops in Toronto.

At another General Meeting in February, Mr. J. T. Thwaites of Canadian Westinghouse gave a talk on Industrial Electronic Control Equipment, in a joint A.I.E.E., I.R.E. meeting. Other field trips to C.G.E. and the Tide Electronics Dept. of Ryerson Institute were arranged for the last term.

Our organization also supported the A.V.A. drive by sponsoring a Bingo at the A.V.A. Carnival.

But we are forgetting! Miss Marilyn Lavis, Sweetheart of the Electricals, was selected Sweetheart of the Engineers at the Skule At-Home.

All in all, the Club enjoyed a successful and eventful year, a clear reflection of the spirit and drive shown by the executive.

George Parker, Chairman; Prof. P. M. Corbett, Hon. Chairman; Miss Joan Musgrave, Secretary-Treasurer; John Fredriksson, Vice-Chairman.

Ceramics Club

DURING the past school year, attempts were made to cement relations between undergraduates and engineers in industry.

This correlation has been accomplished to a large extent by field trips to a number of Ceramic industries during the first term. These trips served a dual purpose, by showing the undergraduates actual plant operations, some practical applications of their university education, along with possible complications which they may encounter after graduation and also the chance to meet and talk with prospective employers.

In the early part of 1951, a social night was held in conjunction with the Canadian Ceramic Society and met with great success. With a small group such as ours, this type of event is of major importance to the undergraduate because of the intimate nature of, and informality attached to the occasion.

Up to a few years ago, Ceramics engineers were, so to speak, a "glut" on the market. With changing conditions and the increase of the Ceramic industry in Canada, the outlook for future engineers is bright. While the attendance at the University is rapidly returning to pre-war level, progress in industry continues and the demand for professional engineers now exceeds the number of graduates.

As the end of the year approaches, it is the sincere wish of the executive that all undergraduates will find their proper niche in the professional world.

Aeronautical Club

LATE elections, a full study schedule, and reduced membership combined to lessen the number of activities of this year's Aeronautical Club. During the first term the club made a field trip to the Steel Company of Canada in Hamilton, which proved interesting to all who attended. The club meeting was addressed by S/L C. L. V. Gervais of the R.C.A.F. who gave a talk on the needs of the Air Force. Other qualified speakers were sought for further meetings and a Club dinner was held on Feb. 21st.

Members of the graduating class will regret the ending of the school year because it will mean the end of a great many close and friendly associations but most members will make more, and we hope, just as friendly associations in their branches of the profession. Some of the graduating members are planning to enter the ranks of R.C.A.F., but most of the class is planning to enter industry. The class is being thrown into the cruel world at a time of world tension but also a time of prosperity. Let us be cautious in our zeal for the prosperity resulting from this tension and forever strive in our own engineering way for a prosperity in which personal planes and not bombing planes will be rolling off the production lines.

Engineering Business Club

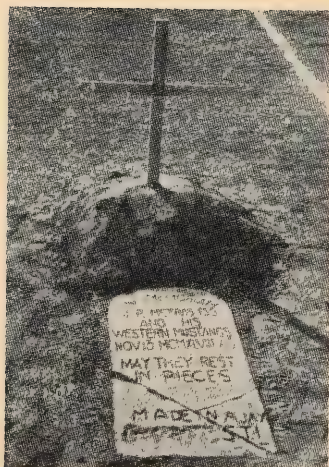

THE aim of the Engineering and Business Club is to offer to its members that certain extra something to their University life that is part of what makes Skule Spirit.

On November 15th, the annual dinner meeting was held in Hart House after which Mr. G. A. Gibson of the National Employment Service discussed what Industry expects of Engineering and Business Graduates.

At the end of the first term and just before the club members returned home to study for their exams, a Christmas dance was held and as an additional feature of the evening, Miss Marilyn Gilbert was chosen as the sweetheart of Engineering and Business,—“the girl we would most like to take home to Mother”.

A group of the members in the class of 5T1 have made a particular name for themselves and the club, in their All Skule and All Varsity endeavours. The Ajax Cannon (later known as the Engineering and Business cannon), the first Ajax Chariot (we wuz mechanized), the “Engineering and Business Automatic Social Situation Prognosticators” Mk I and Mk II—the cybernatic marvels of the age whose profound and sage wisdom is comparable only to that of Delphi, are to mention but a few of the notable enterprises. A closely guarded secret may now be divulged. The original and complete inscription on the base of the now famous “Western Tombstone” reads MADE IN AJAX, ENG. BUS. 5T1.

May Engineering and Business continue to advance and make a name for itself in Industry and Skule.

Debates Club

THE PURPOSE of a Debates Club is twofold. Primarily, it attempts to promote the art of debating in particular and public speaking in general. A secondary objective is to promote interest in topical questions of the day.

In departure from previous policy, this year a series of noon-hour debates was implemented. The results of this left no doubt that the Faculty interest in debating was widespread and needed only a convenient time to assert itself. The increase in interest has had the gratifying consequence of a much increased attendance rate.

The topics debated have been Monogamy, the news policy of the Varsity, the effectiveness of Engineering associations in holding wage minimums, compulsory military training and the seating of Red China in the U.N. In the offing is a U.T.D.U. sponsored debate with St. Joseph's College on whether or not Franco Spain should be admitted to the United Nations.

In the interests of public speaking, the Club sponsored a series of three lectures on public speaking, by Professor McMullen, Professor of Public Speaking at Emmanuel College. These excellent lectures were delivered to packed houses, and were an undoubted success.

The coming challenge of the inter-year Sedeworth debates promises to keep interest at a high pitch for the remainder of the Skule year.

THIS year the University of Toronto Drama Committee enjoyed another successful season. The work of correlating the activities of the campus dramatic groups and acting as a liason between them and Hart House Theatre was carried on. Four evenings of One-Act Plays were presented at Hart House Theatre.

These evenings were attended by some 1000 people and provided 120 actors and directors with an opportunity of producing their own shows on Hart House Stage. The calibre of performance was high and the choice of plays exceptionally good. Interesting experiments in the form of a student adaptation, a Grand Guignol thriller, and plays by T. S. Eliot and Christopher Fry were presented.

U.C. Arts Ball

Frances McDonald,
Jan Morton, Queen;
May McNeil

THIS year at the Arts Ball, University College shed its classic coat of armour for a mauve and gold theme depicting gay New Orleans. The many couples arrived to gaze at the bright daffodils and tulips which bedecked the rotunda. West Hall appeared in a French theme with multi-coloured masks on its walls. From under a canopy of scarlet and cream, the melodious music of Boyd Valleau and his orchestra drifted out. East Hall was transformed into New Orleans itself as scenes of the historic city covered the library's walls. Chico Perkins and his South American five, in brightly coloured sombreros and gay sashes, completed the Spanish theme.

As the throngs wound their way to refreshments, they came across a tin pan alley effect in the cloisters, and were amazed to discover the Junior Common Room converted into a dimly lit cabaret.

Miss Ferguson kindly had a coffee party at the Women's Union prior to the dance. This was appreciated by more than two hundred guests as a very pleasant beginning to a wonderful dance.

Just before midnight the drums sounded and three lovely contestants for the Queen of the Arts Ball were brought to the stage. A masked figure quietly slipped onto the stage and it was discovered that here was the King of the Ball, who would cast the final vote in choosing the queen. St. Mikes and Vic as well as U.C. were represented by the finalists and after a sample of the very talented young ladies' art, the King chose the lovely lady from University College—Miss Jan Morton.

The climax of the evening came at the stroke of midnight when hats and noise makers appeared from nowhere, balloons dropped from the ceiling and the King unmasked himself so that everyone could enter in the spirit of the festive Mardi Gras.

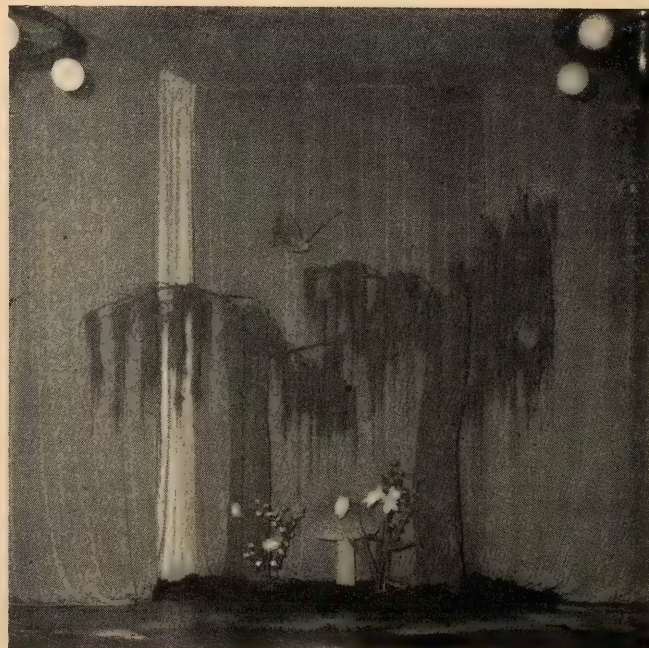

Thanks to every member of the W.U.A. and Lit., this year's Arts Ball was without a doubt the greatest success yet. Special thanks are due to Professor Bagnani, our King; to Patty Scott who designed the decorations; to Pat Watson who planned the entertainment; and to our two social directors—Barbara Davidson and Bill Freedman.

Carnival, Held
In Hart House

Fantasy

All Varsity Aid, a project of the University of Toronto to aid students in two East Asian Universities, one in India and one in Pakistan, raised nearly $10,000 during the year. The carnival, held in Hart House in January was one of the many activities which swelled the fund.

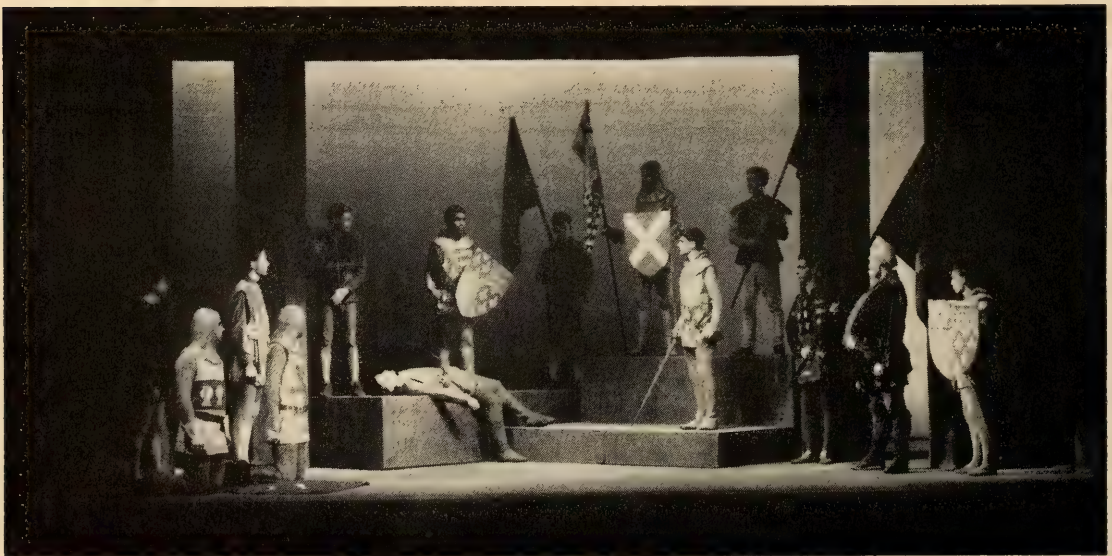

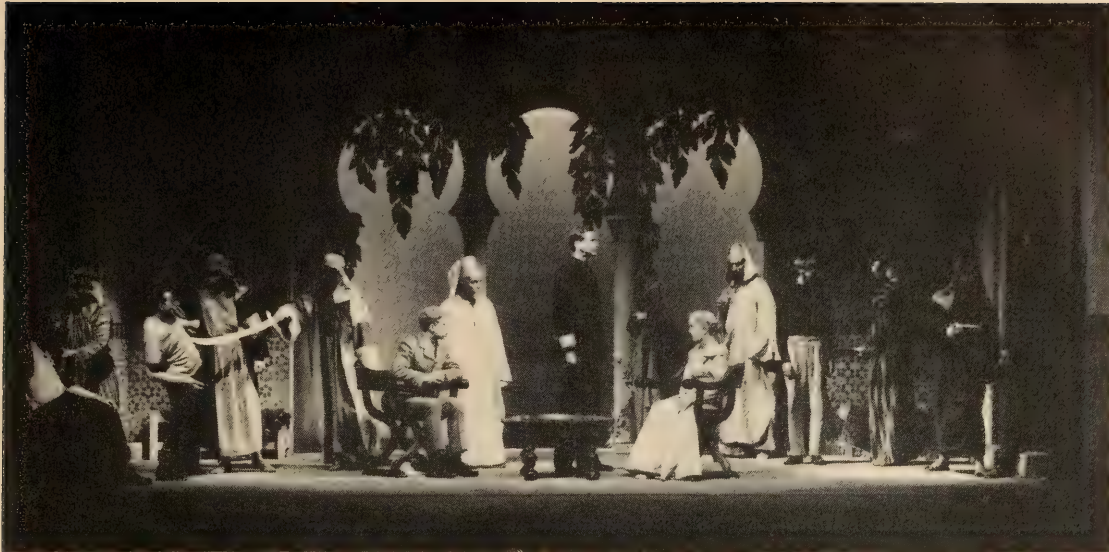

MARCO MILLIONS

Hart House Theatre

EACH season Hart House Theatre presents a series of four productions with casts chosen from all the colleges and faculties on the campus. The October production was Eugene O'Neill's Marco Millions. In November the presentation was the adaptation by Robinson Jeffers of the great tragedy of Euripides, Medea. The third production, in January, was Captain Brassbound's Conversion, a comedy by George Bernard Shaw. The annual Shakespearean production in February was the famous history, Henry IV Part I.

HENRY IV, PART I

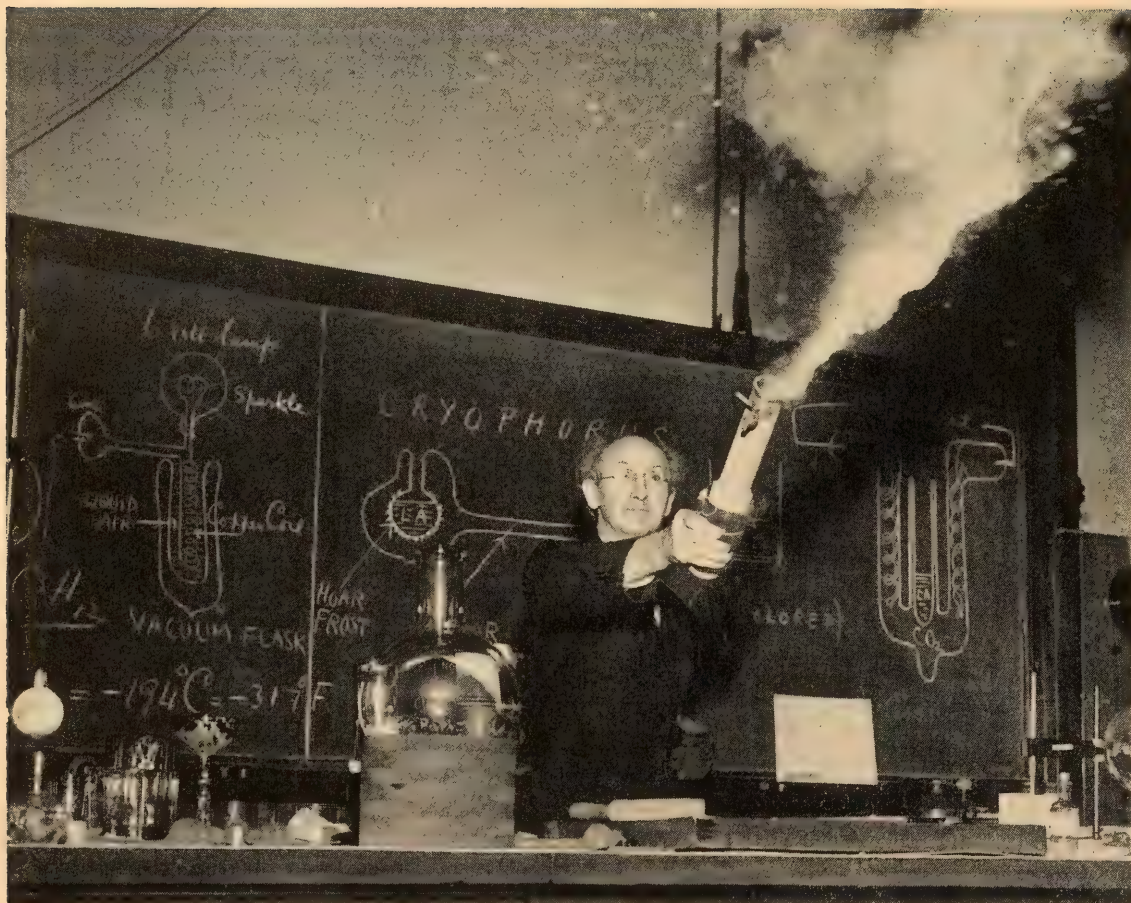

CAPTAIN BRASSBOUND'S CONVERSION

Each production ran for seven performances and over one hundred and twenty students took part under the direction of Theatre Director Robert Gill. Hart House Theatre has proved itself a most valuable part of the life of the University. Besides giving students an opportunity to act and take part in the technical operations of stage production, it is also providing an opportunity for the undergraduates of the University and the Toronto public to see plays of high quality and interest.

During the University term the theatre is in constant use. In addition to the Hart House Theatre series, productions of various kinds are presented by seventeen producing groups on the campus.

Prof. Satterly gives each year a series of lectures on liquid air. Always jammed to capacity, they have become an institution on the campus.

Johnny Copp Memorial Trophy

JOHNNY EVANS, third year medical student, playing his third season for the Varsity Senior Blues Football team, received the year's most important football honour when his team mates voted unanimously that big John, 1950 field Captain of the Blues, be awarded the John Copp Memorial Trophy. The Johnny Copp Trophy was inaugurated in 1933 in memory and honour of John Charles Copp, an outstanding athlete and student at the University of Toronto, who met a tragic death in 1933. This Trophy is voted yearly to the member of the Senior Football Team who is judged by his team mates to be most worthy.

The win this year was a particularly popular one as John Evans is one of the University's outstanding all-round students. Graduating from U.T.S. in 1946, he entered the Faculty of Medicine where he has been a brilliant student. Last year he finished third in his year. He has also travelled extensively in Europe and is a mountain climber of note, having scaled some of the world's better-known peaks with the Wilkinson brothers Doug and Bill.

In University athletics, John has taken a keen interest in all phases of sports, and has been a valued member of the Athletic Directorate for the past two years. This honour could not have been bestowed on a better man.

Senior Intercollegiate Football

THIS year's edition of the Blues was a team which went from the depths to reach comparative heights.

Head-Coach Masterson had a nucleus of a few dependable veterans around which he hoped to build a contender for the College crown. However, almost the whole nucleus was lost to the team through injury or medical reasons before the schedule actually started. Such stalwart grid-ders as Gray, Stevenson, Roberts and Mustard were sidelined before the opening game at Queen's, while Richardson, Wigle, Dancy, Bazos, Harris, MacKenzie and Al Brown were lost to the team after the regular schedule began.

As may be expected, such a casualty list resulted in a rather disappointing season for the Blues in their new Stadium. However, they did manage to overcome Queen's in both games against the Tricolor, and the team rose to terrific heights under appalling conditions in Montreal to tie the formidable Redmen in their own tepee. The latter contest will probably remain eternally in the memories of all those who were present.

There were certain rays of light shining through the gloom of the season, however. Coaches Masterson and Mitchell will have most of the boys for a year or two, and experience combined with their fine spirit will make the Blues serious threats for the Yates Cup in the next few years.

The all-star squads this year were dominated by Mustangs and Redmen, but the Blues managed to place freshman halfback Bill Bewley and veteran middle John Evans on the second team.

The Blues set a precedent this year by electing Jack Gray and Fraser Mustard as co-captains. Both these boys were unable to play in league games, and it is a tribute to them that their mates should see fit to make such a choice.

Intermediate Intercollegiate Football

THE Intermediate Football team of 1951 was, to say the least, a great success. When the season was over the "Little Blues" were in second place in the league standing, second only to a very powerful McMaster squad, who incidentally, are now seeking admittance into the senior league.

Coaches John Kennedy and Norm West are to be congratulated in training and inspiring their boys to splendid team play, when their ranks were being constantly depleted by 'raids' from the Senior team.

Bill Davis of U.C. played outstanding ball all season and will be sorely missed next year as he is graduating. Freshmen John Adams and Bill MacFarlane were especially bright stars and will be sure starters for the Seniors next year.

Senior Intercollegiate Hockey

IT TOOK Coach Wally Halder two years to win the Queen's Cup, a feat he never accomplished as a University of Toronto player. Paced by Captain Rich Howson, who won the league scoring championship, and his two wingmates, Ernie Frey and Phil Arowsmith, who finished second and third, the Varsity Senior Blues racked up an impressive five wins and one loss record in restoring the Queen's Cup to Hart House Trophy case after an absence of two years.

Prospects for 1951-52 look bright, although graduation will take Howson and MacDougal from the starting team, thus leaving a gaping hole in the front line and in the defense.

Intermediate Intercollegiate Hockey

BY VIRTUE of a 3-1 victory record in league competition the Intermediate Hockey team, for the seventh consecutive year, won the Shaw Trophy, presented annually to the team finishing first in the league.

Because McMaster University withdrew from Intercollegiate competition this year, league play was confined to a home and home series between each team. Varsity supplemented its schedule by playing four exhibition games in the United States against Clinton, St. Lawrence University and Clarkson College.

Due to the loss of Dave Kent and Al Conboy to the Seniors, mid-way in the season, Coach Bill Wade was forced to shuffle the line-up considerably. However, he found a winning combination as the championship will testify.

Senior Intercollegiate Basketball

THE University of Toronto Senior basketball team, under Coach Bob Masterson, ended one of the longest seasons in history showing greatly improved form over last year.

A youthful team, boasting only two veterans on the roster—team Captain Eddie Brennan and Jack Gray—carried through a gruelling twenty-five game schedule competing against some of the top flight U.S. teams—to earn ten wins.

In Canadian Senior Intercollegiate play, the Blues emerged a strong second to Western Mustangs, who retained the title for the sixth consecutive year.

Highlights of the Senior Blues season were—the great improvement of the younger members of the Club—the fourteen points per game average attained by towering 6ft. 7in. Bud Natanson—the amassing of a total of 1338 points by the team for a 59 points per game average.

With most of the promising younger members of the team back again next season, the Blues should have an excellent chance to recapture the title and the Wilson Cup, emblematic of senior Intercollegiate basketball supremacy.

Intermediate Intercollegiate Basketball

THE Varsity Intermediate team, ably coached by Dalt White, was undefeated in Senior "A" competition, thus bringing the coveted Baker Cup back to Toronto for the first time in years. Exhibition games took the team to our good neighbours at Niagara University and University of Buffalo, with a return game with Buffalo at Mutual Street Arena, Varsity's new home for basketball.

Next season's team will miss the services of such outstanding players as John Braithwaite, Tony Adams, Bill Henderson and John MacKenzie, who are graduating.

Toronto also entered a team in the Toronto and District Senior Basketball League. It was a composite team made up of both senior and intermediate Blues and finished in third place, behind Tri-Bells and Central "Y" Beavers, with a record of eight victories and five defeats.

Intercollegiate Track

DESPITE capturing seven individual event championships, the Senior team lost the Intercollegiate meet to McGill for the first time since the war. Triple event winner Bill Farlinger (Vic IV) was awarded the new Hec Phillips Memorial Trophy for the outstanding performance of the day. Other event champions were Tulving, Henderson, Tilson and Gaziuk.

The Intermediate team swept the Intercollegiate meet at Guelph, placing first in eleven events and massing a total of 93 points against 65 for O.A.C., the only other major contender. George McMullen, Danny Glick and Dave Black scored double victories while Ian McDonald and Earl Fee captured individual championships.

Indoor Track

THE sensational running of Murray Gaziuk has given the Varsity Indoor track programme great impetus this year. In Intramural competition Gaziuk smashed existing records in the 600, 880 and 1000 yards and the mile events. The mile time of 4.19.4 is unofficially Canada's indoor record.

Varsity sponsored a relay team of Tilson, Wortman, Kofmel and Gaziuk in a trip to Michigan State College. The team managed to place fifth in a world record medley distance relay, against top American competition.

Gaziuk was also sent to the National A.A.U. meet in New York but failed to qualify in this fast company.

Intercollegiate Harrier

VARSITY made a clean sweep of both Intercollegiate Harrier events this year. The Senior team, paced by Herb Tilson came in with a decisive, low score, leading O.A.C., McGill, Queen's, R.M.C. and McMaster. The Intermediate team, running the rugged O.A.C. course easily defeated both Western and O.A.C. Veteran Ted Gawinski led the pack of Toronto men over the fences and hazards of the gruelling course.

In International Intercollegiate competition the Varsity team made its best showing at a tri-meet with Buffalo State and Niagara University. Tilson clipped twenty-six seconds off the Niagara course record with Webster and Wortman forcing him, both of whom also broke the course record. On their home course in High Park the Harrier men were edged by Wayne by one point and Alfred by ten, but easily defeated the University of Buffalo 19-42.

Intercollegiate Soccer

ONCE again both the Senior and Intermediate Soccer teams won their respective Intercollegiate champion titles. For the Seniors, it was their 12th consecutive title. With a record of one loss at the hands of O.A.C., and the remainder wins, the team proved themselves far superior to their competitors, winning by very lop-sided scores. Along with their regular schedule they also played exhibition games with McGill and the Royal Military College at Kingston.

Although the Intermediates lost one to O.A.C. and tied one with McMaster they also regained their title by very decisive scores and from the looks of the team there will be some very promising material for the Senior Blues next year.

Each and every player on both teams deserves mention but much of the credit for their success should be directed at playing-coach Brian Barton. Brian has been playing with the Blues since 1947 and coaching the team since 1948. We regret that he is leaving this year and so we say "hats off to our star and playing-coach."

Intercollegiate Wrestling

THE Varsity Wrestling club of seventy-five men did not win the Senior Intercollegiate Championship this year but did turn out a fine season's record. Four out of eight championships were captured in the City Novice tournament, Rochester Tech was downed 23-13, Western defeated 18-16, and O.A.C. upset 21-15, the only loss being to Buffalo 18-17.

McGill took the top honours at the Intercollegiate tournament with 18 points while O.A.C. scored 13, Toronto 12, Western 7 and Queen's 2.

Bill Dingwall, 191 lb. Senior Intercollegiate champion, produced an undefeated record this year while Peter Hopkins came through for the Senior honours in the 165 lb. class.

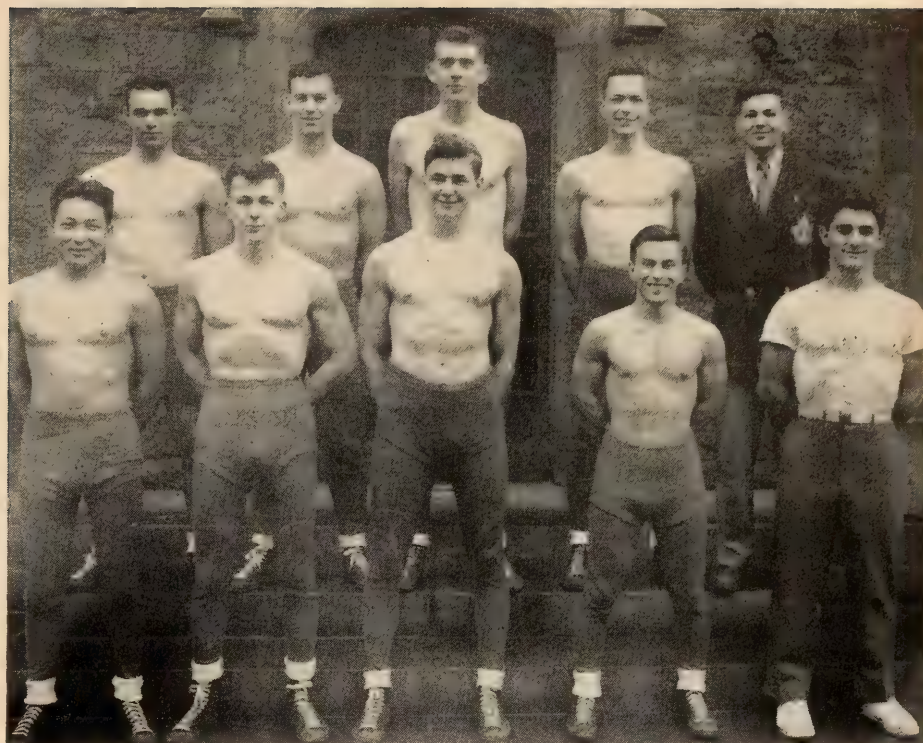

The Intermediate squad proved to be exceptionally powerful as they won 6 out of 8 matches and accumulated 36 points to O.A.C.'s 13 and Western's 4. Winners were Ernie Shipton, 125 lbs., W. Pitman, 136, G. McCormick, 165, Bill Chykaliuk 175, Larry Skitch 190 and E. Dryden, Heavyweight.

Intercollegiate Water Polo

THE Varsity Blues Water Polo "machine" again won the Intercollegiate championship. A home and home series was played with McGill, Varsity winning both games by scores of 7-4 and 9-0. Leading Blues scorers were Norm Mortimer with 4 goals in each game and Larry Rosen with a total of 3 goals.

Varsity also entered Senior and Junior teams in the Ontario Water Polo League. The seniors lost to Hamilton while the Juniors, after a brilliant early-season winning streak, lost out to West End Y.M.C.A.

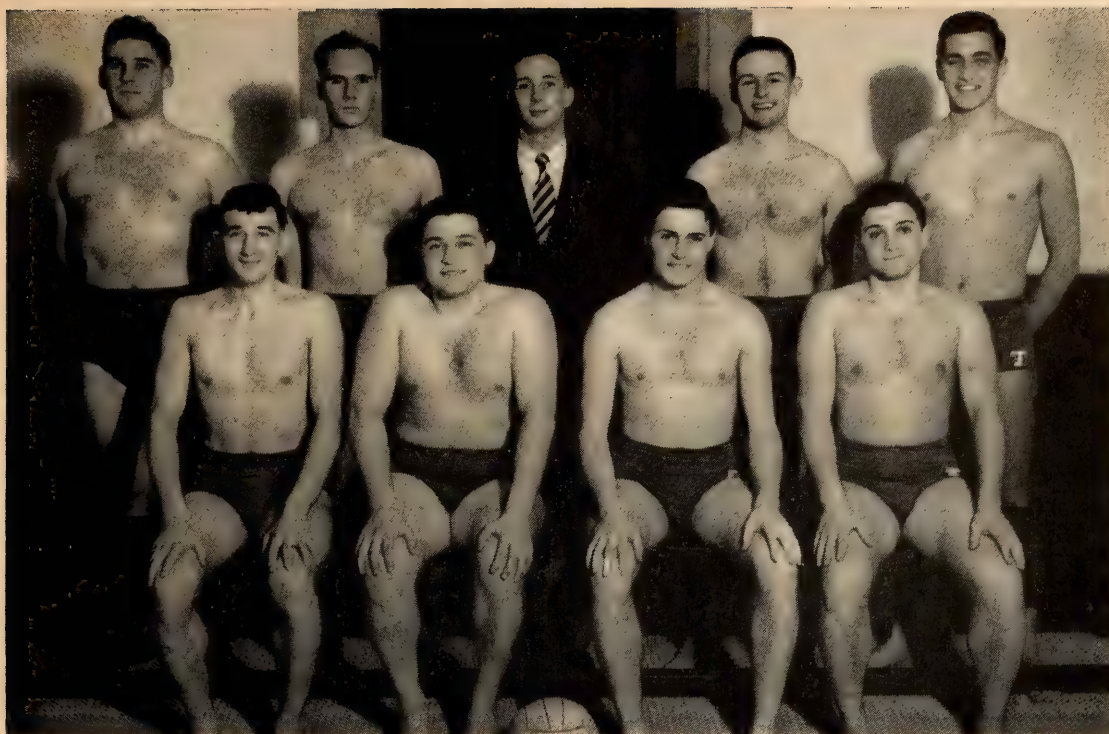

Intercollegiate Swimming

THE Senior team splashed through a very busy season this year. Trips were made to Rochester, Syracuse, Niagara and Detroit as well as the Intercollegiate Championships held in Western's new pool.

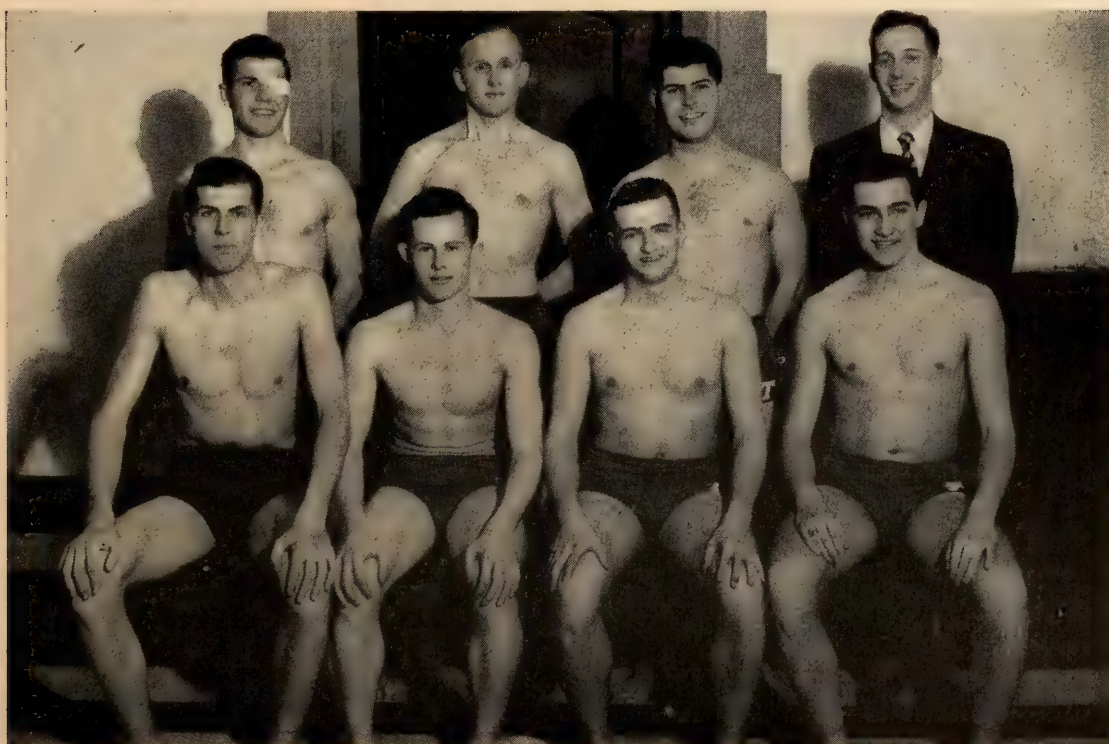

Outstanding at London were Doug Gibson, who broke the 100, 220 and 440 yard records and Ross Wortley who won the Diving. However, the team championship again went to McGill.

The Intermediate team won the championship in a close meet against Western, O.A.C. and R.M.C. Bernie Langer set a new 100 yd. back stroke record and together with Tracy Lloyd and A. Hodgins set a new 300 yd. medley relay record.

Intercollegiate Fencing

THE Senior Fencing team had a busy season, being visited by Wayne University, Buffalo University and Detroit University. The team was plagued by the 'flu and pulled muscles at critical times to lose an important tournament to McGill for the Senior Intercollegiate title. Mark Kellow, an important man of the team, is graduating but John Roberts and Ken Soga of last year's team hope to be able to compete next year, having been ineligible this year.

The Intermediate team succeeded in taking the Intermediate title against McMaster and O.A.C.

Intercollegiate Gymnastics

McGILL again won the Senior Gymnastic Meet, held at Montreal on February 17th. Frank Grmek and Mike Dignam of Toronto placed first and third respectively with Welsford of McGill placing second.

Intercollegiate Badminton

FOR the first time since before the war an Intercollegiate Badminton Tournament has been held in the men's division.

In the South-Western Ontario Tournament, Varsity easily defeated competitors from Western, O.A.C., McMaster and Waterloo College, while in the Ottawa-St. Lawrence Conference McGill won the tournament against Queen's.

On February 24th, McGill and Toronto met in Montreal for the play-offs, McGill winning the tournament 5-2. The U. of T. team managed only 2 wins, Masih and Hamilton beating the No. 2 McGill doubles team of Hargreaves and Suart while Davey and Muisiner of Toronto repeated in their match with the McGill second-stringers.

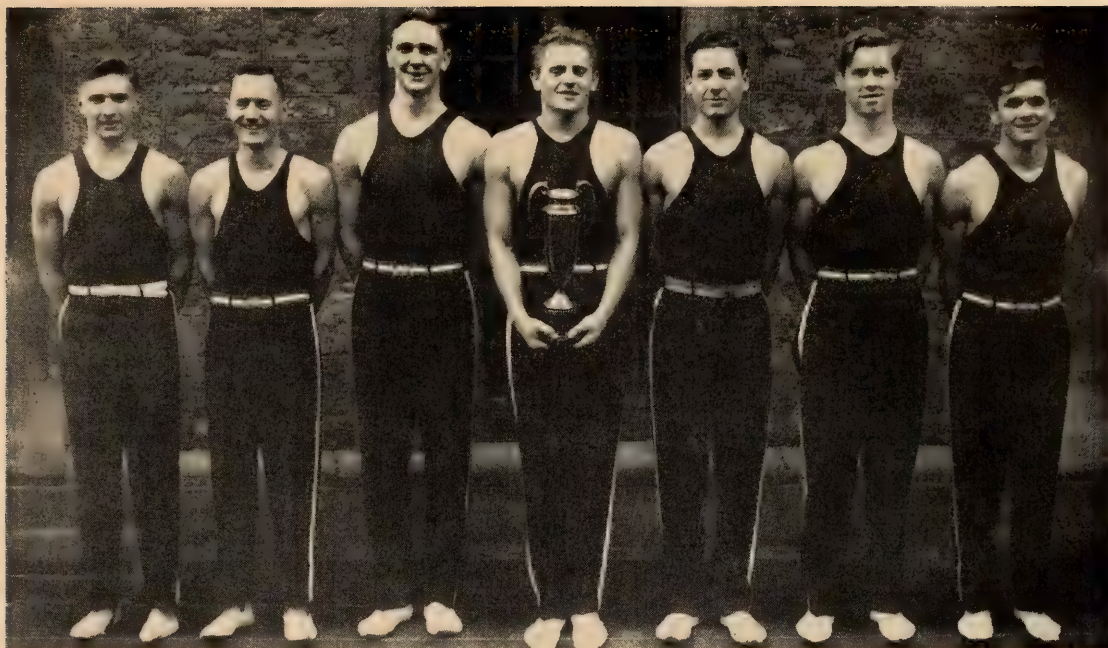

Intercollegiate Boxing

THE season of 1950-51 was a disappointing one for the Senior Boxing team. With many old faces back from the previous championship team it looked like a repeat performance again this year.

In an exhibition meet with O.A.C. the Blue boxers won four bouts and lost 2.

Before the train left for Montreal and the Senior Intercollegiate meet, Frank Corner (140 lbs.) and Roy Patrick (165 lbs.) came down with influenza and were unable to go. Mike Wright very capably did a relief job for Corner but the team lacked a competitor for the 165 lb. class. At Montreal, Nick Betz, Norm Green and Howard Greenly drew byes into the finals and Glynn Williams won his preliminary bout but lost in the finals. Nick Betz and Norm Green lost by very close decisions in two of the best bouts of the evening. The lone bright spot came when Howard Greenly defeated the Queen's opponent by a T.K.O. in the third round, to win the 175 lb. championship.

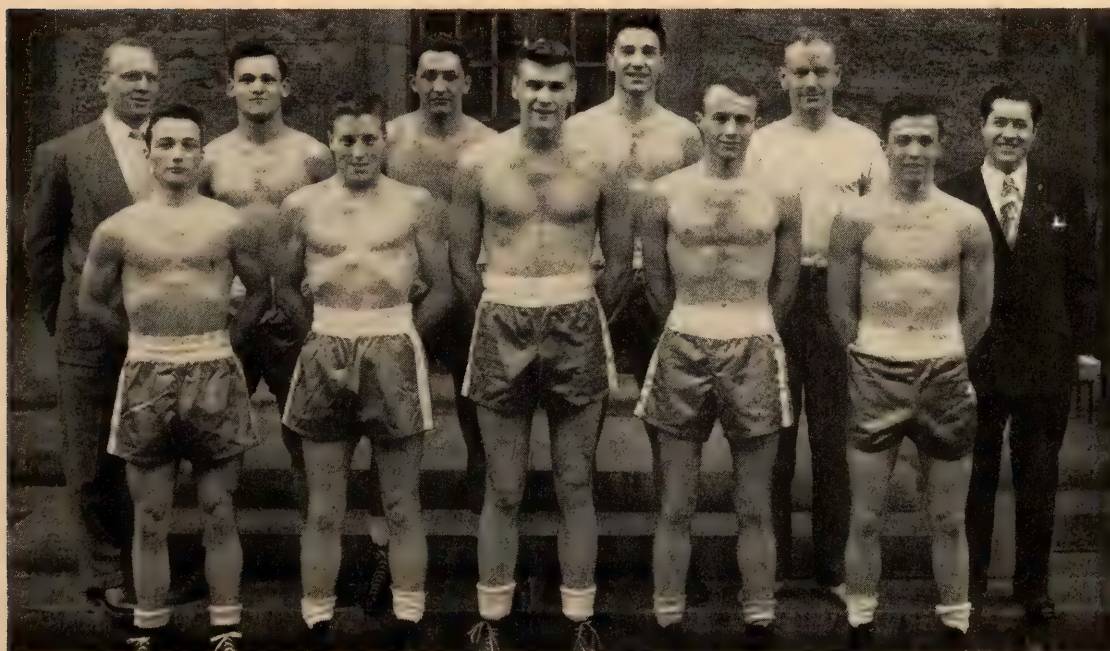

This year Norm Green was awarded the Massey Trophy for the "worthiest boxer on the Senior team" and Howard Greenly won the Zieler Trophy for the "most improved boxer on the senior team."

Intercollegiate Golf

THE University of Toronto Senior Golf team took second place honours at the Senior Intercollegiate Meet at Kingston this year. H. Watson and J. Watson placed fifth and second in the meet, being led by entries from McGill and U. of Montreal.

At the Intermediate Meet in London, U. of T. golfers led the field, J. C. Pavanel placing first with 78 strokes. Western and O.A.C. placed second and third in the meet.

Intercollegiate Rugger

THIS year saw the revival of the Rugger League in Ontario. Varsity's team gave a good account of itself by placing third in a very strong league.

Toby Day, playing coach, did an excellent job in training young players, and his efforts will bear fruit next year when the team has an opportunity of playing in more matches. Don Anderson acted as captain with Shaw Cameron as Vice-Captain.

In the Intercollegiate home and home series, Varsity lost both games to McGill. Varsity potentially had a strong team, but many of the best players were not able to turn out. In the first game Toronto got away to an early lead but was unable to match McGill's strength in the second half, the final score being 13-3. The second match played in Montreal was much closer, but still McGill showed too much power, winning 6-5.

Intercollegiate Tennis

THE Senior Intercollegiate Tennis Trophy was won this year by the University of Montreal, who also won the Singles and Doubles Championships of the meet. Len Turner of the University of Toronto won all his matches, only to be beaten in the final match by Bedard of the U. of M.

The Intermediate team acquitted themselves admirably in winning the Intermediate Intercollegiate championship held in Toronto. J. Coles of Toronto was Singles Champion; while Coles and Richard Arnold won the Doubles.

Intercollegiate Squash

THE Intercollegiate Squash Tournament, held at the Carlton Club, Toronto, on February 10th, was won by McGill with 9 points, Toronto 6, Western 0. McGill's greater tournament experience stood them in good stead and the Western team, who have only had courts for six months, put on a very creditable showing. Hanley Quain of McGill won the individual championship. Ed Roth was the only Varsity player to win all his matches from McGill.

For the Blues, Ian Roger was third in the downhill, fourteenth in the slalom and fifth in the downhill and slalom combined. Berg-Johannssen crossed the finish line in fifth place in the cross-country with Odd Michaelsen getting a fourth in the jumping and a sixth in the cross-country and jumping combined.

Intramural Athletics

EARLY in the fall the 194 stalwarts from the Faculty of Forestry assumed the role of giant-killers. On a snow covered back campus (post Grey Cup and without benefit of tarpaulin) they climaxed an exciting football season by an impressive display against Trinity College to win the coveted Mulock Cup for the first time in the history of the Faculty.

Encouraged by their early season success, Forestry, with the guidance of Bill Dowsett, Athletic President, completed their most successful athletic year by winning the T. A. Reed Trophy for the Intramural All Year High Point Championship. The race was close and was not decided until the completion of the last scheduled event of the year, the Squash Racquets tournament. Forestry earned an impressive total of 11,857 points to gain a most popular and well-deserved win. University College, only 112 points behind the winners, were in second place and the Faculty of Applied Science finished third.

Once again the intramural athletic programme offered activities sufficiently diversified to appeal to the interests of the student body. Almost 3500 (including those in two or more sports) participated in football, soccer, lacrosse, volleyball, hockey, water polo and basketball, representing almost 300 teams and playing close to 1,000 games. Basketball, with 127 teams and 1300 players was the most popular sport. In addition to the team sports over 1,000 students registered in the 40 tournaments and meets conducted in such sports as boxing, wrestling, track, swimming, tennis and golf.

The Intramural Sports Committee, under the chairmanship of Phil Rosen of Meds and the vice-chairmanship of Bev Johnston of Emmanuel, once again efficiently looked after the multitudinous details concerned with the administration of the programme. The University of Toronto Athletic Association appreciates their willing co-operation and services, as well as that of college and faculty Athletic Boards and the hundreds of managers and officials, all of whom have played their part in making the programme possible.

University College Athletic Board

U.C. teams did well during the 1950-51 season. They won the outdoor track and field championship and the football team was much better than their won-lost record showed.

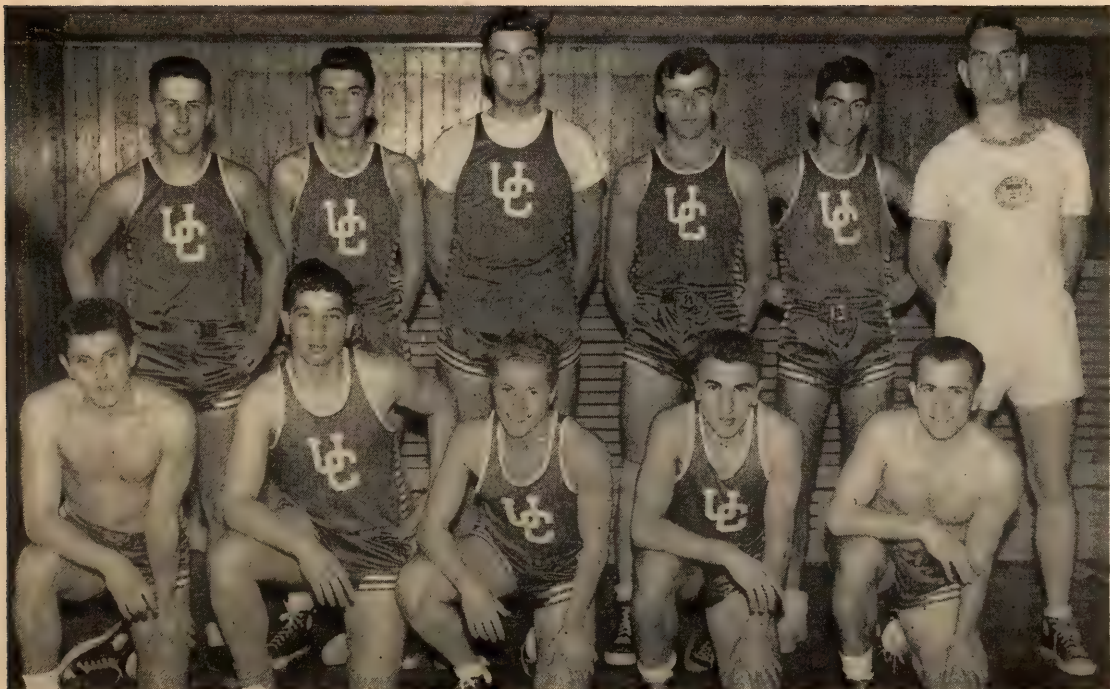

U.C. again won the tennis championship but the soccer team did not do as well as in former years. So far this year U.C. major league basketball teams are winning more than their share of games and are expected to do even better when play-off time rolls around. As this is written, U.C. is leading in the indoor track competition and is almost certain to win.

U.C. at the moment is standing second in the Reed Trophy race.

All this success in the athletic department is due to the co-ordinated efforts of the U.C. Athletic Board under the supervision of Athletic Director Bill Davis.

Victoria College Athletic Union

WITH the coveted Reed Trophy still eluding Vic's grasp, the athletic season closed on a record of many participants but not so many games won. Over-complacency on many of the Senior teams, and lots of team spirit and "old college try" on the minor teams resulted in a startling reversal of form which was borne out when more minor than major teams reached semi-final positions.

The biggest feather in Vic's cap was the grand-slam rung up by Vic championship Harrier Teams. In performing this "first" in intramural history, Vic won the Freshman, Junior, and Senior Harrier Championships, and also placed several men on the Varsity teams. The Track Team did not fare so well, but a Vic man carried off the Cody Trophy and the first awarding of the Hec Phillips Memorial Trophy. Several Vic boxers and wrestlers won their interfaculty weights and went on to Varsity teams. Vic had contenders in the Tennis Tournaments, while the Swimmers and Water Poloists, under able and energetic guidance, also had a good year.

In the team sports, the Senior Lacrosse team carried Vic colors the farthest, being eliminated only in the finals by a much heavier Meds team. The Rugby Team, with all its potential power, had an off-day bad enough to eliminate them in the semi-finals. In Hockey and Basketball, the lesser teams outshone the regulars, with the Hockey III's and Basketball IV's both getting as far as the semi-finals.

The VCAU would like to extend its thanks to the student managers and coaches for their co-operation, and to the participants for their efforts and time expended. And let's not forget Vic athletics now that we're leaving: see you at the Mulock Cup Final next year!!!

Trinity College Athletic Association

THE big athletic events of the Trinity year came towards the end of the Michaelmas term, when both the football and soccer teams reached the interfaculty finals. After two bad years and fourteen consecutive defeats, the football squad came to life and won six straight, upsetting the big Vic team 20-15 in the semi-final, and then facing Forestry in the Mulock Cup game. That game was a heartbreaker. Leading 9-1 in the third quarter, the team saw its defensive line cave in under the pressure of the grand Forestry squad. When it was all over Forestry had won the Mulock 24-14; the lumberjacks won it from a team which kept on trying till the last minute.

The soccer "A" team had won the Arts Faculty Cup in '48 and '49, and wanted to make it three straight. During most of the season it looked as if this would happen, for the team headed the first group, won the first playoff from Junior Vic 9-0, and downed St. Mike's 5-0 in the semi-final. Then the "A's" ran into some injuries, a bad day, and a first-class Senior Skule outfit, which gained a well-deserved 3-1 victory and the Cup.

Those were the highlights of a good season for Trinity sport. Other teams did really well—Lacrosse "A" and Hockey "C" in particular—and there were many Trinity players on the various intercollegiate teams. Trinity ended up near the top of the T. A. Reed race, and a great deal of the credit is due to the T.C.A.A.'s energetic President Rod Whitehead, and to Manager of Athletics Tom Lawson.

St. Michael's College Athletic Association

FOOTBALL, lacrosse, basketball, hockey—these and a variety of other sports were offered the St. Michael's men during the past year. In every case they accepted the challenge and fought the good fight.

The football team, coached by Messrs. Bauer and Higgins C.S.B., evidenced its high quality despite the fact inexperience kept it from a championship. Never to be forgotten is that St. Mike's-Skule game that we somehow lost 6-0 even though we made 21 first downs and the Engineers never made one.

In basketball, hockey, and track St. Michael's fielded strong entries. The basketball aggregation this year was one of the finest in the history of the College. Always to be remembered is that S.M.C.-Forestry game in which we trounced them 41-0—a record in intra-mural history if not in that of Canadian basketball also.

In University athletics St. Michael's was well represented on Varsity football, basketball, and track squads.

Engineering Athletic Association

S. P.S.'s efforts to regain the T.A. Reed Trophy which has been won many times by the representatives of the Old Red Skule House, were rewarded by a third place in this year's race. Sr. Interfaculty Championships in Hockey, Soccer, Volleyball and Golf helped to boost Skule's total points.

This year's number of teams was an increase of six over the previous year's sixty-odd teams. It is hoped that in the future more teams can be entered.

This year, the executive has made many progressive steps in the organization of the athletic programme. The most outstanding of these is the revision of the Association's constitution.

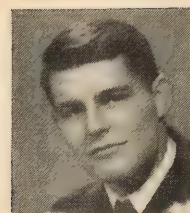

A second annual Athletic Dance was held in place of the former Athletic Banquet, succeeding the banquet as an occasion for the presentation of athletic awards. The success of this year's dance, held at the Embassy Hotel, has added to its growing popularity.

Medical Athletic Association

MEDS started off the fall season right by winning the Dafoe Cup, emblematic of Lacrosse supremacy, for the fourth consecutive year. Axe Haliburton led the undefeated Medsmen, scoring 70 goals over the 12-game season.

The Senior Meds Soccer team made an improved showing this year, and much of the credit goes to Don Barr. Hockey and football teams showed keen interest and enthusiastic participation; however, neither football team gained the playoffs and the Pre Meds A hockey team was eliminated in the first round. Unfortunately, Meds II year volleyball team lost out to Senior S.P.S. in their attempt for a third successive championship.

In the aqua sports, Meds won the Senior Interfaculty Swimming championship and the water polo title. Important in these successes were the Rosen brothers, the MacKenzie brothers, W. Trusler, and D. Smith. Larry Rosen won the Winston McCatty Trophy for the Senior Interfaculty 200 yard breast stroke championship.

The Meds squash team led by Chuck Palmer finished in a tie for the Intramural Championship.

At the Annual Athletic Banquet, the medical athletic stick, presented annually to the student in the graduating year who has contributed most to medical athletics through sportmanship, leadership and participation, was awarded to R. A. "Axe" Haliburton. He was largely instrumental in bringing Meds four successive Lacrosse championships, besides participating in football, hockey, basketball and water polo, and was also Vice-President of M.A.A. in 1949-50 and President in 1950-51.

Dentistry Athletic Association

DURING the past year there have been many changes in the Dental Athletic set-up. First and foremost the constitution has been changed to a great extent. We now have an assistant Athletic Director who, if he is deemed fit, will assume the duties of Athletic Director, thus providing more continuity of thought and effort.

Colours have been awarded on a points basis rather than consecutive years of participation as formerly. We have instituted a new award, a Bronze Key, to take the place of the old Bronze D. The felt D is still the junior award of the faculty Athletic Association.

In addition to the constitutional changes, we have set up a card-index system to keep a record of all points and awards. The athletic equipment is now numbered and catalogued, and quartermaster's shelves and racks have been set up, thus making it easier to keep the equipment clean and in repair.

To the athletes in the Graduating Class, we extend our heartfelt thanks and wish them clear sailing in the future. To the undergraduates, we wish all success and extend to them the challenge to uphold the standards of sportsmanship.

In closing, we must thank all those boys who gave up their time and energy. To Noble Hori, the Assistant Director, to all Team managers and coaches, to George Capel, and to all those who helped us with transportation, we express our sincere thanks.

Women's Athletics

THE women's athletic year of 1950-51 has been marked by keen competition in intramural sport.

Of the twelve teams in the softball series, P.H.E. finally emerged with the title, though hard pushed by Meds. and St. Mike's. The intramural tennis championship was won by Sheila West of Nursing, with Joan Mulveney, U.C. I, as runner-up. Victoria easily won the swimming with Peggy Quiggin taking the Ishbel Robertson Cup for the highest individual score.

In October, U.C. held their annual invitation golf tournament which was, to no one's surprise, won by Ann Sharp of P.H.E., following her successes as a member of the Ontario and Canadian Women's teams in the summer. The archery championship was won by Mary Macdonald of P.H.E.

Twenty-four teams lined up for basketball of which four survived to play the finals in Hart House in December. P.H.E. I took the cup from U.C. Sophs, with St. Mike's winning from P.H.E. III in the consolation game.

In the second term, the hockey series was won by the P.H.E. Firsts although Meds. gave them a great battle in the finals. There were twelve teams in the League. University College won the badminton with Marion Greey as the individual champion. The volleyball series with thirteen teams was also hard fought with P.H.E. I again taking the title from St. Hilda's in the final. Recreational bowling and skiing interested a large number of women students but unfortunately skiing again suffered from lack of snow, and no intramural meet could be held.

ABSENT: Irene Hain, Jan Martin, Sally Sarles, Anne Sharpe.

In the intercollegiate competition Toronto achieved a 50% success—three wins and one tie out of seven "possibles." O.A.C. won the archery with Toronto in second place. McGill and Toronto tied in the tennis, with the doubles team of Beverley Downey and Barbara Allmond and second player Joan Mulveney winning all their matches.

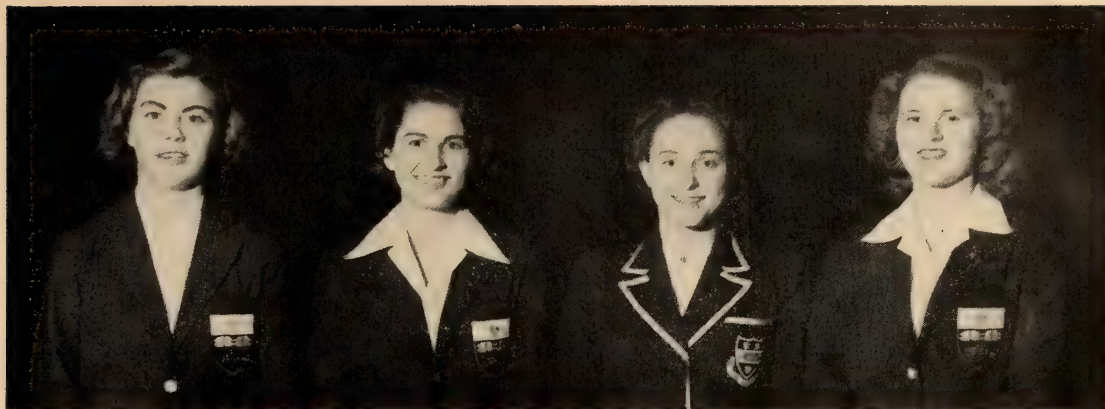

In the swimming McGill edged out Toronto by one point or "a fingernail" as one swimmer put it. The loss of several outstanding swimmers by graduation only served to spur the others on and Miss Winifred Baxter is to be congratulated on her splendid team. The winning of the synchronized duet by Diana Jacob and Louise Willard was a particular triumph.

INTERCOLLEGIATE SWIMMING TEAM

SECOND ROW: Frickie Wood, Phyllis Manning, Sheila Lennox, Peggy Quiggin.

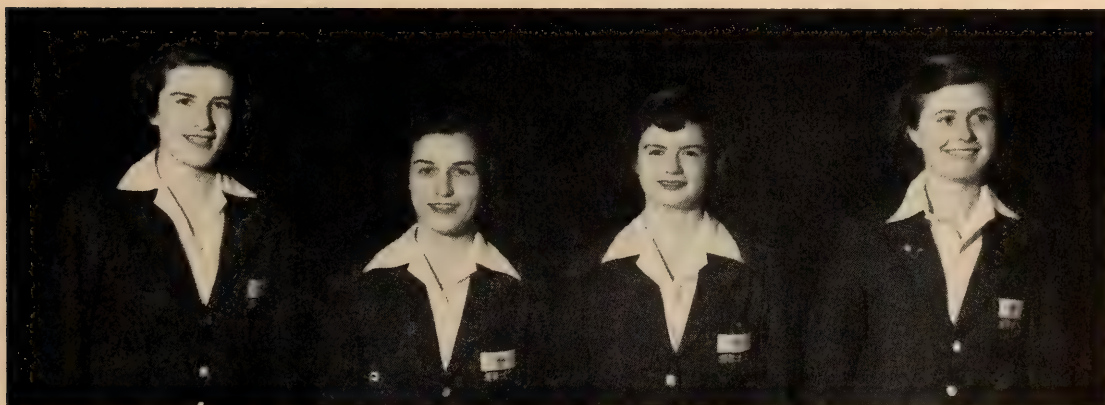

FRONT ROW: Jackie MacDonald, Zaira Murray, Pamela Perrin, Manager; Diana Jacob, Captain and President, Louise Willard.

INTERCOLLEGIATE TENNIS TEAM

Joan Mulveney, Sheila West, Barbara Allmond, Beverley Downey.

In the second term things took a turn for the better. The "Bronze Baby" was again won by Toronto at the basketball tournament in London, and the "Intercollegiate championship" was also won by the Blues when, for the first time, McMaster was permitted to challenge the Bronze Baby winners for this title. Congratulations are in order to Miss Mary Barnett who for the third time, has coached an inexperienced team to the title. An Intermediate team was formed this year for the first time since the war. This is mainly to act as a "feeder" for the seniors but the team managed to have a lot of fun and won three of its four games.

INTERCOLLEGIATE BADMINTON TEAM, INTERCOLLEGIATE CHAMPIONS

INTERCOLLEGIATE VOLLEYBALL TEAM

SECOND ROW: Ann Harland, Clara Joy Hughes, Barbara Watts, Ira Karikla.

ABSENT: Tove Jensen, Joan Crearie, Aileen MacRae, Pal Parkinson, Nina Lancaster, Manager; Thelma Henderson, Coach.

Toronto also won by a considerable margin both games of the home and home hockey series with Queen's. The volleyball title was taken by McMaster followed by Toronto, Western and O.A.C. in a round robin meet held at Toronto in March. The badminton tournament was also held in Toronto, at the Carlton Club, and the four Blue and White players repaid McGill for the swimming defeat by winning by a single point with Marion Greey gaining the singles championship and Mary Matthews and Ruth Nethercott the doubles.

INTERCOLLEGIATE ARCHERY TEAM

SECOND ROW: Jane Reddick, Wanda Glodek.

SECOND ROW: Muriel Chinn, Volleyball; Ann Brown, Baseball; Ross Creelman, Badminton; Violet Koson, Basketball; Sylvia Chernoff, Bowling; Carol Hopton, Golf.

University College Women's Athletic Association

ALTHOUGH university life is very busy, University College girls realize the importance of athletics in it. Sports offered great enjoyment and satisfaction in the playing of the game, in meeting girls of our own and other colleges and in realizing the importance of the individual player to the team and college.

U.C., we must admit, was not "the college of the year" as far as the winning of interfaculty trophies was concerned, but it did successfully fulfill its aim of providing every girl with the opportunity to play the sports which interested her. As well as providing worthy opposition in all interfaculty sports, U.C. made a notable contribution to intercollegiate teams. Swimming, tennis, and badminton teams all had U.C. members and an outstanding contribution was made in basketball as we had five on the senior team and four on the intermediate team.

The Alumnae Rose Bowl Tournament, the basketball competition in our college, was won this year by the sophomore team, which was unbeaten in interfaculty competition until the final playoff game.

This year, the U.C.-P.H.E. Athletic Banquet was held for the first time in West Hall of University College. The banquet, held for all participants in any field of athletics, has always been an important occasion and we were glad to see it return to the campus this year.

We were very proud of the contribution made by the freshies this year. It was a good indication that there will always be many who will be ready and willing to "play the game" for the red and white colours of the Royal College.

Victoria College Women's Athletic Union

1950-1 has been a very exciting year for the V.C.W.A.U. Ample proof of this was given at the Women's Athletic Banquet at which over one hundred enthusiastic participants were present and many college and university awards were made. We had a wonderful guest speaker in Dr. Marion Hilliard, and everyone enjoyed the evening, so our annual banquet—this was only the second—seems here to stay.

For the first time in years, Vic. won the intramural swimming meet, with an enormous lead over P.H.E. Peggy Quiggin won the Ishbel Robertson trophy for the highest individual points at the interfaculty meet. Three Vic. girls were on the intercollegiate swimming team.

Although no other Vic. teams won championships, they provided keen competition for the other faculties. For the first time Vic. had two Hockey teams in the semi-finals, but none in the finals. Both softball teams made the quarter-finals, and both volleyball teams and the senior basketball team did well in their leagues. Tennis and badminton tournaments were very successful, and Vic. showed well in interfaculty tournaments.

Vic was represented on intercollegiate teams by a complete line in hockey, three girls in volleyball, and one each in basketball, tennis and badminton.

That it has been a very fine year for Women's sports at Vic. is largely due to the efforts of the executive led by Tove Jensen, but would have been impossible without the keen participation of the athletes. May we have many more such years . . .

St. Hilda's College Athletic Society

ONCE again at St. Hilda's, the athletics were chiefly characterized by a great deal of enthusiasm and participation.

Our tennis team, consisting of Barbara Allmond, Joyce Atkinson, Joan Sterling, and Daphne Cross, did fairly well in the University Tennis Tournament. Barbara Allmond gained her position on the Intercollegiate team by reaching the semi-finals, and with her partner, Bev Downey, won the Intercollegiate Doubles championship.

As usual, our three baseball teams were enthusiastically supported both by the girls and by the Men of College. Our third team reached the play-offs in their league. This year, both the Staff and the Theologs beat the first team. A very enjoyable tea at St. Hilda's, for all those who had played on any of the baseball teams, followed the staff game.

Although the Senior Basketball team did not do very well, the Junior, Sophomore and Freshie teams all finished second in their respective leagues.

St. Hilda's showed very well in swimming this year. Our Splash Party was well attended, and was a great success. Charlotte Chisholm won the diving in the intramural meet. Our synchronised Swimming Team came second in the intramural meet and then went on to win the Intercollegiate championship. Phyllis Manning, Louise Willard, and Di Jacob, all made the Intercollegiate Swimming Team.

There has been a wonderful turnout for both hockey and volleyball. Up to now our first team has won all its games, and the goalie, Marg Martin, has had a shutout in each game. The second team has done nearly as well.

Engineering Graduation Ball

WHITE tie and tails—yes, that was the order of the day at the 5T1 Grad Ball.

On Friday, March 9, 1951, on the Convention floor of the Royal York Hotel, a cocktail hour was held from 6.00 p.m. until 7.45 p.m. followed by a full course banquet from juice and chicken to cake and wine.

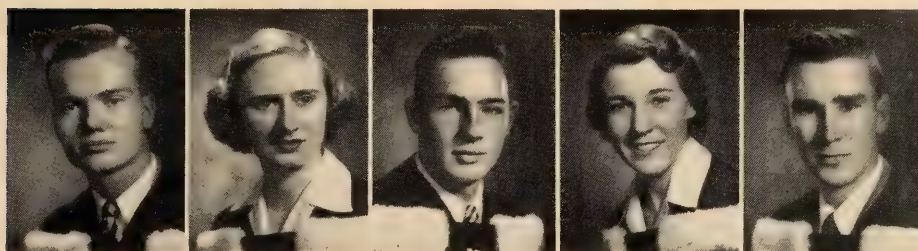

During the meal, we were entertained by two string trios and after dinner, as we sat and relaxed, Professor Marcus Long and Mr. Perry gave forth with fatherly advice to the new engineers.

During the dinner, five models of the type to make the husband's eyes wander, distributed free cigarettes and favours to the ladies. Each man received an engraved beer stein for his collection.

Following the dinner was the dance, in two ballrooms, to the music of Mart Kenney and Ellis McLintock. If tired, we relaxed in the cabaret where there was continuous entertainment.

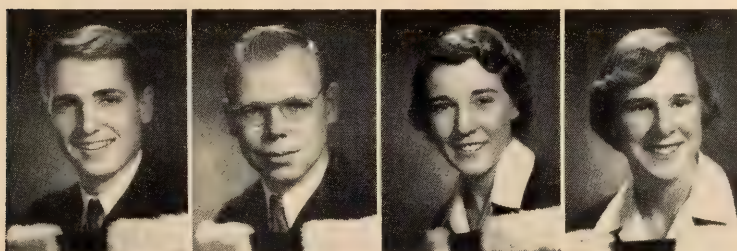

All this was due to the efforts of the gentlemen you see above, each of whom directed an individual department.

University College Permanent Executive

COLLEGE days are almost over for most of the class of 5T1, but it will be a long time before the host of memories that we have accumulated over the past three or four years leave us. Many friendships have been formed that we will carry with us long after the excitement of graduation has grown dim.

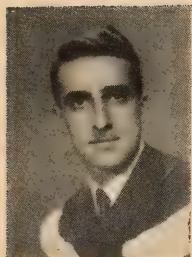

During our undergraduate days University College has become something rather special for us, her members. U.C. has been responsible for many of the highlights of our college careers: the Freshman Week-ends, the Soph-Frosh banquet, the Follies, the Arts Ball, and the Grad Banquet to mention only a few of the host of activities. In turn we have had our sad moments as with regret we heard of the recent passing of the late Principal Taylor, our father during our college careers, as he once termed himself.

For most of us the future is extending an invitation which demands acceptance; however the spirit of this acceptance is hard for us to determine. We are filled with optimism, yet this is tempered by somewhat dire warnings from our predecessors. Perhaps Longfellow thought of the dilemma that graduation presents to a student when he wrote the following lines:

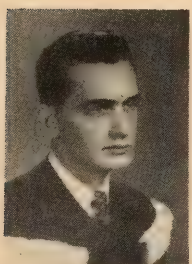

"Let us then be up and doing
With a heart for any fate;
Still achieving, still pursuing,
Learn to labour and to wait."

This is a poet's expression of what university has meant to most of us. Let us extend it into our lives as "loyal, faithful, frank and strong" graduates of University College and of the University of Toronto.

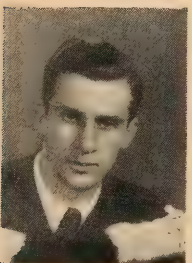

Engineering Graduate Executive

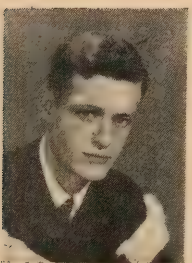

N. Monsour
President

J. Mulvenna
1st Vice-President

R. E. Boston
2nd Vice-President

J. C. Morris
Secretary-Treasurer

ON behalf of the members of the executive, I wish to thank the class of 5T1 engineers for electing us as their permanent representatives.

Indeed, our task could be simple, but useless, if we remained silent and inactive. But certainly the executive does not want a simple task. This year of 1951 is our year, climaxing the long hard grind of study. Therefore, it shall ever remain in our memories. Thus with full support of the 5T1 engineers, the executive shall keep the symbol 5T1 synonymous with activity and progress.

To outline a few of the policies:

Firstly, a master copy of the names, addresses and employers of all the graduating class will be compiled and kept up to date with the co-operation of the graduates.

Secondly, funds for the treasury will be obtained by asking for a small initial contribution from each engineer after he has begun to receive pay cheques.

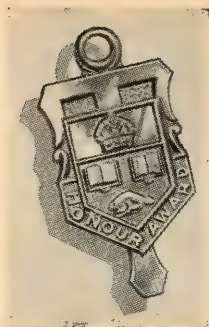

Thirdly, social functions will be arranged to renew old friendships, to discuss our experiences, and perhaps to count each others' children.

No definite promises can be made of course, because of the uncertainties of life, but we are determined to do our best.

I, personally would like to ask any of our fellow-graduates not to hesitate to require our assistance. If we can serve you, then let us do so. Remember during rugby seasons, homecoming week-ends and alumni functions, the executive is your means of contact.

The executive would like to extend its wishes for your success in the future. Keep up the standards of the engineering profession, and with your co-operation, we will emblazon the spirit of the University of Toronto 5T1 engineers on the future.

N. MONSOUR.

WILLIAM ROBERT TAYLOR, M.A., PH.D., D.D., F.R.S.C.
Principal of University College

The labours of William Robert Taylor, scholar, teacher, preacher and administrator, have been wrought into the fabric of his church, his College and University. There was in his career a singular cohesion, a wholeness. His home, his church, his College and his University did not divide his loyalties. His services to those institutions were unified by his common allegiance to common ideals. In his philosophy, the intellectual, the moral and the spiritual were inseparable. To cultivate the mind for him was to seek truth, and therefore to live more abundantly by the spirit. He thus delineated and illuminated the essential aims of education. In striving for those goals he became in high degree their living embodiment.

From Dr. Sidney Smith's tribute to the late Dr. W. R. Taylor

St. George's United Church, Toronto

26th February, 1951

Principal Taylor's Message to the Graduating Class of University College

AS my colleagues and I say farewell to the graduating class of University College we join with our salutation the hope that you will come back to us often in memory and spirit, if not in person. The processes of your formal education are now formally brought to an end and it can be assumed that your intellectual curiosity has been aroused, your judgments have become sounder, your tastes more refined, and a measure of confidence in your ability to deal with the problems of life and of society has emerged. And before you take the next step in your journey of life, you may be moved to pause and reflect on the decisions of earlier years which have brought you to this stage of your career. In a calm retrospect, it must be clear that you were not prompted to enrol in an Arts course by an ambition to acquire a large share of material riches, or even opulence. If the mainspring of your aspiration had been such a goal, you would have betaken yourself to one of the professional faculties or the tradeschools or a vocational institute. Besides, you were not unaware that it is possible to become a manufacturer, a merchant, a banker, an inventor, an editor, a movie star or a statesman without having seen the inside of an institution of higher learning, or even of a book. From students to professors no one in an Arts faculty can hope, in the ordinary course of things, to command a fortune, unless he inherits it, is lucky in the Irish sweepstakes, or discovers an oil-well in his backyard. But you made your decision to come to College knowing well that while the world may claim to need you, it is not disposed to discharge its debt very handsomely. It is proper to ask then, what other motive or motives moved you to come to College? What is your target? What are you aiming at in, or through, your prospective occupation with its average or middle bracket salary? There must be some pattern of meaning into which your life is being fitted, otherwise you will not have lived very long after leaving College before you suffer a sense of frustration and disillusionment, and perhaps even of failure.

On one occasion President Harper of the University of Chicago addressed his students with some words that have pertinence for students of all universities: "An educated man is a man who by the time he is twenty-five years old has a clear theory, formed in the light of human experience down the ages, of what constitutes a satisfying life, a significant life, and who by the age of thirty has a moral philosophy consonant with racial experience. If a man reaches these ages without having arrived at such a theory, such a philosophy, then no matter how many facts he has learned or how many processes he has mastered, that man is an ignoramus and a fool, unhappy, probably dangerous." He implies that it would be a bad thing for a graduate to wake up some day, take a look at the calendar and ask himself what are the years adding up to? Where am I getting? What is the use of it all?

It is our desire that all of the graduates of this College may have already found, or will soon find those goals which, apart from any material rewards, give worth to life and in the achievement of which they will find their richest rewards.

Victoria College

THE years you have spent in Victoria College have brought you, we trust, some knowledge, some wisdom, some friends. You will need them all as you leave us to take a precarious place in the markets of a busy and uneasy world. Yet never has there been a time when the world had greater need of college graduates trained in the Christian, democratic way of life.

Our critics say that we of the North American continent confuse a way of life with a standard of living. You must beware of falling into this error. It is right and proper that you should employ your knowledge in a vocation which will bring you economic security, but you have a responsibility to apply your wisdom to the task of making the whole world secure for all who do justly and love mercy and walk humbly with their God.

Your path through life will be easier and happier if you can keep the friendships you have made in College. Oliver Goldsmith, writing of the actor David Garrick, said:

He cast off his friends as a huntsman his pack,
For he knew when he wished he could whistle them back.

This may have been true of Garrick, who by all accounts was a man of infinite charm, but there are not many who can afford to risk it. To have a friend you must be a friend. We trust that you will work diligently at it, and shall be happy indeed if you will include among such friends some at least of your teachers in this College.

It has often been claimed that a university is out of contact with the world. The statement may contain some element of truth, but it would be more accurate to say that a university is a world in itself. It has its own political, economic, and social organization. In it a man must learn to stand on his own feet and adjust himself to his environment with no privileges asked and no favours shown. In it one has ample opportunity to practise the three cardinal principles of democracy. The passion for personal liberty has to be tempered by respect for the personalities of one's fellow-students. One learns to take part in free and frank discussion, arguing not for the sake of getting one's own way or airing one's own views, but in an honest endeavour to discover the best way and to arrive at truth. One develops that sense of social justice that holds the balance between majority rule and minority rights. If each of you, after your graduation from this College, carries out into the world at large and into the political life of our state that spirit of fair play, it will be a long step forward towards international understanding and world peace.

Our best wishes go with you. We shall watch your careers with interest and, we believe, with pride.

Victoria University 1836-1951

ON THE OLD ONTARIO STRAND

For the first fifty-six years of its history Victoria University was located in Cobourg. The Upper Canada Academy was opened in 1836 and on October 12 of the same year the Royal Charter was granted by King William IV. In 1841 the Charter was extended to include degree-conferring powers and the name was changed to Victoria College. The first degree in Arts in Ontario was conferred by Victoria College in 1845 on Oliver Springer.

A Faculty of Medicine was added in 1845; a Faculty of Law in 1860, and a Faculty of Theology in 1871. A department of Science was organized, and Faraday Hall, opened in 1877, was the first building in the province erected and devoted exclusively to scientific work.

In 1884 the name was changed to Victoria University. Egerton Ryerson was responsible for securing the Royal Charter and he was the first Principal of Victoria College in 1841. In 1850 Samuel S. Nelles took charge of the College. Under his wise and far-sighted guidance the work of Victoria grew and expanded as additional faculties were added. Yet for all his foresight, it is doubtful if Principal Nelles could have imagined the proud place Victoria holds today, boasting a registration of 1,535 students, and federated with the Empire's largest University. The process of that federation and expansion we shall now trace.

FEDERATION WITH THE UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO

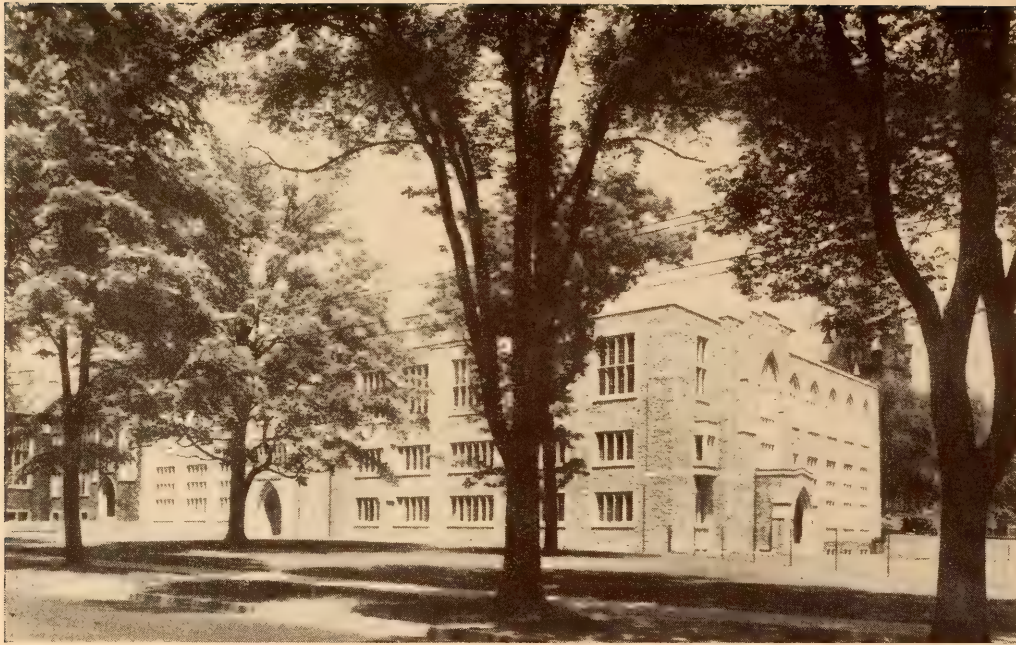

The federation of Victoria University with the University of Toronto became an established fact in 1892. Victoria was a pioneer in setting up the system of education by which the provincial university and three independent denominational universities and colleges have, in the course of time through their federation agreements, established the Faculty of Arts of the University of Toronto as it exists today.

Since 1892 Victoria University has conferred degrees in Divinity only and her power of conferring degrees in Arts, Medicine, Law and Science has remained in abeyance. From 1892 to 1928 the organization of Victoria University consisted of two faculties, Arts and Divinity. The task of putting university federation into operation and of moving from Cobourg to Toronto was accomplished by Chancellor Nathaniel Burwash, who succeeded Dr. Nelles in 1887 and held office until 1913. His name is perpetuated in Burwash Hall.

During the difficult war years, and during the period of expansion in 1920-23 when there was a large increase in the number of students and when many new buildings were added, Chancellor R. P. Bowles guided the destinies of the institution.

GROWTH AND REORGANIZATION

Residence accommodation was provided in Cobourg, but for the first eleven years in Toronto, Victoria had no residence for students. The Annesley Hall Women's Residence was opened in 1903. The Birge-Carnegie Library was completed in 1910. Burwash Hall and the Victoria College Men's Residences, the gift of Mr. Chester D. Massey, were opened in 1913.

In 1926 Victoria University received Wymilwood Women Students' Union and Residence, the gift of Mrs. E. R. Wood and Lady Flavelle. Emmanuel College and the Emmanuel College Men's Residences were first occupied in 1931. Victoria University now has residence accommodation for about 250 women students and about 260 men students.

Church union in 1925 affected both the work and the organization of Victoria University. The Victoria University Act of 1928 provided for two colleges, Victoria College in Arts and Emmanuel College in Divinity. In 1930 Dr. E. W. Wallace succeeded Chancellor Bowles.

IN WAR AND PEACE

In February, 1941, Principal Walter T. Brown of Victoria College was appointed Chancellor and President of Victoria University, succeeding Dr. Wallace who had resigned. In 1944 Dr. Brown's title was changed to President and Vice-Chancellor of Victoria University. In June, 1949, President Brown retired because of ill health.

From May, 1941, until May, 1944, a number of Houses of the Men's Residences were occupied, first by members of the R.C.A.F. taking the Radio Technicians' Course, and later by members of No. 1 and No. 2 Canadian Army University Courses.

During the session 1950-51 there are 1,431 students in attendance at Victoria College and 104 in attendance at Emmanuel College. On the Victoria University Roll of Service there are the names of 1,408 men and women, graduates, undergraduates, former students and members of the staff of Victoria College and Emmanuel College. Seventy-seven of these made the supreme sacrifice.

The Chancellor of Victoria University is Major-General A. C. Spencer of London, Ontario. In 1950 Dr. A. B. B. Moore was appointed President and Vice-Chancellor and was installed on November 15. Professor H. Bennett is Dean of Victoria College and the Rev. A. D. Matheson is Dean of Emmanuel College.

Trinity College

REV. R. S. K. SEELEY

M.A., D.D., LL.D., D.C.L.

IT gives me great pleasure to write a word of greeting to the Graduating Class of 5T1. We congratulate you on the completion of your courses and on reaching another milestone in your careers. It is a troubled and confused world that you are entering, one in which no one dares to prophesy very far ahead and one in which all plans are undertaken in the knowledge that their completion is uncertain. To some people such circumstances would be discouraging and baffling. To others, and we trust that you are among them, they present a challenge. In an age of rapidly changing circumstances and swift-moving events, it is important that there should be people who can see things in perspective, who are able to assess what are the valuable and vital elements in any situation, who can determine what are the things which must be held on to and what are the things which can be let go. The whole trend of your education during your University days has been towards enabling you to develop just these qualities. Some of you have developed powers of historical perspective, others have been trained in analysis of facts and situations. Others have studied the development of civilizations and have learnt what things are good and what are bad, what are permanent and what are transitory in each. It can hardly be that after your years of study here you have not discovered that people are more important than things, ideas are more influential than facts. As you go out into the larger community of the world, you will find that many do not know these things. They are the people who, in general, are confused and discouraged and are casting around for a purpose in life. Your contribution to the welfare of society is to join those who are striving to give purpose and meaning and value to the social order. We believe that we have given you some of the equipment for this, but its use depends upon yourselves. In the University sphere we have learnt that it is in the sharing of a common life with all its varieties of opinion and outlook, with all its interchange of ideas and ideals, that richness is to be found. We have learnt so much from those who give to the enrichment of this corporate life. Some of you have given much, but in general you have been on the receiving end. From now on, society depends on your contribution and we are confident that you have both the ability and will to make it.

We wish you good success in all your undertakings. We do not bid you farewell because you are still a part of us. We share your successes, your joys and hopes and you have a welcome always in our midst, for this is your academic home.

St. Michael's College

REV. L. J. BONDY

B.A., M.A., Ph.D., Des.L.

IN times like ours when events of fearful magnitude rush in on us with a speed that leaves us breathless, one hesitates to put his thoughts in print lest between the pen and the linotype they should already be outdated. Still, it is into that world that you graduates are stepping and it is of prime importance both for yourselves and others that you be armed with principles that will be proof against the cosmic turmoil of an age of transition. It has been the purpose of your University and your College to acquaint you with such principles in such a way that they may become not mere adornments of your mind but real possessions that will permeate your whole personality. You will find these principles fairly summed up in the motto on your College Crest: Goodness, Discipline, Knowledge.

Regardless of the subject matter of their lectures, it has always been the first purpose of your professors to make these your real treasures, abiding in you and growing in you long after the details of our instruction have faded from your memories. For the years spent in the University represent only a stage in your education which is properly defined as the making of a man. This man will be an engineer, a scientist, a doctor, a lawyer, a business man; but he must be first and foremost a man, one who fulfils the purpose for which he was created and placed in this world by an all-wise and all-provident God. It is our hope that you will be a success in whatever profession or activity in which you will find yourselves by personal choice or by force of circumstances over which you have no control. But it is our deeper hope that you will also be a success as men. When you read this message at graduation the world situation may be vastly different from that which exists as I write these lines. I have little hope that there will be a marked improvement. Heavy and even heroic sacrifices may be required of many among you. But, if we have done our work well, and if you have profited by your opportunities, I feel confident that you will be the better prepared to meet the situation for having been students at St. Michael's College in the University of Toronto.

LEO CAVIN

B.A.

DURING our college career we have all looked forward to graduation. Today we have received our degree; the goal we sought has been achieved. Now we must go forward into the world to use the education and the moral development achieved in these few years to aid the world in its quest for a system of values and to develop ourselves even further morally and intellectually. We are being graduated into a world very different from the one the last few graduating classes have been called upon to enter. Our task is a difficult one; our responsibilities greater; and we must strive to put into effect all we have learned in the shortest possible time. Our responsibilities are grave ones; we should realize they exist and be willing to face them. The wealth that St. Michael's offers us so generously is ours to be spent upon ourselves and upon the world in which we live. We thank the faculty of St. Michael's for their patience and untiring devotion. It is only on a day such as this that we realize all that St. Michael's has had to offer us.

Today we should realize that we owe a debt of gratitude to our friends, parents, and loved ones, who have made our attendance here possible by their financial aid, their devotion, their inspiration, love and loyalty. To all of them we offer our heartfelt thanks. They have given us a great opportunity here at St. Michael's; without them this day could never have existed; to them belongs its glory and a share in our success in life.

It is with regret that we take leave of the many friends we have made at St. Michael's and in the University. During the past years through joint experience, discussion, and friendship we have found the value of true brotherhood. This bond will always be with us as a guide in the future and shall always exist in the fraternity we feel for one another.

On behalf, then, of the graduating class of St. Michael's College I offer our deepest gratitude to the faculty, our parents, our friends, and all those who have contributed so generously in order that this day might be the success it is.

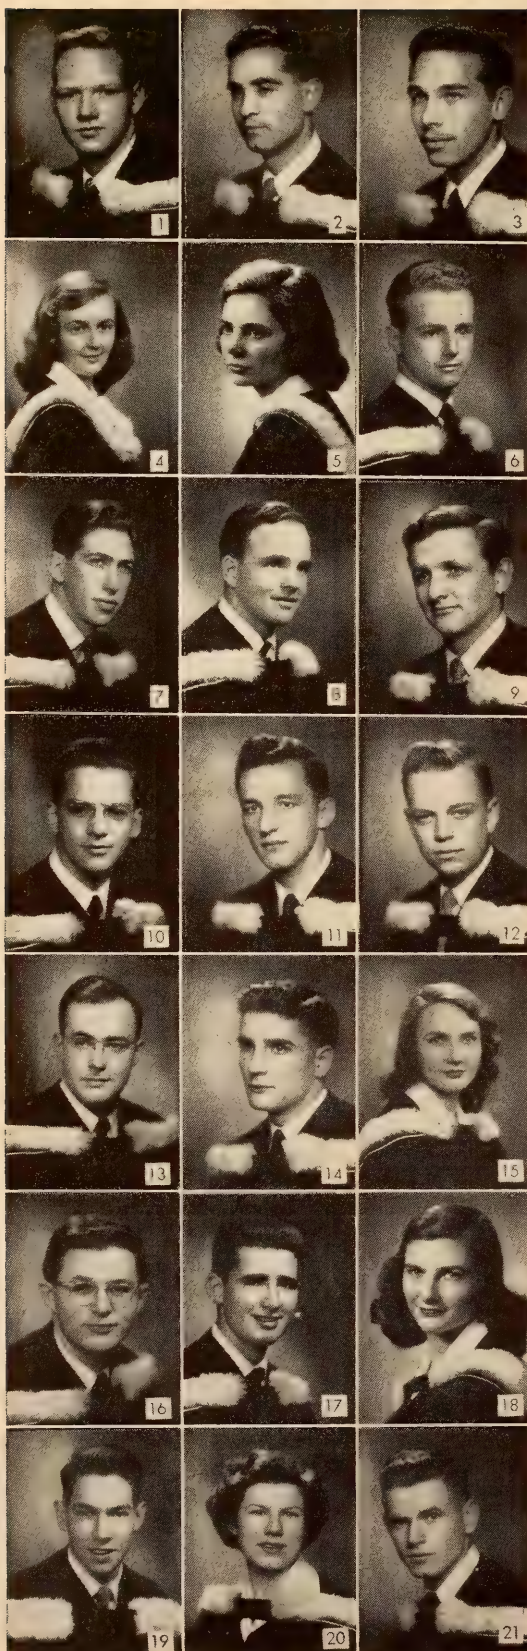

To the graduates, I offer my sincere thanks for all that you have given me. To you I extend my warmest congratulations. May you always be true to yourself and to St. Michael's and may you enjoy every success in your future undertakings. Yesterday you were students of St. Michael's College; today you are graduates of St. Michael's College, and from now and for all time a little part of you will be integrated in that spirit which is the spirit of St. Michael's. If we keep this in mind at all times, none of us will have to fear the world which we are about to enter.

Commerce and Finance

C. A. ASHLEY

B.Com., F.C.A.

“WHAT a feeling of relief it afforded, to find people in whose presences any idea, whether original or conventional, whether accepted or rejected by the world, whether condemned and derided or praised, could be discussed on its own merits, without anger.” What Sir Osbert Sitwell writes of his friends should be true of university students. This is of particular importance when so many people are prepared to surrender their individuality and follow cheerleaders in affairs vastly more important than football; when freedom is being circumscribed in the name of freedom and our cultural heritage is threatened from within.

The willing adoption of ready-made opinions is a sign of weak intelligence and poor training. We believe with confidence that you, as other students before you, are not likely to surrender your integrity in this way, but that you will examine freely and fairly any proposition put before you; and that you will also support with vigour the right of others to do the same thing. We wish you happiness and success in your endeavours.

Emmanuel College

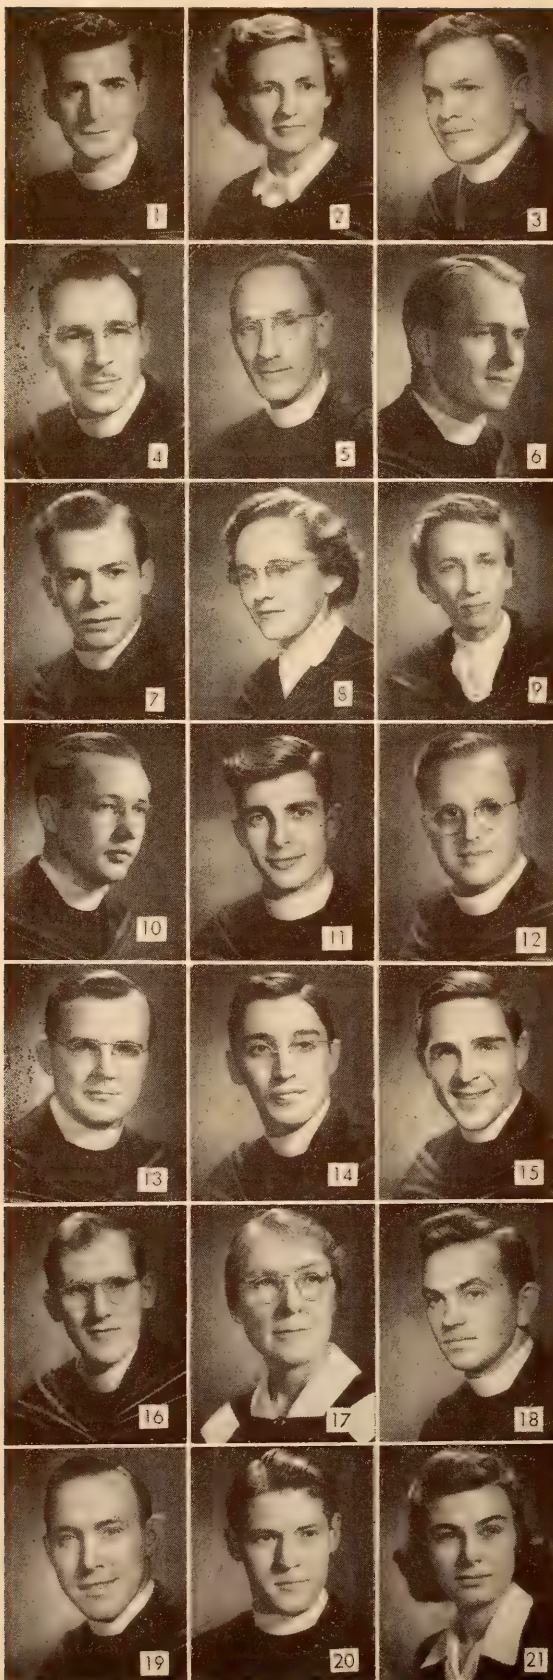

REV. A. D. MATHESON
M.A., B.D., D.D.

IT gives me pleasure to address these few words to the class of 1951 as you are about to leave our halls.

Coming from Victoria College, and a number of other institutions of learning, you have made your mark at Emmanuel: and we shall not forget you.

You are going out into a world that sorely needs the Christian Gospel. Forces of evil have been tearing apart the strands of human personality: they have set class against class and nation against nation. Man by himself cannot solve the problems of our age. It is for you to be witnesses of truth that is everlasting, of an Eternal Father who cares for His children, of a Saviour in whom we can put our trust.

So now we wish you God-speed. It is our confidence that each one of you will strive to be found faithful as you press on to meet life's challenge, and to render obedience to Him who has called you.

Knox College

REV. W. W. BRYDEN
M.A., D.D.

YOU have the distinction of being the largest class to graduate from Knox College in over thirty years. You have the further distinction that two-thirds of your number served from three to five years in His Majesty's Forces during the recent war. Having thus faced dangers and difficulties under the most trying circumstances; you ought to be singularly matured in experience and ought to have a corresponding deep sense of responsibility, all of which will be invaluable as preparation for the Christian ministry.

During your three years in this college, you have been brought under another kind of discipline which is of a two-fold nature—a cultivation of your minds and intellects in the things Christians have believed, and the constant reminder that there must be a sincere culturing of your souls in obedience to the Lord Who is the Source of these beliefs. These two things can never be separated with impunity, because, in the Providence of God they are indissolubly connected. A fruitful ministry demands that both have equal importance in the exercise of your peculiar responsibility. Neither may be ignored; nor may we emphasize one at the expense of the other.

The Church to which you belong places special emphasis upon two things: (1) A most serious and exacting understanding of Scripture, as God's very Word and as making manifest Jesus Christ, the Lord of Scripture; furthermore, as providing therefore the norm for all true life. (2) An emphasis on the Holy Spirit Who alone can interpret the things of Christ to us and seal them in our hearts. Consequently, you will be diligent, painstaking students throughout your ministry, but it will also be necessary that you be at all times men of prayer. Never forget that as you enter the ministry, you cannot be content to be mere transmitters of what you have learned about Christ in the college. You must be instruments in God's hands to make Christ a living reality in men's souls. That is why prayer becomes a necessity and let me remind you, praying is not just 'saying prayers'. There is an old Latin saying that to pray is to labour, i.e. to travail. There are times when the Church's most potent instrument is its supplication before God. Surely this is such a time.

Wycliffe College

REV. R. ARMITAGE

M.C., B.A., M.A., D.D.

AT your graduation from Wycliffe you set your feet upon a new stretch of the road. Your life's ministry in all its fulness lies ahead.

It is not possible to gauge the import of this new beginning for in a true beginning is contained all the hope and promise of the unknown and unlimited future.

This was made vivid to me one summer's day in Northumbria when I tramped the English roads in the Tyne Valley, not far from the hamlet of Fourstones.

Circling a hill crowned with an Iron Age fort and across which Agricola, sometime governor of Roman Britain, had built a road, I made my way over a farmer's field and through a wood to a spot not marked on Ordnance map but of greater meaning than many a name and geographical symbol where stood a cairn set on shelving rock, the highest point commanding far reaching country.

It might have been a bit of Canada with its mountain ash and poplar, pine and bracken, yet in wide circle around was profusion of Scottish heather richly purple.

This was the writing:

"This cairn marks the site of the first Boy Scout Camp held in 1908 by B. P. later Lord Baden Powell of Gilwell, Chief Scout of the World."

Here was a small beginning of a movement which circled the globe enriching the lives of a multitude of boys and girls and young people beyond counting.

So it all depends on what lies within the beginning. Holy Scripture makes that plain and gives here, as in every instance, the adequate answer.

"In the beginning God"

You go out to serve him and to proclaim his kingdom and the gospel of his salvation which is his gift in and through his Son our Lord.

With your feet set at this beginning of the journey and the adventure of faith your friends and comrades of the Teaching Staff of Wycliffe wish you heartily Godspeed.

Applied Science and Engineering

K. F. TUPPER

O.B.E., B.A.Sc., S.M.

NINETEEN FIFTY-ONE, the first year of the last half of the twentieth century, twelve years since the discovery of nuclear fission and only a little more than fifty years since the invention of the automobile; what a time to embark on an engineering career! Seldom has the demand for people with advanced training been so great, and seldom has the choice of job opportunities been so wide.

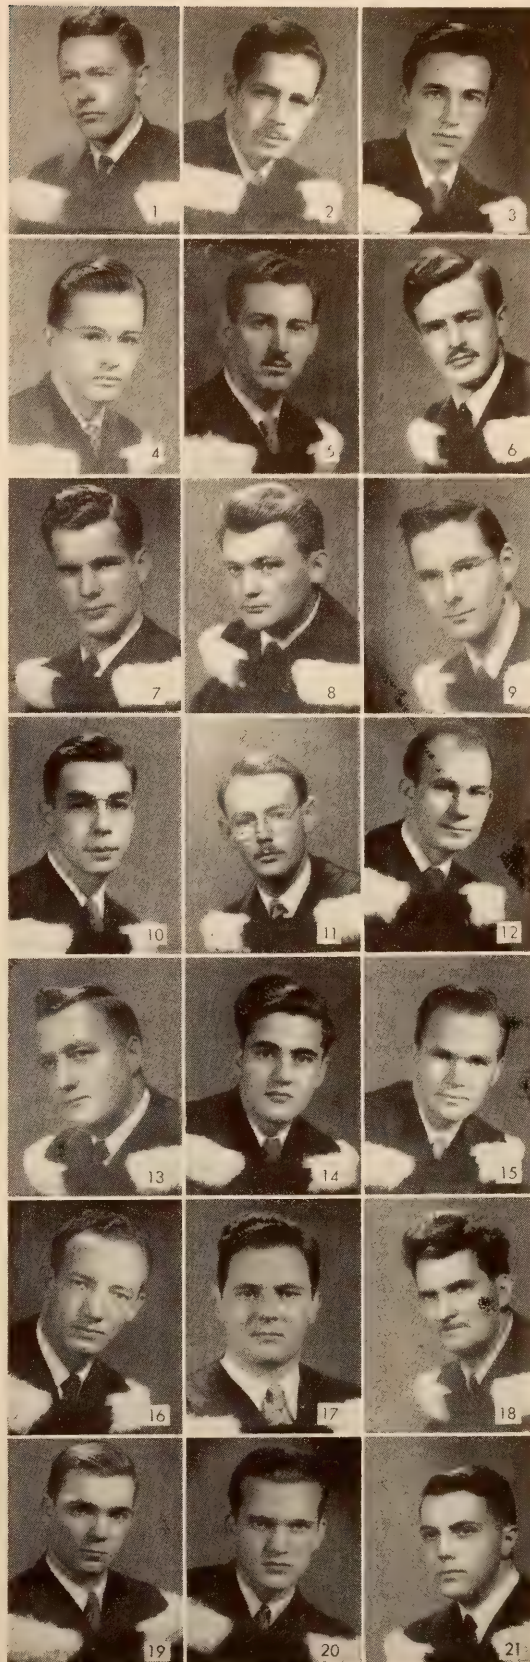

I cannot refrain from including in this message a little sermon. I want to point out the difference between price and value. Today the price of the young engineers' services is high, and the high price is caused by the relation between supply and demand. The demand is large, the supply is limited. I want to state plainly that to begin with a young engineer's services will not have a value as great as their price. This fact will be very apparent to the employer, but it will seldom be perceived by the engineer even when it is pointed out to him as I am now doing. The result will frequently be that the young engineer may feel that he is doing a good deal more than he is being paid for, whereas his employer may feel that he is paying for a good deal more than is being done. These two divergent views of the same situation can lead to trouble.

One should never be critical without being constructive. I offer you each this thought. Suppose you work on the assumption that your employer recognizes a bargain and will always try to get one. Therefore always try to deliver services as much as possible in excess of what you think is expected of you. If you succeed in making yourself valuable—and if you try this faithfully how can you fail—your employer will not care to risk losing your services. He will try—in his own interest—to make your working conditions attractive; more than likely he will recognize your value with an increase in pay. It is then your task to deliver performance well in excess of your new market price. I am sure this procedure will avoid the danger mentioned above.

We start this half century under clouds of fear and tension. I exhort you to face world problems—problems which are not technological in nature, and for which technology offers no solution. It is not sufficient that the engineer retire to the quiet of the drafting room or lose himself in the bustle of the shop. Engineers are citizens and in our democratic form of government, we the citizens bear the ultimate responsibility for our own fate. Each of us must play our part in seeking a solution to these problems. If our city were on fire or were flooded, engineers would rush to meet the peril and many would provide leadership. Do you not think that today's troubled world contains dangers as great as fire and flood? Are we going to turn our backs and leave these great tasks to others?

Faculty of Dentistry

R. G. ELLIS

D.D.S., M.Sc. (Dent.), F.D.S., R.C.S

IF now with the initial phase of your professional education complete, you would search for the secret of life, I could do no better than to persuade you to examine the life and writings of that great Canadian physician, Sir William Osler. Many students and young graduates, about to commence their professional careers have been influenced by his example. On one notable occasion, in the heart of this University, your Alma Mater, William Osler addressed these words to the students assembled: "It seems a bounden duty on such an occasion to be honest and frank, so I propose to tell you the secret of life as I have seen the game played, and as I have tried to play it myself. You remember in one of the Jungle Stories that Mowgli wished to be avenged on the villagers. He could only get the help of Hathi and his sons by sending them the master-word. This I propose to give you in the hope, yes, in the full assurance, that some of you at least will lay hold upon it to your profit. Though a little one, the master-word looms large in meaning. It is the open sesame to every portal, the great equalizer in the world, the true philosopher's stone, which transmutes all the base metal of humanity into gold. The stupid man among you it will make bright, the bright man brilliant, and the brilliant student steady. With the magic word in your heart all things are possible, and without it all study is vanity and vexation . . . Not a man before you but is beholden to it for his position here, while he who addresses you has that honour directly in consequence of having had it graven on his heart when he was as you are to-day.

"And the master-word is WORK, a little one, as I have said, but fraught with momentous sequences if you can but write it on the tablets of your hearts and find it upon your foreheads."

In extending greetings and felicitations to the members of the graduating classes in Dentistry, we hope that you find a "A Way of Life" that will be complete.

School of Nursing

MISS E. K. RUSSELL

B.A., B.Paed., D.C.L.

TO THE CLASS OF 1951:

I have a special message for the class of 1951 for we have been working toward this graduation day of yours—though at first unconsciously—ever since this school took its present form in 1933. After slow approach through a Diploma course, the first Degree work—four years in length—was started in 1942. In 1946 this was developed into the present five-year arrangement, and you, the members of the class of 1951, enrolled in September of that year. Thus you become the first group to graduate from this rather long course of studies. Of the original twenty who registered, you have lost only two members, a very good sign of the steadfast character you have shown individually and collectively throughout these five years. You have shared your joys and sorrows very closely, and from early days, have stood together to uphold the school with buoyant faith even when the pathway has been really rough: you leave your school the stronger because of this attitude. We hope, as time passes, that you will be conscious of having obtained here a valuable preparation for living, and one upon which you can continue to build wisely and with growing satisfaction as you face the demands of your professional work. The warmest of good wishes from all in the school go with you.

Faculty of Music

SIR ERNEST MacMILLAN

B.A., D.Mus., LL.D., Mus.Doc., D.Litt.
F.R.C.M., F.R.C.O.

IT is always a pleasure to extend congratulations to those students who have, through their talents and industry, achieved the goal represented by a University degree. Your Professors and I do so most heartily and hope you will look back, as we shall, on your years with us as a happy and profitable experience. We shall miss you but shall follow your various careers with interest and trust there will be many occasions when you can visit your Alma Mater. There you may be assured of a warm welcome.

No course that can be devised will of itself make you musicians: this depends primarily on your own natural abilities and efforts. But we hope we have in some measure shown the way and made you aware of the vastness of the field covered by your chosen art. We hope we have given you something of value that you can pass on to others, so that they in turn may share the joy and civilizing influence of contact with the minds of great composers. Bach, Beethoven, Mozart and the rest—they at least will never fail you if in years to come you continue to cultivate their friendship. And with that inspiration you will doubtless make your own contribution, be it great or small.

All success to you in the years to come!

School of Law

C. A. WRIGHT

K.C., B.A., S.J.D., LL.D.

THE small group graduating this year from the reorganized School of Law will long merit the sympathy, gratitude and pride of the Faculty and of those who, in ever-increasing numbers, will follow you. This graduating group may well be termed the "Transition Class" which has suffered all the trials and tribulations that accompany any transition. Most of you entered the University as students in the Faculty of Arts taking the Honour Law Course. In midstream, so to speak, that course was discontinued for the future, and you were offered the opportunity of transferring to the second year of the new LL. B. course. Your confidence in the future of the new programme was shown when you accepted that option despite the obscurity and uncertainty which then shrouded, and still surrounds, your own future concerning recognition of your labours here for admittance to the practice of law. For that confidence the Faculty is proud of you and I feel sure that succeeding generations of students in the School of Law will echo that pride.

Further, you were faced not only with a new programme of studies but, much more serious and disturbing, a changed and enlarged teaching staff with men and methods unknown. To add to your troubles, your trusted and beloved Dean Kennedy retired at the end of your second year in Arts and it was your fate to have the last half of your course come under "new management". That you have survived all these difficulties, to say nothing of the confusion of overlapping timetables and courses in the "new" and "old" course; that you have served as "guinea pigs" in the developing of new techniques and new clinical work in law, is a tribute to your patience. Your co-operation and support has made possible the future success of the School. In the years to come your ordeal as pioneers may, indeed, be forgotten by students who will follow you, but you will always have the satisfaction of knowing that you helped well and truly to lay the foundation for a great University School of Law.

As you leave the School we can only hope that you do so with a sincere desire to assist in the solution of the many pressing problems of human and social relations—the lawyer's true role. You should know by now that there are no easy or ready-made answers. Society is entitled to demand of you your best effort, however, in facing those problems and assisting in the search for solutions so that man may live at peace with man—and with himself. As you assume that task, to which your work here calls you, we of the School of Law would have you know that with you at all times goes our encouragement, our support, and our best wishes.

Ontario College of Pharmacy

R. O. HURST

Phm.B.

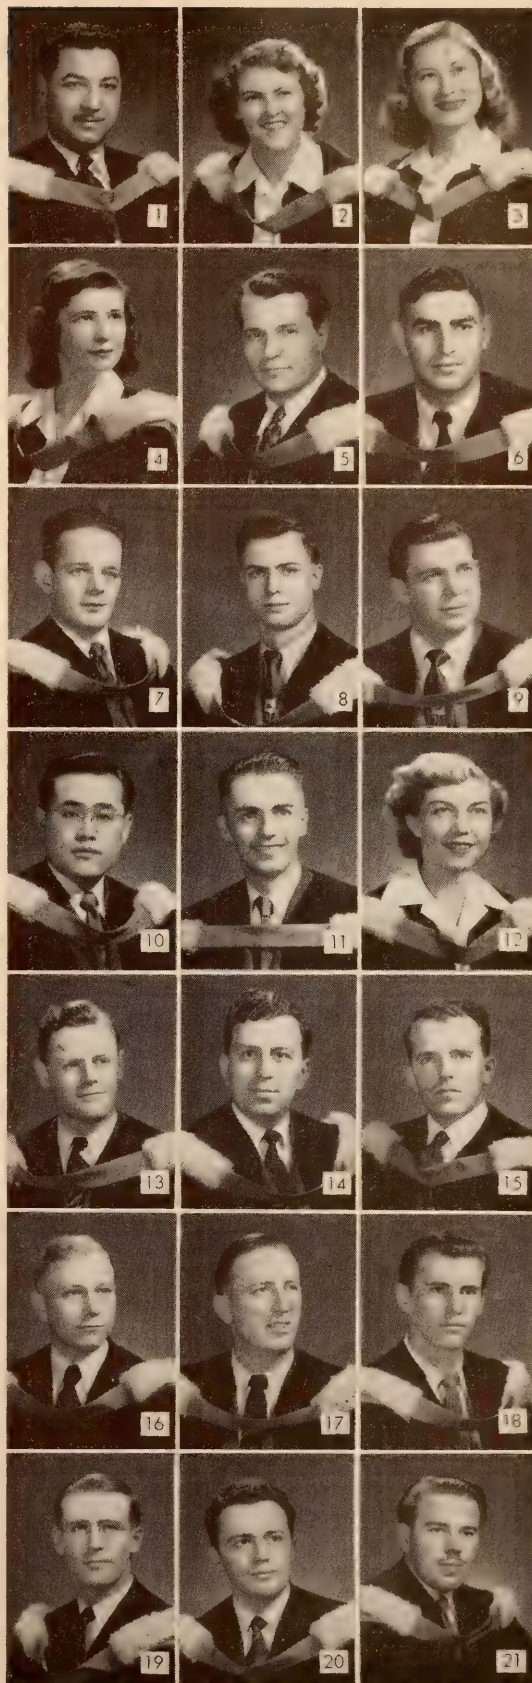

THESE few words are being written toward the close of the year 1950, and at a time when the dawn of any one day may bring us news of events of the most disturbing kind. In many cases the bad news is born of actions of peoples or ruling authorities based on a breach of promise, a lack of good-will, or a total disregard of ethical conduct. The first half of this century has been characterized by cataclysmic upheavals caused very largely by a mass of dishonest actions.

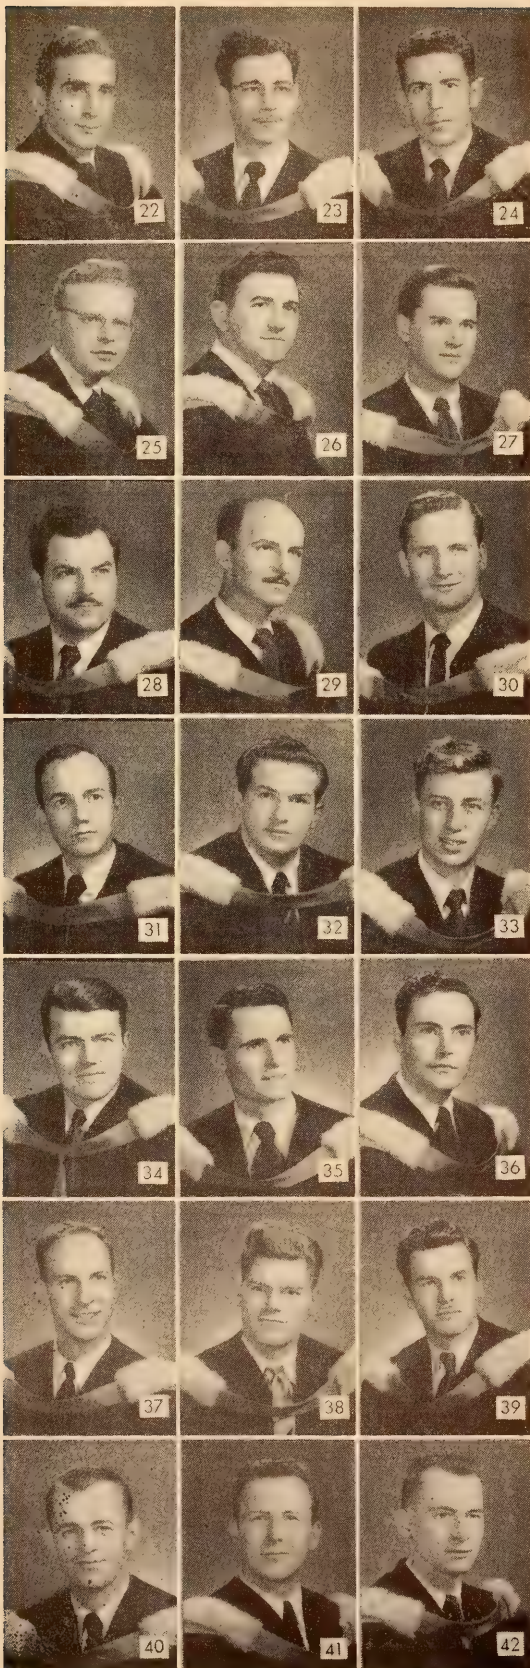

As it is in the larger associations of man, so it might be in the small individual circles. Each of us is bound by a code of conduct toward our fellow man. Sometimes a code of conduct is defined by the law of the land, but very often it is established by tradition only. Each profession has a code of ethics. The code of ethics of medicine is based on the code of Hippocrates established before our Christian period. Pharmacy has a code of ethics, a code of modern phraseology and embodying all the precepts which should contain its adherents. What we need more than anything else is a sincere desire to uphold an accepted mode of conduct in our profession. One voluntary act of mischief on the part of one member of our profession will do more to efface the ethical conduct of all the other members than is realized.

Let me, therefore, set forth a plea for a strict adherence to a right conduct. Let us all resolve to inject a consciousness into the daily performance of our duties. The practice of pharmacy is quite unlike that of any other profession. Much of our professional service is interlocked with the buying and selling of medicines and associated items. In no other field of buying and selling (excepting that of food) is the question of quality of such supreme importance. Our very privilege is bound up with many laws which impose restrictions, the disregard of which may affect the lives of a whole community. Our manifold relationship with the physician, the dentist, the public, and our confreres are such that anything short of the strictest honesty will breed suspicion, and suspicion can bring about a downfall.

In an editorial written by one of our own graduates, who in a fine article on ethical conduct, says "a reputation for professional integrity is a valuable asset and its cultivation is well worth a lifetime of effort." In this, my message to you, I try to bring the full force of this appeal to you as you leave our halls and go out into the world of realism.

Faculty of Forestry

J. W. B. SISAM

B.Sc.F., M.F.

FROM time to time during the past few years concern has been expressed at the large number of men entering the profession of forestry, and it has been suggested that many graduates would have to find employment elsewhere. Up to the present events have not justified such a pessimistic view. Including the class of 1951, some 296 have graduated in forestry from the University of Toronto during the past five years compared with 316 for the previous forty years since the School was established. Much the same situation is true for other Canadian schools. Yet nearly all these recent graduates are engaged, one way or another, in the work of their profession. This happy situation provides additional evidence of the fact that forestry has been making considerable progress in this country in recent years.

It is true, I believe, to say that forestry has never before been in as strong a position in this country as it is at present—there is a wide and increasing interest in forestry matters among the general public; executives of the forest industries, ultimately responsible for operating policies, are realizing that the future of those industries will be determined largely by their forestry policies; more factual information regarding our forest resources is constantly becoming available through inventory surveys and other means; the number of technically trained foresters is increasing to a point where lack of manpower can no longer be considered a limiting factor.

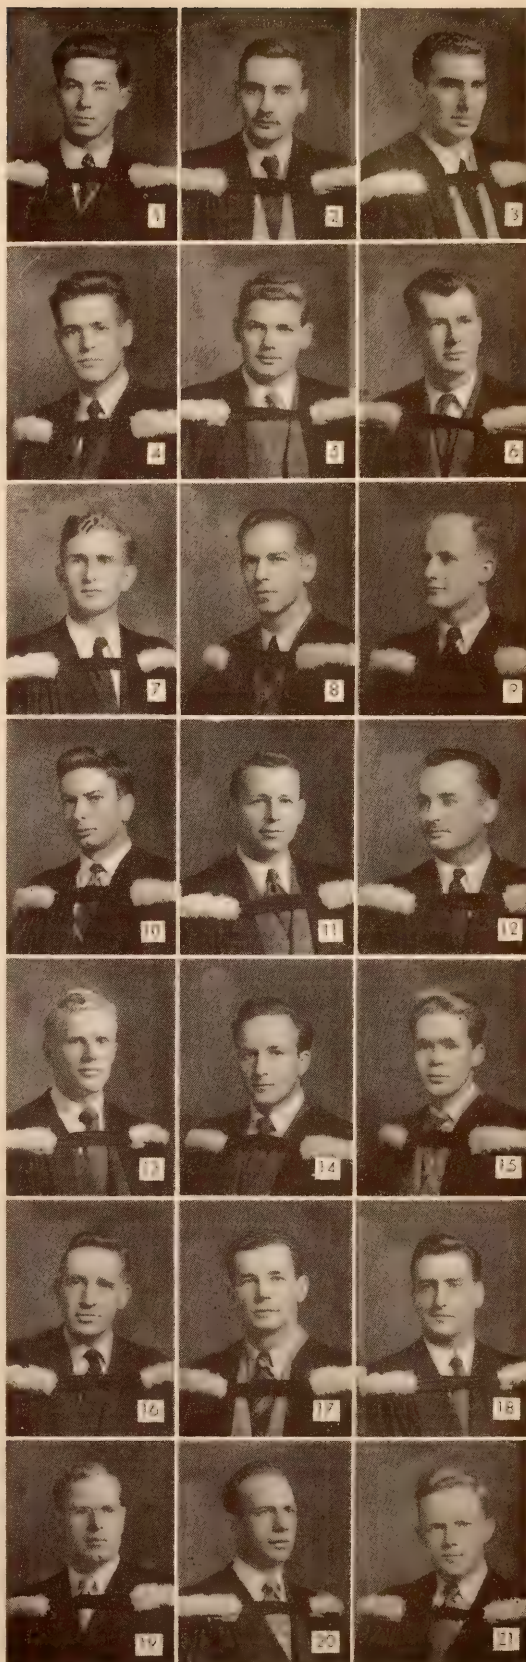

These and other points are encouraging, but should not lead us to believe that forestry in this country will now develop satisfactorily on its own momentum.

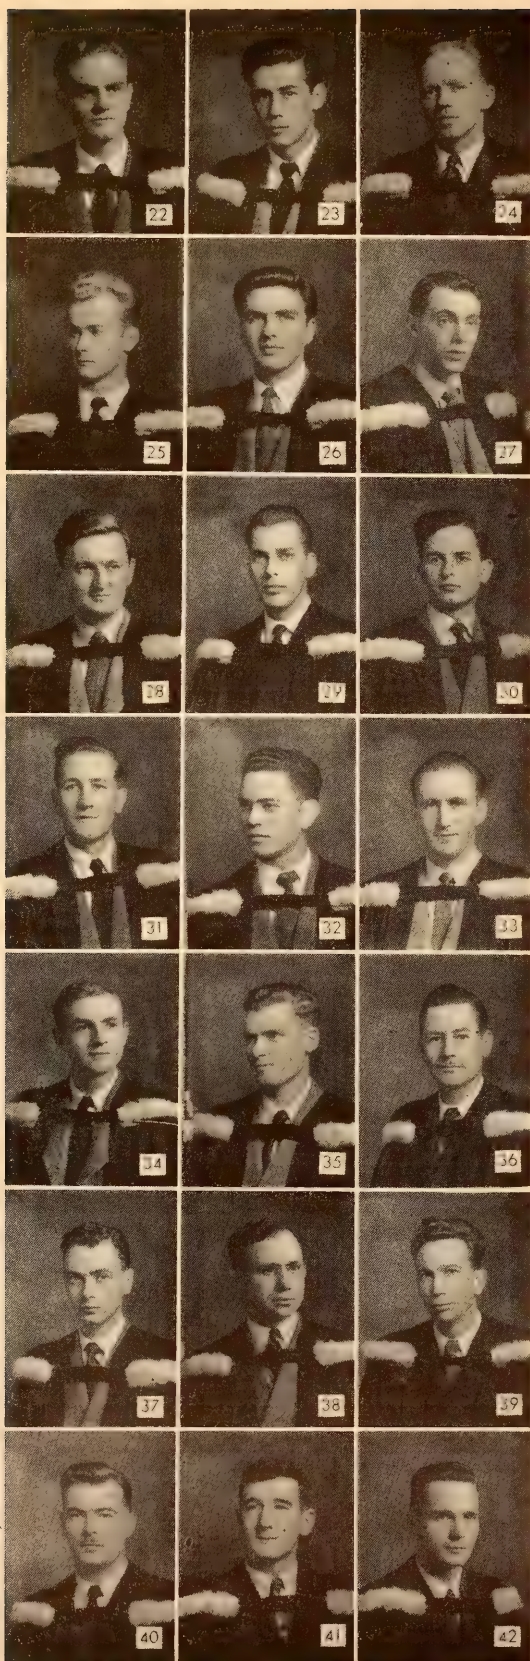

On the contrary, we are only at the beginning in trying to solve many of the problems, economic and biological, affecting our forest management, and the increasing concern with forestry matters of the general public and others more directly concerned will soon focus attention on some of these difficulties and the efforts that are being made to solve them.

The success of these efforts and indeed the future of forestry generally in this country will be determined in no small measure by the strength of the profession, and that in turn will be dependent not only on the initiative and ability of individuals, but on the close co-operation of those individuals and the development as it were of a professional consciousness.

Whatever the opportunities and responsibilities that may come your way, you may be sure that you will have the best wishes of your Faculty and your University.

School of Physical and Health Education

H. A. CATES
M.B.

TOOLS do not make a craftsman. Instruction is not education and a degree does not imply culture. I hope you have lost whatever such ideas you may have had three years ago when you came to "take a course". By now, you have completed an important part of your training, but you have scarcely begun your education and you will never complete it.

We are living in an age when civilization and culture are thought to be identical. In truth, the one threatens to destroy the other. Lethal weapons of all sorts are becoming our masters, rather than our servants and no greater duty falls on you as graduates of the University of Toronto, than to recognize the danger and to strive for the re-establishment of the dominion of the mind.

In wishing you God-speed, I urge you to support your alumni association for it exists to hold together kindred spirits and to keep warm old friendships; among your friends, I hope you will number the staff of Physical and Health Education. We shall watch your careers with interest and we hope you will revisit us often.

Faculty of Medicine

J. A. MacFARLANE

O.B.E., B.A., M.B., LL.D., F.R.C.S.

IT is fitting and opportune that I should offer, on behalf of my colleagues in the Faculty of Medicine, our sincere congratulations and best wishes on this the occasion of your leaving us as undergraduates. This message, because of the peculiar and pressing demands of the publishers, must needs be written before Christmas, almost six months before your actual graduation.

What of the future as we enter 1951? Will it be peace or war? These are the thoughts, particularly of those who have had experience of previous wars. We long for peace, and at the same time we sometimes wonder if peace, prosperity and the highest standards of living in the history of the world may not breed a generation which will gradually lose the sense, the value, the significance of sacrifice. We certainly must have convictions about the way of life which we enjoy, else we will have no courage to defend and maintain it. It is sad to think that seldom, except in war, do flourish and flower in national life the great virtues of courage, endeavour and sacrifice.

We live perilously close to war, and yet we wish for peace. Perhaps, if we can learn to be enthusiastic, diligent and courageous in the maintenance and practice of Canadian democracy, and particularly if we have earnest convictions that it is a good way of life, then there may be a chance that we will not succumb to soft and easy living and that we shall be ready to defend it when challenged with like enthusiasm and with equal courage whether in war or peace.

Physical and Occupational Therapy Division

A. ZINOVIEFF

M.R.C.S., D.Phys., Med. Eng.

THE long awaited day for which you have worked has come at last, and the Staff of this Division extend to you their sincere congratulations on your graduation.

Your academic training is over and you are now ready to begin your life as practical therapists. We hope, that even though your two courses have come under the Faculty of Medicine only in your last undergraduate year, this has helped to show you the common aim of your two therapies and how much their work is interrelated. Good rehabilitation depends on good team work, and we hope that you will always remember this very important ideal and do your share in living up to it wherever you work.

The work that you are going to do and the experience that you gain will give you a wonderful opportunity to help materially in the treatment of the sick and disabled. As you go into the field, remember that only by continued learning and inquiry can you achieve real proficiency in your work, and also that each of your patients has always to be considered as an individual human problem in which your interest and encouragement is of paramount importance.

Good luck to you all!

School of Architecture

H. H. MADILL

O.B.E., V.D., B.A.Sc., F.R.A.I.C., Hon. Cor. A.I.A.

THIS message is being written several months before it will be read by the graduates of 1951 and much may happen in that period. Most members of the class had served in the armed forces during World War II and entered the course with enthusiasm feeling they had participated in the war to end all wars. It is hoped that the international situation may be satisfactorily resolved and that you may have an opportunity to profit from your course and to enjoy your chosen profession.

A milestone in the life of the School has been reached in the formation of the Architectural Alumni Association as a component of the University of Toronto Alumni Association. There have been several occasions when the viewpoint or the support of graduates would have been of benefit to the School. So long as we were scattered and without organized leadership even in Toronto, an appeal to the graduates was possible only on an individual basis.

I can see the Alumni Association forming one very valuable function. Many graduates have commented on the very great gulf that exists between the intellectual atmosphere of the School and the hurly burly of practice. Life in an office allows little time for discussion. The affairs of the practical world and the daily routine of drafting leave no room for those heated debates over coffee on Aesthetics or the role of the architect in our modern democratic society. The idea has often been put forward of a club holding monthly meetings where those who would wish to keep themselves abreast of modern architectural thinking could meet and express themselves in the informal way of student days. The medical profession has such clubs and membership in the best of them is considered a great honour. It would be a fine thing and an ample justification of the Alumni Association if it were to embark on a series of such discussions on a high level. While this is our own Association and many of our Meetings would be restricted to graduates, the series of meetings I suggest should include guests, both lay and professional. In such a way we would break down any suggestion of a clique within the O.A.A., and give others an opportunity to share in a discussion of issues that affect the spiritual and physical life of the Canadian people. The initiative for such a programme must come from the younger architects who have asked for it. They can be assured of the blessing and support of the staff of the School.

Members of the graduating class have been participants in the activities of the Architectural Society since its formation in 1948 when the School of Architecture became a separate faculty in the University organization. The activities of the Society have extended beyond the limits of the School and have been an influence in student affairs on the campus. The Architecture Yearbook, the Society's publication, has gone beyond the campus and copies have been sought by architects and others. Much can be accomplished through a close association between the Architectural Society and the Architectural Alumni to the benefit of both organizations and I hope that this contact will be developed over the years.

I am sure every member of the staff joins me in wishing you the fullest measure of happiness and success in your chosen profession.

School of Social Work

H. M. CASSIDY

B.A., Ph.D.

A GAIN a large group of graduates from the first year and from the second year programmes of the School is leaving to begin (or in some cases to resume) professional work. You and we on the faculty may feel that your numbers are large but you are far too few to satisfy the still growing demand for professional social workers in Ontario and in the broader constituency of the school beyond this province, so that you will find more than abundant opportunity for the practice of your profession. I hope—indeed I am sure—that you will hold high the ideals of social work and the foundations of social welfare with which we have jointly been concerned at the School. There is so much, and so much, and so much to be done in improving social conditions and in bringing social justice to Canada as to engage all of you fully for all the years of service that lie ahead.

The warm wishes of the faculty go with you as you enter upon your careers in social work. We all warmly wish you personal success and happiness, of course, but we think of you also as crusaders in the great cause of social welfare, which is so much a part of the struggle for democracy and peace at home and abroad. We hope that you will never lose your zeal for human welfare which has drawn you into social work; and that you will see, perhaps more than some of us of the older generation, the results of what good social work can bring to individuals, to groups, and to the whole community.

University Extension

W. J. DUNLOP

B.A., B.Paed., LL.D., F.C.I.

FROM University Extension there go out in June of this year probably nearly forty teachers and others who have earned the degree of Bachelor of Arts in what is known as "the hard way". They have studied in the evenings over a long period of years and nearly all of them have taken a really good standing in all, or almost all, the subjects included in their curriculum. Some of them may have supplemented their work in evening classes by attending the Summer Session as well. Most of them return to their teaching positions with higher qualifications and a good many of them are in line for promotion in their own educational sphere. In the past thirty years, 941 men and women have graduated through the Pass Course for Teachers, having studied under many of the same professors and having written exactly the same examinations as students in the Pass Course in Arts.

And then there are the graduates of the two-year Diploma Course in Institutional Management. They are prepared to take their places chiefly in assisting in the tourist industry which is one of the most important sources of revenue for the Province of Ontario. For this public service these young graduates have been thoroughly trained by experts in that field and they have had the privilege of instruction in a good many academic subjects as well.

Some men and women will attend Commencement Exercises in June to receive their certificates on successful completion of an evening course which is known as the Certificate Course in Business. These men and women have worked assiduously during three winter sessions, attending the University for two evenings each week, and now they have an education and a training which will mean a great deal to them in the world of business.

All these graduates carry with them my own best wishes for abundant success in their chosen careers. The Department of University Extension has now completed thirty-one years of service to the adult public in the Province of Ontario. In the session 1949-50, there were 10,022 adult students taking continuous courses and classes under this Department, some attending evening classes without any thought of proceeding for any certificate, degree or diploma, others taking correspondence courses which are conducted for various business organizations, and all making use of the facilities of the University of Toronto, through the University Extension, to achieve some worthwhile objective. When the figures for the present session are available, it will probably be found that an even greater number of the citizens of this Province have taken advantage of the opportunities offered them by the University which is their own property, the University of Toronto.

A BRIEF MESSAGE

GRADS OF '51

THIS is it! From this day forward, you must stand alone. You are fortunate in that you have been well-equipped to meet the challenge of the future. But please . . . a word of caution.

If you are as good as you think you are, you may prove it.

If you are better than you think you are, you will prove it.

But if you aren't as good as you think you are, the world will prove it!

So, therefore, a word of friendly advice—

Foresters Here and There

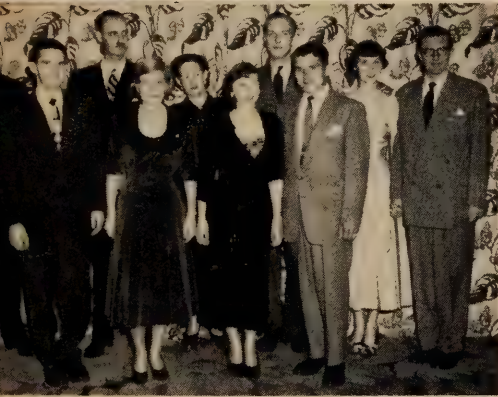

More than half the developed water power in Canada today is generated by Westinghouse equipment. This statement is interesting when you consider the fact that electricity used in Canada per capita is more than 50% than in the U.S.A. Water wheel generators up to 75,000 KVA together with all types of electrical apparatus are manufactured in our shops in Hamilton. Wherever electrical equipment is used—at home, in industry, or in the planes, tanks and ships that guard our native land you can be SURE . . . if it's Westinghouse.
